New Committees Announced By Cancer Society

The Princess Anne Unit of the American Cancer Society is happy and proud to report the formation of several new committees. Since this unit was organized in September it has grown so fast that additional groups are needed so we can carry out our work more efficiently.

Monday night February 20 at the Community House the Education Committee had a meeting at which time Chairman Mr. A. R. Mallick and Professional Advisor Dr. James Todd appointed the following ladies as additional members of this committee to assist in the plan for a cancer workshop to be held in March. Mrs. K. H. Allstock, R.N. is in charge of the Women's Clubs; Mrs. R. C. Graham all school P.T.A. programs; Mrs. R. P. Trant, Jr. programs of T.V. shows and movie theaters; Mrs. DuBois to do all creative writing; Mrs. R. Wahab, Jr. Mrs. R. N. Aycock, Mrs. P. Dolinger, general organization; Mrs. Margaret Tompkins, president of the unit is delighted with this plan. (Continued on Page Four)

In New Post

Edgar A. Culverhouse, above, has been appointed a deputy commissioner of revenue for the City of Virginia Beach. Culverhouse has been a resident of Virginia Beach for the past 10 years and has served with the Virginia Beach police department since 1952. Culverhouse begins his new duties today.

A Message From City Council

A Golden Anniversary is an auspicious occasion in a marriage, a business or a city - it gives evidence of permanency, of growth and prosperity. It is a celebratory occasion for the very reason of its achievement. As a resort city it is particularly important that we celebrate our Golden Jubilee on a scale befitting our pride of this occasion. A very impressive Golden Events Program is under way for Virginia Beach's Golden Jubilee. Local clubs are sponsoring these events but the yardstick of a successful celebration lies with each individual. The Golden Jubilee is a community affair - your pride, participation and enthusiasm as a resident is the measure of its success. Let's make it a jubilee year for ourselves and our vacationists - Join in the fun - join the Jubilee. Mayor Frank A. Dusch

Local Red Cross Starts $18,500 Fund Campaign

This year, The American Red Cross celebrates its 75th Anniversary and this month, the Princess Anne Chapter of the American Red Cross will conduct its drive to collect its quota of $18,500. This amount is based on the anticipated needs for the coming year for Princess Anne County and disaster.

"We in this area have been extremely fortunate," said Mrs. John Dennis, Chairman of the Drive, "in that the hurricanes left only minor damage. But we must remember that we would need quick help if calamity did strike and we know we can depend on Red Cross to be there. The cost of the 1955 Eastern floods alone was $16,969, 500, to help 14,760 families. If you consider the major disaster in the United States last year, it is not hard to understand why we need to make our quota this year. We must be ready for whatever happens."

Red Cross is a service organization and is best known for the relief it gives in times of a national crisis. But Red Cross does not just ease the immediate discomfort. It works with the victims to help rebuild individuals, homes and business. Few people realize that the Princess Anne chapter does the same thing day in and day out for people living right here and although these cases do not make headlines and are confidential, they are just as important.

The residents of Princess Anne County can point with pride to their support of the vitally important blood program. Local citizens give time as nurse's aids, in the canteen and motor corps, while gray ladies work at the bloodmobile and at the Portsmouth government hospital. The work of these volunteers make it possible to do many things that could not be done because the cost would be prohibitive.

The Junior Red Cross teaches our young people the satisfaction of doing for less fortunate people and the first aid courses have been well attended, while a disaster committee is already ready to go into action if needed. All of these activities are under Red Cross supervision because Congress felt that a uniform method of operation was necessary and asked Red Cross to be the co-ordinating agency. Because of this organization, immediate help is possible in national emergencies and individual service and volunteerism and their families receive a faster solution to their problems.

"Red Cross operates on a strict budget," said W. D. Baugh, Chapter Chairman, "and unless we meet our quota, we cannot do this job expected of us. A very small percentage of the $18,500 we are asking for will be sent away from here. The biggest part of it is needed to operate our own chapter and if we do not reach our goal, some of the services our people depend upon us for must be curtailed. And we know that if a major disaster hits us, Red Cross would be on the job doing far more than we could do for ourselves at that time."

Linkhorn Park P-TA To Meet

This booklet is to help defray the cost of some of the events which are being staged to make this an overall summer for vacationists.

Jury Returns Guilty Verdict In Williams Trial

Clark Ray Williams, of Norfolk, was convicted of involuntary manslaughter in Princess Anne Circuit Court Tuesday and punishment was set by the jury at five years in the penitentiary. Williams was convicted in the death of a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent last April 23.

Immediately following the jury's verdict which was reached at 8:00 p.m., Defense Attorney Ernest Merrill moved that the verdict be set aside. Judge Lewis J. Jones, of Gloucester, continued the hearing on the motion until a transcript of the testimony can be made.

Williams was the second person to be convicted of complicity in the death of Joseph A. Lehman, Jr., an FBI agent, who was beaten to death a Chinese Corner on the Virginia Beach Boulevard.

Williams' brother-in-law, Robert Julian Alcon, of Davis Corner, Princess Anne County, drew a similar five-year sentence at his trial last October.

The jury of eight men and four women reached their verdict after deliberating some forty minutes. They had heard the case for two days.

Beards

Beards are flourishing while romance pales as wives and sweethearts protest the bushman look of their swains. The bushiest bearded entry in the beard growing contest even backed out the other day and bought a shaving foam because he was "too hairy" to compete.

Over at Beard Growing Contest headquarters have been busy away to date while shaving is common to date number about 400. Meantime many monographs, sparsely bearded, goatees and real "beards" are deluging the entries and disgusting the fair sex.

July 5th is the day for the judging - by then there will be some "beards."

Representative Of Navy Nurse Corp In Norfolk Mar. 5

Lieutenant Mildred K. Teas, Nurse Corps, U. S. Navy, Nurse Corps Procurement Officer at the Navy Recruiting Station in Washington, D. C. will visit the Navy Recruiting Station in the Post Office Building, Norfolk, Virginia on Monday, March 5th, 8:00 to 12:00 A. M.

The Purpose of Miss Teas' visit is to discuss the many opportunities available to Registered, Graduate Nurses in the Navy Nurse Corps Program. During her many years of Program, Miss Teas has become most familiar with all the phases of Navy Nursing.

Registered, Graduate Nurses in this area are cordially invited to visit Miss Teas for information about the Navy Nurse Corps Program.

Cooke P-TA Meets March 5th

Supervisors Adopt Record Budget For 1956-57 Year

A record budget of $5,061,175 was adopted Monday by the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1956.

Adoption of the budget came after Executive Secretary Richard J. Webbon had outlined the general needs of the county. The increased budget is expected to be accomplished without any increase in the present tax rate, with the exception of the Blackwater District where a 10-cent increase is planned.

Webbon pointed out the unusual growth of the county in that the budget had grown from $1,090,177 in 1950 to the present figure.

Included in the budget for fiscal 1956-1957 is an all-time high of $2,253,125 for school operation. This figure is exclusive of building costs.

The present year's budget is $4,358,148 with the school operation budget of $1,777,390.

The county's general operating fund calls for a $967,040 appropriation for 1956-57 from $540,000 from local sources and $245,871 from the State and transfer from the State Local Emergency Fund of $155,000.

In the school operating fund, $355,000 will come from Federal sources and $55,000 from the State.

Other funds for school operation will come from local sources and payments from Virginia Beach for use of county school facilities.

The supervisors tentatively set aside Friday, March 16, at 10 a.m. for a hearing on drainage problems in the county.

Col. Aubrey N. Holmes, of the Soil Conservation Service, told the board that the agency will be attended by Federal officials and will bring out facts in connection with five requests.

Federal funds to carry out a master drainage plan for the county. The funds would come through a small watershed bill providing for area projects.

Holmes described the county situation as "critical and continuing," adding that the areas in question are "flooded continuously."

The five drainage requests will include (1) Canal from Black Bay to Rudee Inlet, (2) Canal from the Mapleton area to West Neck Creek through the swamp at Denvers Bridges, (3) Canal in the Kempsville area in the vicinity of the Nike site near Stumpy Lake to the head of County Creek, (4) Clearing Nantux Creek to the inland Waterway via Oakland Creek near Creeds and (5) Clearing Mill Dam Creek to the Island Waterway.

He said wide publicizing of the county's need for drainage to open water was "highly important."

The supervisors reapproved on first reading a sewerage and water authority for the county and named a commission to be in charge of the body.

The authority was the same as that approved last Fall and later rescinded, with the exception that subdivisions named for immediate action were changed to include only Kempsville Manor. Formerly three subdivisions, including Kempsville Manor, were included.

The authority is being set up under the Virginia Water and Sewer Authorities and provides for control of a water system, water distribution system, sewerage system and sewage disposal system.

The new First Citizen succeeds J. B. Loftin, Jr., who was honored with the award last year. Loftin made the presentation of the plaque to Webbon.

Webbon was recognized for his outstanding civic and church work at Chesapeake Beach plus the many activities throughout the county. He serves on committees of several organizations and is a member of the Princess Anne County Planning Commission.

Virginia Beach City Manager W. Russell Hatchett was the principal speaker at the banquet. The city official spoke on "Citizenship."

Appointed

Robert L. Hargrove, assistant county attorney, has been appointed to the post of Trial Justice for Princess Anne County effective March 1, 1956. Hargrove succeeds John D. Lister, who was appointed to fill the vacant position of Trial Justice in the county of Litch and will serve as assistant to Trial Justice J. Davis Reed.

Webbon Honored As First Citizen

Richard J. "Dick" Webbon, executive secretary to the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors, is the new first citizen of Chesapeake Beach.

Webbon was honored at the annual banquet of the Chesapeake Beach Men's Club last week. A. "Jack" Etheridge served as toastmaster for the annual event.

The new First Citizen succeeds J. B. Loftin, Jr., who was honored with the award last year. Loftin made the presentation of the plaque to Webbon.

Webbon was recognized for his outstanding civic and church work at Chesapeake Beach plus the many activities throughout the county. He serves on committees of several organizations and is a member of the Princess Anne County Planning Commission.

Thanks to the keen nose of Harvey Lee (Butch) Lassell, his mother, four children and their home was saved early Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Lassell said that around 2:00 A. M. Wednesday morning, Butch woke her up and said he smelled smoke. Mrs. Lassell quickly awoke and went to investigate. She found the bedrooms under the house in the basement were on fire. She was forced to go outside from the basement and went around the house to the front door and woke the other four children: Sylvia, 15, Joyce, 12, Elizabeth, 6, and four-month-old baby Kristina. She and the children were able to get safely out of the house. The volunteer firemen from Ocean Park and Chesapeake Beach who were called to the scene by a neighbor, told Mrs. Lassell that if the family had not been awakened, they would have suffocated in another five minutes. Butch is certainly a hero in his family's eyes. He was calm and efficient, they reported.

Butch is the only man in the house when his father Comdr. Harvey Lee Lassell, U.S.N., executive officer of the USS Taconic it away as he is at present in the Caribbean.

Butch is a second grader at Shelton Park Elementary School and a mighty handy man to have around the house. The family live at Sylvan Beach.

Parsons-McDonald Wedding Rites Take Place In Florida

The marriage of Miss Joyce McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McDonald, of Barroca, Fla., to Winston Brooks Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Roy Parsons of Norfolk, took place January 26 in Methodist Student Chapel at Florida State University, in Tallahassee, Fla., with Dr. Glenn James performing the ceremony. After the ceremony a reception was held at the S. A. E. fraternity house.

Following a wedding trip to St. Augustine, Daytona Beach and Silver Springs, Fla., the couple is now residing at 820 South Calhoun Street, in Tallahassee. Later they will make their home in Norfolk.

Tatem-Bradley Vows Exchanged At Creeds Church

The marriage of Mrs. Cora Stallings Bradley and Peter T. Tatem took place Wednesday evening, February 22, at 8 o'clock in the Oak Grove Baptist Church at Creeds. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. A. Richardson.

The mother of honor was Mrs. Clyde Bradley, daughter-in-law of the bride and the best man was Robert Sawyer, son-in-law of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony a small dinner party was given at the Pine Tree Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Tatem will reside at St. Bride's.

Richard R. Abelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Abelson of London Bridge in Princess Anne County, has graduated from Randolph-Macon College in Ashland with a Bachelor of Arts degree. He majored in history.

A member of the February graduating class of Randolph-Macon, Abelson will be awarded his diploma in June with the 1956 graduating class. He graduated from Oceana High School in 1950.

Both the bride and bridegroom are students at Florida State University. The bride holds the title of "Miss Sorority U.S.A." and also was "Miss Matter" at Stetson University for 1955.

Mr. Parsons attended Port Unacademy and was graduated from the Kemperville High School. He attended the University of Virginia and is now working on a degree in real estate and insurance with a minor study in law at Florida State. He will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps in June of 1957.

The Recreation Item

The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors adopted the largest budget in its history at last Monday's meeting. The budget is in excess of $5,000,000 and is designed to cover expenditures for the 1956-57 fiscal year which begins on July 1, 1956.

The size of the budget is indicative of and consistent with the vast growth of the county. More than $2,000,000 is set aside for public school operation.

There is an item in the budget which is particularly noteworthy. It is the provision for a recreation director for the county. It is noteworthy for this is a step, we feel, in expanding the youth recreation program already begun with the creation of the Police Athletic League.

Recreation for the youth of our county is a big job. It is a commendable step that the Board of Supervisors and county officials have taken in planning to have a director to handle recreation for the county. The youth of the county will benefit and in the long run all residents of the county will benefit from a planned recreational program.

The establishment of a director for this phase of our county operation will insure wholesome recreation for the youngsters and will materially aid in developing our youngsters into better, more useful citizens.

We are impressed with this item in the new budget.

Red Cross Month

This month has been set aside for the American Red Cross fund drive for Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach. It is the annual drive by the Princess Anne Chapter to raise money to carry on the many worthwhile projects of the American Red Cross.

The Army of volunteer workers is already at their jobs in the gigantic task of canvassing the sprawling area that is Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach. They hope to complete the job or raising the $18,500 in the time allotted to the drive. This can be done if donors will respond on the first call by solicitors and eliminate the time consuming practice of call backs by the workers.

The local chapter is a particularly busy one with so much work being performed for families and men in the military services in the area. The Red Cross does a great deal of work in this field but little publicity is given to this phase of the program.

Blood is probably the best known of the many works of the Red Cross and there is little that can be added to the fine blood program carried on by the Red Cross. The bloodmobile visits to the county and beach are well known to all and the many lives saved through this fine program cannot be counted.

Remember this is Red Cross month. Give generously when called on and if not called on send your contribution into the Princess Anne Chapter of the American Red Cross here at Virginia Beach.

New Committees

for an extensive education program for the month of April which is cancer month.

Mrs. B. Wahab, Jr. and Mrs. P. Douglas have organized a cancer poster contest for both High Schools in Princess Anne County. Separate prizes will be awarded at both Virginia Beach, and Princess Anne High in the form of cash for first, second, and third prizes. The closing date has been set for March 19 with the judges being Mrs. J. D. Gregory, Mrs. J. D. Gregory, Jr., Mrs. John Doyle, Mrs. John Anderson, and Laura Lamb. All of us are looking forward to having some very interesting and informative posters to display in April throughout Princess Anne County as a result of this contest.

The Unit has found the need for a transportation committee since we have been called upon to take patients to and from Norfolk for treatment and also deliver cancer dressings to patients. Mrs. R. N. Aycock is the new chairman of this committee and anyone interested in giving their time is urged to call Mrs. Aycock at Virginia Beach 778-8. We would also like to thank those members of the Cape Henry Woman's Club who have come forward and volunteered their services in the face of an emergency and then stayed on with us to make up the backbone of the new committee. More drivers are needed for this very important work so please call Mrs. Aycock to find out more about the job being done. It is reassuring to know that when an ambulance is needed we have that wonderful organization the Rescue Squad to call on for assistance.

The Service Program Chairman Mrs. S. Kellam and Mrs. R. Wahab, Jr. welcome two new groups to the cancer dressings program. The Women of the Beach Grove Methodist Church of Princess Anne and the Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist Church, London Bridge we all say a big thank you to both these groups for coming forward and joining us. We are proud to report this makes a total of eight such units working with the Cancer Society at this time. More groups are needed so if your club or society is interested please contact the above mentioned groups.

Mrs. J. M. P. Dolans, Secy. and Mrs. J. A. White, This was the first play in April throughout Princess Anne County as a result of this contest.

DALE CARNEGIE

Doisothy N. Epperson, Rt. 2, Neeshow, Missouri, has written us not a story but an inspiring letter about her parents. If what she says about them could be said about all parents, there would be little juvenile delinquency in the world and much more happiness. Here is the gist of her letter:

"My mother and my father were profuse in their praise of anything well done, and more advisory than critical of any faults in their children. Their advice to their children was always given in a manner suggestive of the belief in the one advised and his or her ability and desire to improve. I cannot recall a single word of harsh criticism ever made by either of them.

"My parents lived to be eighty years old, having reared five children who have given them many grandchildren, and the entire family was devoted to them. A favorite saying of my mother's was, 'The biggest room in the world is the room for self-improvement.'"

Convulsive Clinic On March 13

The Anti-Convulsive Clinic of the University of Virginia Hospital will hold its annual field clinic at the City of Norfolk Health Department on Tuesday, March 13, 1956.

The clinic is open to all medically indigent persons with convulsive disorders, and is a free service. It is sponsored by the Virginia Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Appointments are being sent to those requesting them and any other convulsive patient should get a referral from his physician, Department of Public Welfare, Health Department, or other authorized referring agency, and come between the clinic hours of 9:00 A. M. and 2:00 P. M.

The Service Program Chairman Mrs. S. Kellam and Mrs. R. Wahab, Jr. welcome two new groups to the cancer dressings program. The Women of the Beach Grove Methodist Church of Princess Anne and the Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist Church, London Bridge we all say a big thank you to both these groups for coming forward and joining us. We are proud to report this makes a total of eight such units working with the Cancer Society at this time. More groups are needed so if your club or society is interested please contact the above mentioned groups.

Mrs. J. M. P. Dolans, Secy. and Mrs. J. A. White, This was the first play in April throughout Princess Anne County as a result of this contest.

Girl Scout Adults Hold Annual Dinner Meeting

Believe, Belong, Build was the theme of the annual dinner meeting of the Girl Scout-Adults of Princess Anne District at the Pine Tree Inn on George Washington's Birthday. This group under the leadership of Mrs. Lyman A. Clarke, District Chairman, is composed of Princess Anne County's Girl Scout Leaders and other volunteer workers. There were 86 present including members of the council and staff. Mrs. Henry Hedley, who was also the meeting chairman, was named to succeed Mrs. Clarke as the District Chairman. Other officers installed as the meeting was: Mrs. H. W. Newsome and Mrs. John Tucker, Vice Chairmen; Mrs. E. Hogard, Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs. J. C. Brady, Juliette Low Chairman; Mrs. Paul Dolans, Day Camp Chairman; Mrs. Glenn Dill, Day Camp Director; and Mrs. A. H. Neighborhood Chairman are: Mrs. H. W. Newsome, Bayside; Mrs. Paul Dolans, Virginia Beach; Mrs. J. D. Gregory, Kempville; and Mrs. Morris Simmons, Oceana. Entertainment at the dinner meeting included a violin solo by Mr. Carol Trani, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Steinhilber. The invocation was given by Rev. A. B. Blount, Pastor of the Kempville Baptist Church. Colored Slides of Day Camp Lunkhorns were shown and narrated by Jo Ann Cox and Marshall Meredith, members of Virginia Beach Senior Troop 205.

The Princess Anne Delegates to the Senior Round Up which will be held this summer in Highland State Park, Michigan were introduced and they told what the theme meant to them. They are Lila Davis, Alyce Savage; and Grace Tucker, alternate of Virginia Beach Senior Troop 205. Five Year Membership Pins were awarded by Mrs. Harmon Jones, Area President to Mrs. E. Hogard; Mrs. J. D. Gregory; Mrs. Virginia Phillips; Mrs. Lewis Snyder and Mrs. Louise Lyons.

Princess Anne District's Accomplishments of 1955 were: 4 Neighborhood Units, 2 Basic Training Courses, Singing Institute, Handicraft Institute, Advanced Training Course, Volunteer Training Course, Junior Camp Council, Day Camp, 4 Camperships to Camp Matoaka, One Volunteer sent to Rockwood, Md. for Camp Training and Christmas Workshop at the Chesapeake Beach Community House. Goals for 1956 are: Strive for quality program. Recruit more adults. Organize neighborhood service teams. Work toward a balance between Browns, Intermediate and Senior Troops and Better interpretation of troop financing.

Total membership in the Tidewater Area Council is 6,208 girls and 1,366 adult volunteers.

Scott Memorial Church News

On Sunday, February 26, the Rev. F. H. Strickley delivered his anniversary sermon to a near capacity congregation in Scott Memorial Church in Oceana. The month of February marks the anniversary of the pastor's appointment to his first regular charge, which was Harrison and Oxford Churches in the Blue Grass section of Kentucky. He served this appointment for two and one half years while completing his work to the Bachelor of Divinity Degree in Asbury Theological Seminary, which was received in June, 1928. The following fall, at the session of the Baltimore Conference in 1929 Rev. Strickley was appointed to Bellepoint-Riverview Charge in West Virginia. When the union of the three branches of Methodism was consummated in 1938, he was serving the Woodstock Church in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia, and became a member of the Virginia Conference as did all of the pastors serving the four districts of the Baltimore Conference which were in Virginia.

Appointments in the Virginia Conference since that time have included Denary Street and Ramsey Memorial Churches in Richmond, Del Ray Church in Alexandria; McKendree Church in Norfolk. During the Alexandria

National Little League News

Registration of National Little Leaguers will take place on 13 March between 7:00 P.M. and 9:00 P.M. at Va. Beach School Gym. Registration blanks will be passed out to all boys on 13 March at W. T. Cook School. Boys are to take these applications home, fill them out, parents to sign them and return them on registration night. Parents are to accompany boys on registration night. Just in case it isn't possible to register your son then do not despair, you can do so by telephoning Mr. John Kull, secretary at 1783 or James Ferdue the vice-president at 4338. Last year several boys failed to report for tryouts in time to be selected for a team. Don't put off registering your son too long; you may be both sorry.

This begins the second season in which Virginia Beach has had a Little League franchise. We will be eligible to enter an All-Star Team in the National Play Offs for the championship of the United States. The team will be selected from the twelve year olds of the league and will be formed on 15 July. In order to permit the All Star Team time to practice and to travel during the play offs the season's schedule will come to a stop on 15 July and will resume two weeks later to complete the season.

It is planned to have a play off between winning teams of the American and National Leagues of Virginia Beach and of the Little League of Princess Anne County after the end of the normal season. The play off for the championship of Virginia Beach last year was a corker and this year's series should be even better. The Fund Raising Committee is firming up plans on the Box

School Menus

City Council, Mr. Lewis Smith, Clerk, Virginia Beach, Va.
Gentlemen:
It is with gratitude that we are writing this letter to you to tell you of the efficient and considerate manner that your fire department handled the fire in our room the other night. In spite of the fact that we suffered a loss, this could have been a great deal worse if it hadn't been for the capable manner in which it was handled and the promptness in answering the alarm.
We are proud of our fire department and thank each and every man, and feel that we should let them.
Gratefully,
WILLMO'S

Dear Sir:

Our Heart Fund drive in the county and city held last Sunday was a tremendous success and if you will permit I would like to take this means of expressing my thanks and appreciation to the members of the Cape Henry Woman's Club, the chairmen of the various committees and the many other workers who contributed so much to the success of the drive.

Although our club helped sponsor the drive and my committee solicited the drive, we were aided by many fine workers who were not members of the club. To all of the workers I want to express my warmest thanks and congratulations for a wonderful community effort.
Thanking you for allowing me to express thanks in this way, I am Very sincerely,

Virginia Beach Erosion Commission Report

To the Citizens of Virginia Beach:

Although all meetings of the Virginia Beach Erosion Commission are open to the public and the press is welcome to attend, so many of you are so busy with your own affairs, that you do not have the time to attend these meetings.

The Commission is continuing its policy of ever so of ten releasing statements to show just what the Commission is doing and how the special tax on hotel rooms, prepared foods, cigarettes and amusements is being spent. This report will show the collections and disbursements of this tax for the years ending June 30, 1953; June 30, 1954, and June 30, 1955. These figures are audited by the Auditing Department of the State of Virginia and the records of the Erosion Commission are also audited by this department. We are hoping to supplement this income by again receiving an appropriation from the State of Virginia.

The Commission would appreciate your reading carefully this statement and if you desire any additional information, it will be pleased to furnish it to you. It desires to particularly call your attention to the fact that of the total special tax collected, the Commission has only had for replenishing of the beach and the upkeep of the concrete walkway, sea wall and the backfill, a rather small part of this total fund. The figure will show that for the year ending June 30, 1954, it had less than $30,000.00.

VIRGINIA BEACH EROSION COMMISSION

Valedictorian, Salutatorian at Beach High School

Robert Sturgess Creamer, Jr.

Virginia Beach High School is pleased to announce the valedictorian and salutatorian for the class of 1956.

Robert Sturgess Creamer, Jr. is the valedictorian. Bobby is the editor of the high school newspaper, "The Beachcomber"; feature Editor of the high school annual, "The 1956 Hurricane"; and Chaplain of the Alpha Hi-Y. He is also Co-Chairman of the Student Handbook Committee.

He plans to attend Tufts University in Medford, Mass. Bobby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Creamer of Birdneck Point. His ambition is to be a Foreign Diplomat.

Mabel Patricia Skipper is the Salutatorian for the class of 1956. Patsy is secretary of the Senior Class; Assistant Editor of "The Beachcomber"; Treasurer of her Senior Homeroom; and was a delegate to Girl's State last summer.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Skipper of Baltic Avenue. Patsy plans to attend Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia. Her ambition is to major in Commercial Art.

Bobby and Patsy are students of outstanding calibre in every sense of the word. They have proven their ability both in class and out in all that they have done for the school. It can be easily said that as a teacher wants something extra done, these are two students you can count on. We of Virginia Beach High School are proud of these two fine Christian young people. The world holds much for them.

Webbon Honored

In addition to the first citizen award, Webbon was re-elected president of the club. Other officers are J. B. Loftin, Jr., vice-president; J. W. Simpson, secretary; L. F. Reider, treasurer; L.L. Dillon, W. J. Slade and L. E. Lester, directors. The officers were installed by J. Hugh Barnes, Jr., a former president of the club. Entertainment for the evening was furnished by the Music School of Dance.

The population of game in our National Forest has increased about 3 fold in the past 20 years, and now averages 3 animals per square mile.

Cleve Gayle Reigns as Surf Queen Of Virginia Beach High School

On Friday, February 24, 1956, the contest for the Surf Queen of Virginia Beach was brought to a close. The pennies were counted and the announcement was made. Long live Queen Cleveland! She won the contest with a total of 3983 pennies. Jo Ann LaGiglia and Linda Hearne came in second and third with more than 3,000 votes.

The penny a vote system was used and it proved very satisfactory. The $155.00 collected will be used for the Senior's gift to the school and the Coronation Ball where Cleve will be crowned.

Sometime in May, Cleve and Cheryl Wallace, Beach Bowl Queen, will represent Virginia Beach in the Azalea Court.

Again congratulations to you, Cleve. Cleve is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Gayle of Holland Court in Virginia Beach.

V. B. H. Forms a New Club

A Junior Civitan Club was introduced to V.B.H.S. freshmen, sophomores, and juniors last Monday, February 20, by Dr. Howard Kahn, Mr. Leroy Everton, Mr. John Barnes, the present Senior Club president, and Jim Atwell, a student of Annapolis, Maryland who flew down.

The Junior Civitan Club is to represent and create spirit of responsibility and leadership, not only at home, but at school and in the community. A member prepares himself for a better life by working hand in hand with other young people for a better world.

Jim Atwell, a student of Annapolis, Maryland explained the meaning of Junior Civitan. It is an organization for high school youths having three main goals. These are: To build leaders, to render service, and to undertake helpful projects. This club gives the opportunity and enjoyment of working for oneself, school, community, and nation.

Any student who is honest, upright, and a good citizen is qualified for membership. Application cards were handed out to interested members. Among these a selected group will be chosen by Mr. James Johnson, principal of V. B. H., the teachers, and a group from the Senior Civitan Club.

V. B. H. S. Attends Tri-C Meeting

Tuesday February 21, 1956 six members of the Virginia Beach High School S. C. A. went to Princess Anne High School along with Mr. Walter Parker, sponsor of the organization to attend the Tri-C Federation Meeting.

The meeting was called to order in the beautiful auditorium by Shelly Ritter, Tri-C President. The guest speaker was Mrs. Iris J. McClay from Australia who gave an impressive talk on the continent.

After the talk the schools separated into discussion groups. The Virginia Beach Members and their discussion groups were: Mary Ann Garker-Evaluation of Student Council Work, Sandra Hood-Improving conduct at school activities, Claudia-Tucker-Worthwhile Projects concerning school, Pat Standing - curbing vandalism in schools, David Watts was chairman of the discussion group. How we can Better Recognize Honor Students (Exam exemptions) Frank Tarrall took part also. Princess Anne High School Chorus gave an impressive program which was very enjoyable.

At the conclusion all schools attending the meeting gave their parts toward helping to form a better Tri-C federation and organization.

Kempsville Neighborhood
Girl Scout News

The Kempsville Neighborhood was well represented Wednesday night, February 22nd at the Annual Meeting of the Princess Anne District of Girl Scout Leaders, held at the Pine Tree Inn. The theme for the evening was "Believe, Belong and Build". Mrs. Lyman S. Clark, District Chairman presided over the meeting. Mrs. Harmon L. Jones, awarded five year pins to three of the Kempsville Scout Leaders. Those receiving pins were Mrs. Lewis Snyder; Mrs. William Phillips and Mrs. J. D. Gregory, Neighborhood Chairman.

Brownie Troop 264:

A new troop of Brownie Scouts was recently organized at Creeds. Mrs. Bryan Dudley is the leader and Mrs. Fred White, Mrs. Eddie Johnson and Mrs. Z. V. Taylor, assistant leaders. The troop invested twenty one Brownies January 30th. Nine of the girls and the four leaders attended the Fashion Show at Princess Anne High School. The Scouts have been very busy dramatizing the Brownie Story, making favors for George Washington's Birthday and making doll beds from cigar boxes. The troop is now hard at work selling Girl Scout Cookies.

Girl Scout Troop 268:

A new troop of Intermediate Girl Scouts has recently been organized in Creeds under the leadership of Mrs. Herbert Dudley with Mrs. Harvey Grimstead acting as Assistant Leader. January 30th eleven girls were invested. All of the girls and their leaders attended the Fashion Show at Princess Anne High School. February 23rd, thanks to their leaders the girls had a wonderful time skating and are working on a skating badge. They have also ordered their Girl Scout cookies.

Girl Scout Troop 285:

Girl Scout troop 285 invested six girls at their recent Investing Service. They also had Fly-Up Service for five Brownie Scouts. The girls have divided into patrols and elected officers. Mrs. Gattlin is the leader and Mrs. Herbert Behne her assistant.

Girl Scout Troop 257:

The Girl Scouts of the Acredale Troop have been very busy this winter completing their Good Grooming Badges. They now are working on cooking badges and seamstress badges. The girls have been making stocking dolls, which they will take to the King Daughters Hospital. Beds are also in the making for the dolls.

Plans have been made to have a spring party, March 24th. In April there will be a Court Of Awards. Mrs. Clarence Flanigan is the leader and Mrs. D. E. Greenwood, Assistant Leader.

Girl Scout Troop 207:

According to Mrs. Lottie Creekmore, leader of troop 207, the girls are working very hard now. Two of the girls are working on their Curved Bars, while four are hard at work on First Class.

Girl Scout Troop 264:

The girls of troop 264 have been busy as bees, selling their cookies and are doing very well. Mrs. William Phillips and Mrs. J. D. Gregory are the leaders and say the girls will soon have their Curved Bars.

Girl Scout Troop 253:

Girl Scout Troop 253 at the Princess Anne Court House are making their many plans for the spring. Mrs. J. E. Jones is the leader and Mrs. Russell Lee her assistant.

Brownie Troop 278:

The Troop committee of Brownie Troop 278, with the leader Mrs. R. J. Ourada and the assistant leader Mrs. J. W. Anton discussed plans for the coming month at a recent meeting. These plans included a hike for the children. The troop made valentines and had a party. They also observed Girl Scout Thinking Day with a Ceremony. They are now in the midst of learning folk dancing. This being taught by girls from Senior troop 204.

The Brownies miss one of their members, Yvette Phillips, who with her parents Mr. and Mrs. James Phillips have moved to Bermuda.

Brownie Troop 231:

During the month of February, Brownie Troop 231 have been observing World Friendship Month. The girls received their World Friendship pins and have been studying the customs of other nations. Some of the Mothers of the troop gave a Valentine party, which the children greatly enjoyed.

Girl Scout Thinking Day was also observed on February 22nd. The children have sold their Girl Scout Cookies and plans are in the making to use the profits for swimming lessons. The leaders of the troop are Mrs. M. B. Jones and Mrs. William T. Baker.

Acredale Garden Club:

Rehabilitation was the program featured at the Acredale Garden Club meeting Tuesday night, February 21st at the Kempsville Community Center.

W. J. Cox, district supervisor for the Vocational Rehabilitation Service, showed a film and discussed "The Rehabilitation Story". The members of the club, now more than ever, realized the value of the rehabilitation program.

Ribbons for the exhibits were awarded to Mrs. J. E. Parish; Mrs. W. A. Maynard; Mrs. E. R. Burroughs; Mrs. D. T. Wiseman; Mrs. B. J. Scott; Mrs. R. J. Hitt; and Mrs. W. H. White.

Kempsville Woman's Club:

The Kempsville Woman's Club held its monthly meeting Tuesday, February 21st in the Kempsville Community Center. The president, Mrs. Lyman S. Clark presided. The members of the club elected their nominating committees, which will present its slate of officers at the next club meeting.

The program was under the direction of the American Home Department. Mrs. Betty C. Douglas, home economist gave a demonstration on over meals for the members at the Virginia Electric and Power Company. Meetings:

Monday, March 5th, Lake Terrace Civic League; Thursday, March 8th, Cavalier Junior Woman's Club at Kempsville Baptist Church; Monday, March 5th, Tidewater Coonhunters Association, Kempsville Community Center.

Kempsville Ruritan Club:

The Kempsville Ruritan Club held its meeting, Monday, February 20th in the Asalea Room. The new club president, Charles Drescher, presided.

W. W. Johnson, program director, presented A. M. Stancel, Director of the Tidewater Area School for Mentally Retarded Children which is part of the Norfolk School System. Mr. Stancel showed the club members two films and discussed with them the complete purpose of the program for Mentally Retarded. He also reported that the money the club contributed from the fifth annual Kempsville Woman's Club Horse Show was used to buy additional equipment, such as a special movie projector and simple puzzles. Any child from the Princess Anne County System may attend this school. The club, with the Kempsville Woman's Club is now in the process of organizing their sixth annual horse show, which will be held at the Virginia Beach Stadium in conjunction with the Virginia Beach Golden Jubilee.

One new member was introduced, William T. Baker. Volunteers were asked to help collect for the Heart Fund on Heart Sunday.

During the past club year the Ruritan have obtained seventy six donors for the Red Cross Bloodmobile in Kempsville. The Polio Vaccine was explained in detail by Dr. Southeate Leigh. Thirty five members of the club participated in the baseball special to Washington. A "Family Night" fish fry was held for members and the ladies of the Kempsville Woman's Club. They also had a special "Ladies Night". The club sponsors Boy Scout troop 66, maintains a Board of Review and contributes one hundred dollars annually for its maintenance, it assisted in the formation of the Princess Anne County Police Athletic League. It sponsored Jimmy Loftin at "Boys State", held at V. P. I.

Contributions during the past year have been, twenty five dollars for Achievement awards for the Princess Anne Four H Club, fifteen dollars in prizes for Tractor Driving Contest, furnished a trophy for the winner of Princess Anne Soybean Growers Club, a Speaking award was presented to a senior boy and girl at Princess Anne High School, appropriated necessary funds to send a Minister to the Virginia Rural Minister School at V. P. I. $740.00 was used for further improvements to the Community Center at Kempsville. Curtains were purchased for the stage of the Kempsville Elementary School Auditorium. Ideas for the Modern Homemaker

By Mrs. Elizabeth D. Deal
County Home Agent

Tricks for Sick Youngsters

The convalescent child is sometimes a tax on ingenuity when it comes to keeping him quiet, in bed, and also happily entertained. Miss Amelia Fuller, home economics specialist at VPI, has some suggestions to keep happy the 4-to-10-year-old who is "on the mend."

She says to provide plenty of "just looking" activities. A ballet dancer or airplane hanging on a string from a light fixture or a window shade will catch and hold his interest. Or arrange a bulletin board near the foot of the bed. Each day add a new surprise, a new member of an imaginary family, a new animal or bird, or anything else which amuses him.

Many a child has been amused by the simple device of catching sunlight with a pocket mirror. When it begins to get dark, a miniature flashlight will bring him minutes of pleasure when he explores dark corners.

"Surprise" is a magic word to a child. Plan a simple, gaily wrapped, surprise box. The anticipation of opening a package every day will help keep the youngster quiet and patient. The gifts need not be purchased. A cook's brightly wrapped, post card, a picture book, a pipe cleaner doll, funny drawings, or even a paper party hat will entertain a child.

A picture puzzle can be made for a young child from a picture post card. Cut the card into four or five irregular shapes. If the child can read, write a message on the back of it before it is cut into a puzzle. Your child might enjoy cutting and sending a puzzle message to some of his friends.

Even paper work can be fun for the child. Wrapping paper, paper bags, colored paper, paper dolls, paper plates, greeting cards, and old magazines can be used. With a pair of sharp, but blunt, scissors and paper, the child can be kept occupied for a long time.

Urges your child to watch the weather. Encourage him to make a chart or calendar which shows what happens. For example, he can use a big yellow sun, a black cloud, a gay umbrella, snow flakes, etc. Or he may want to make his own predictions, and then find out how accurate he was.

A peppy tray will do much to perk up lagging appetites as well as help to pass the hours. A par-tay face on potatoes, bread cut into interesting shapes with a cookie cutter, a dessert hidden by crepe paper and labeled "do not open until last" will do wonders.

Don't give your child too much. One toy or activity at a time is enough. Then don't allow the child's bed to become cluttered, for it is confusing and tiring to the child, and extra work for you. Keep a large tray with a raised edge, a carton with its sides cut down, or a large box lid, handy for all the scattered toys and odds and ends.

When your child is better, don't coddle him. The attitudes he builds during an illness may carry over to other things. Try to help him treat his illness as one of those

Have Fun When You Travel With Baby

Babies are natural born travelers. If you are taking your baby on a long train trip, both of you can have a wonderful time. However, it does require a certain amount of planning. Take only one suitcase for yourself and an over-the-shoulder bag for baby's things—and carry your purse in it. This will leave you one hand for baby, one for your suitcase.

Your over-the-shoulder bag will be a safe place to carry your purse, particularly if most of your funds are in American Express Travelers Cheques—buy them at your local bank. There may be spots anywhere like money, but if lost or stolen, any American Express office will make a prompt refund.

Get to the train well ahead of time to give your baby time to get settled and doze off before he gets tired enough to become cross. Better to wait for the train than rush madly to catch it.

Take along some of baby's favorite toys, also a small blanket. Don't worry about keeping too close to baby's schedule. Chances are if you're happy, baby will be too.

things which happens to everyone occasionally - something to be cared for sensibly but not over-emphasized.

Here's a good way to use leftover baked beans. Spread the beans on buttered brown bread slices. Grate a small amount of cheese over the beans. Place a half strip of bacon over the top and broil until bacon is crisp.

THIS WEEK'S RECIPE

Date Coconut Ring

(Makes 2 cakes)

1/2 cup melted butter or substitute
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons hot water
1 cup chopped coconut
1 cup chopped fresh dates
1 package yellow cake mix
Combine butter, corn syrup, brown sugar and water. Divide equally between 2 9-inch ring molds or 2 8-inch square pans. Sprinkle with coconut and dates. Prepare cake according to package directions and spoon batter over date-coconut mixture. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 30 minutes. Turn out immediately and serve warm or cold.

Used greased muffin pans as molds when baking stuff-doppers so they will hold their shape.

GARDEN GUIDE

By J. WILTON ANDERSON

Beginning in Gardening, (con't.)

The beginner in gardening will undoubtedly be interested in starting new plants, and the easiest way usually is by seeds.

SEEDLINGS

Each time a plant has a flower, it is normally pollinated by insects or the wind. The flower then forms a seed which is a miniature plant awaiting an opportunity to burst forth into a full grown plant. In order to grow properly, this seed has certain requirements which must be met. It must have a media in which to establish itself—normally soil, and it must have favorable temperature and moisture conditions. Light can be a critical factor in the life of some young plants, also, so follow the directions on the seed packets and do not plant too deeply.

Seeds can be started indoors at this time of the year in several types of containers. A flat or shallow wooden box may be filled with soil or waxed milk cartons can be used on their sides, cut open, and used as seedling trays. One convenient material to use as a growing media in place of soil is vermiculite. It has the advantage of being clean, light, in weight, and sterile. Since young seedlings are particularly vulnerable to diseases this sterility can be a very good asset in getting the plants started off right.

As the young seedlings grow larger and show four or more leaves, they can be transplanted to the flower beds outdoors. Wait until all chances of frost are past however. The transplanting is done very simply by lifting the young seedlings out of its box and insert in a small hole in the prepared bed. Firm the soil around the seedling with the finger tips. Keep them well watered and you will soon be happily rewarded by lots of color in your yard.

Join the Dogwood Drive
Many excellent dogwood trees are still available at nurseries and may safely be planted at this time. If your trees come bare foot, keep the roots moist at all times until planted. Soaking in a bucket of water for a half hour would be particularly advantageous before the trees are planted. Give them a drink after planting, take time to prevent their being blown over, and prune the limbs back one-third. All of these things will give you a fuller more beautifully shaped living tree.

It's a fine thing that all youthfulness is not wasted on young people—some oldsters have their share of it, too, it seems.

COLD SUFFERERS

COLD discomforts yield quickly to STANBACK'S prescription formula. STANBACK tablets or powders work fast to bring comforting relief from tired, sore, aching muscles, neuralgia and headaches due to colds.

QUICK ACTION PROTECTS AUTO TRIM

Salt put on roads does a good job of melting ice and snow. But oh-what it can do to some of the trim on your car.

As shown in the photo at left, salt cakes on the body and trim. The photo at right shows the same car after washing. Note how the wheel cover and trim strip, both made of stainless steel, are unaffected, while the other trim has pitted.

The best way to prevent corrosion on your car is to start with a thorough cleaning, followed up with a good waxing. Then, each week, or after a long trip on salt covered roads, wash it down with fresh water.

In washing your car, at any time of the year, pay special attention to places where rust may form—cracks and crevices, chrome plated bumpers, ornaments, etc. Side trim, wheel covers, stone guards and window trim on nearly all cars are stainless steel and need no special care or waxing. That's because they're not plated, but solid stainless all the way through.

IT'S Fun to COOK

January - gone - yes and February too. Can't you believe that spring is only 21 days away? But whether springtime - Summer - fall or winter - there are meals to plan and I hope these suggestions today will prove helpful to you and pleasure to your family.

If doesn't make any difference what time of day or day of the week you do your grocery shopping, the meat counter is usually well stocked with pork. Maybe you'll find a "wise-shopping-special". Scrutinizing shoppers consider other factors besides price. Take the case of nutrition. All meat supplies the body-building proteins which are so necessary to develop resistance to infection and to provide energy.

In general, meat is an excellent source of B vitamins, blood-building iron, and phosphorus for teeth and bones. Looking at pork specifically - you'll discover that of all foods pork is the best source of thiamine or vitamin B as it is called. What does this mean to growing youngsters and adults? It offers an economical source of an essential food nutrient - necessary for growth, normal functioning of the heart and proper utilization of sugar and starches. Outstanding, too, it is thiamine's role in developing and maintaining a healthy digestive tract and nerves. Lack of this vitamin is soon noticed in loss of appetite, fatigue, and irritability. Nutritionally, pork is so versatile, its easy to create new and tasty menus, for instance a stuffed pork tenderloin.

Bake Stuffed Pork Tenderloin
2 pork tenderloins
2 cups soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons grated onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning.
Meat stock or water to moisten
Salt
Pepper

Cut the pork tenderloins lengthwise but not quite through so that they may be opened and laid flat. Combine bread crumbs, onion, parsley, salt, pepper and poultry seasoning and add enough meat stock or water to moisten. Spread stuffing on one pork tenderloin and place remaining pork tenderloin, cut side down on stuffing. Fasten with string or skewers and place on a rack in an open roasting pan. Season with salt and pepper. Roast in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 hours or until done. 6 to 8 servings.

Pork tenderloin is considered the most tender cut of pork. It is a lean muscle which extends along the inner side of the backbone.

You'll need two tenderloins for this recipe. First, cut the pork quite through. Now they can be opened and laid flat. You'll notice before cutting that the largest end is round in shape and gradually tapers to the thin flat end. There is a small amount of fat distributed throughout the lean and surrounding the cut. This helps make the meat juicy and flavorful.

These two pork tenderloins plus the bread stuffing which will be placed between them will make six to eight servings. Remember there is no waste on this cut of meat. It's good to the last bite.

Now you're ready to spread on the bread stuffing. Here are the ingredients: Begin with 2 cups of soft bread crumbs, and add 2 tablespoons of grated onion and 1 tablespoon of chopped parsley. For more seasoning add 1 teaspoon of salt, 1/4 teaspoon of pepper and 1 teaspoon of poultry seasoning. Now you need just a little liquid to moisten the stuffing. If you have meat stock on hand, use it or water will do.

With a spoon, spread the stuffing evenly over one of the cut pork tenderloins. Then place the second tenderloin over the stuffing - cut side down.

Next either use skewers to fasten the two cuts of meat together or tie with string. After cooking, remove the skewers or string and the stuffed tenderloins will hold their shape.

Here the tenderloins are tied with ordinary string much as a package would be tied. The important thing is to secure the sides so that the stuffing doesn't come out.

Since pork tenderloin is such a tender cut of meat, it is cooked by a dry heat method. Place the meat on a rack in an open roasting pan. Season with salt and pepper. Don't add any water and don't cover the pan.

Place the stuffed pork tenderloins in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 hours or until it is done.

Now you can remove the string and slice the pork into serving pieces.

Place the slices of pork tenderloin on a warm platter and just see how attractive it looks. For a very simple garnish with lots of color, add a few spiced red apples and parsley. Your family will want a repeat on this meal.

As for the rest of the menu, serve crisp, American-Irish potatoes and buttered green peas mixed with sautéed fresh mushrooms. The salad should be no problem. Take advantage of the abundance of winter peas on the market. Prepare a simple salad by placing pear halves in a lettuce cup and top with cream cheese rolled in chopped nuts. Add a few hot yeast rolls with either butter or margarine and your dinner table will look like a feast. For a

COFFEE: A Conversation Piece

Of all the groceries in daily American use, few have as long a history and become a background as coffee. Some of its colorful facts and traditions make conversation pieces almost as stimulating as the beverage itself.

One Arabian legend relates that coffee came into use when it "got the goat" of a herdsman named Kaldi. He reported to the abbot of a monastery that his flock went into a fit of unusual dance after eating berries of a certain tree. When the abbot boiled the berries in water, he derived an exhilarating brew which helped his monks to stay awake during midnight prayers.

This meniscopic coffee ritual was the predecessor of the daily coffee.

For breakfast enjoyed by millions of American workers and housewives. In a survey among plant managers, 83% credited coffee breaks with a reduction in worker fatigue and 69% said they increased productivity.

Coffee has also been a factor in adventure and espionage. The famous Polish spy, Franciszek Smolenski, who saved Vienna from being taken by the first Viennese coffee house. As reward for his heroic exploits, including swimming the Danube several times to circumvent enemy lines, he was given sacks of green coffee abandoned by the fleeing Turks.

Today, you can find coffee houses in nearly every metropolis of Europe, many with their own history of famous patrons and epochal events. In England, Samuel Johnson established the Turk's Head coffee house which became a gathering place for artists and writers of his era. It is rumored that in the archives of the old Café Central in Paris, the gas there is an unpaid bill for a cup of black coffee - charged to Trotsky.

In the U.S., Boston's Green Dragon coffee house was called "the headquarters of the revolution" by Daniel Webster and the "throne of the patriots" by John Adams. In New York was the scene of Washington's presidential reception. A famous incident occurred at the Boston Tea Party, when John Hancock dressed as an Indian dumped British tea into the harbor to protest against the British coffee monopoly in this country. Today, Americans drink more than 50 million cups of coffee a day. In addition to its role as a beverage, history and literature, coffee - or the lack of it - has been the point of issue in the courtroom. In history, at one time, a husband's failure to provide coffee for his wife was held as evidence of neglect. In the case of the famous actress, Mrs. Barry, was among those who were wooed with gifts of coffee, and her husband's failure to provide coffee for his wife was held as evidence of neglect. In the case of the famous actress, Mrs. Barry, was among those who were wooed with gifts of coffee, and her husband's failure to provide coffee for his wife was held as evidence of neglect.

unusual force. To General Sherman, in his remarks on troop rations, it was "something to be carried along, even at the expense of bread." To the English clergyman and humorist Sydney Smith, it was "the intellectual beverage."

Name your favorite place of history and research will show where coffee has played a part. And, considering its popularity in America today, our largest imported commodity - the beverage will undoubtedly continue to be part of the background for memorable events.

about 30 minutes. Pour off drippings.

ings. Remove stems and seeds from green peppers. Cut peppers into 1-inch squares. Roll peppers 10 minutes in water to cover. Drain. Add green peppers and pineapple to meat. Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Mix together cornstarch, soy sauce, sugar, vinegar and pineapple juice. Cook, stirring constantly until clear, about 2 minutes. Pour over meat mixture; simmer 5 minutes. Serve over noodles or cooked rice, 4 servings.

For 4 to 6 servings of Hawaiian Pork you will need 2 pounds of boneless pork shoulder. Ask your meat retailer to cut the meat into 1-inch cubes. For the batter with which you coat the pork cubes before cooking them, combine 2 slightly beaten eggs with 4 tablespoons of flour, 1 teaspoon of salt and 1/4 teaspoon of pepper. Beat this mixture until it is well blended.

Then in a heavy frying-pan melt 6 tablespoons of lard or drippings. Next, dip the pork cubes into the egg-flour batter. Coat them thoroughly with the batter, then place them in the hot fat. You will want to turn the cubes frequently so they are well browned on all sides.

After they are browned, cover the meat closely and let it cook for 30 minutes. Be sure to keep the temperature low so the meat will not cook too rapidly.

While the meat is cooking you will want to prepare the green peppers. They are parboiled before being added to the meat. For this recipe you will need 3 large green peppers. Remove the stem and seeds first, then cut the peppers into 1-inch squares. Next, place the pepper squares in a saucepan and cover them with water. Let the peppers simmer for 10 minutes, then drain them.

Also at this time you will want to have ready 1 cup of drained pineapple chunks. When the pork cubes have cooked for the 30 minutes, remove the cover and pour off any drippings in the frying-pan. Then to the meat add the drained parboiled green pepper squares and the 1 cup of drained pineapple chunks. Again, cover the frying-pan and let the meat combination simmer over low heat for 10 minutes. Next, we prepare the sauce that adds such a unique flavor to this pork combination. Mix together 5 tablespoons of cornstarch and 5 tablespoons of soy sauce. To this add 1/4 cup of sugar, 1/4 cup of vinegar, and 1 cup of pineapple juice.

heat, stirring it constantly. Cook until it is clear. This will take only about 2 minutes. Then simply pour the sauce over the meat mixture in the frying-pan. Cover the meat again and let it slowly simmer 5 minutes longer.

In the meantime you can arrange the Chinese noodles on your serving platter or on the individual plates. Boiled rice may be used for this serving equally well. When cooked, spoon the Hawaiian Pork over the noodle rice.

Here is the Hawaiian Pork to grace your table. Hawaiian Pork is one of those "meals-in-a-dish". With it you need to serve only a salad. A combination that goes well is tomato slices topped with herb cottage cheese. You can often buy this herb cheese. Infact Seal-Test introduced it in this area last spring.

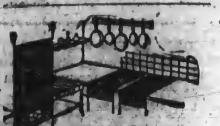

Your dessert can be fancy as you please. Meritque shells filled with ice cream and topped with strawberries. A meritque pie - or what ever you like. That's all for this week. Bye - Now!

Aluminum is the most plentiful non-ferrous metal in the world. It represents one-eighth of the earth's crust, but it is so intricately concealed that its existence eluded scientists until it was discovered in 1807 by Sir Humphrey Davy, British electro-chemist.

Notes from YOUR COUNTY AGENTBY E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.
PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENTImproved Muskies Aim Of Research

A tasty, disease-resistant improved muskies is the aim of breeding work at VPI Agricultural Experiment Station.

The researchers have a good starting point - the Ambrosia melon. The melon was developed in Virginia, the result of a natural cross in the field between unidentified winter-type melons. It is an excellent shipping variety and compares to the Honey Dew in flavor. However, it is extremely susceptible to powdery mildew. Horticulturists say if resistance to powdery mildew can be incorporated into the Ambrosia, it could become an important crop in Virginia.

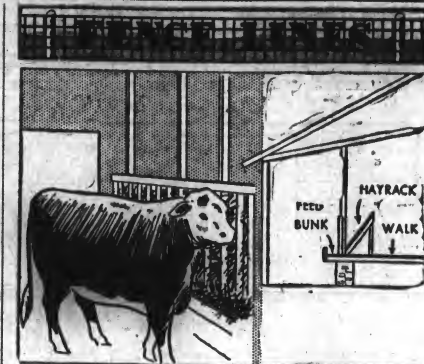

The project, which will probably take five years to complete, will be conducted by Dr. P. H. Massey, Jr., associate horticulturist, and J. D. Ashley, instructor in the horticultural department.

Agricultural Exposition at VPI

Final plans are being made for the third annual VPI Agricultural Exposition May 4 and 5.

The Exposition is a descendant of VPI's "Dairy Days" and "Little International Expositions," which for over three decades have drawn dairymen and livestock producers from throughout the state. The present-day Exposition combines the two earlier events, and has some added attractions of its own.

Activities include an agricultural convocation on Friday, May 4, a livestock sale, a barbecue, and several judging contests. A square dance on Friday night, and an agricultural ball and crowing of the Exposition "Queen" on Saturday night, will provide additional entertainment.

FEED RACK . . . Time, money and labor can be saved by building a feeding shed along the side of a barn. The feed rack can be built to handle hay, silage or grain. Vertical spacing of slats allow cattle to pull out only mouthful at a time.

At the livestock sale Saturday, 26 head of registered livestock produced by the college will be auctioned. The entire event is handled by agricultural students.

Programs covering all phases of the Exposition will be available by April 1. One new feature will be commercial exhibits. Space is being sold on a footage basis.

Information about the Exposition is available from W. B. Allison, Box 2599, VPI Station, Blacksburg, Allison, a VPI senior from Pulaski, is manager of this year's event.

Corn Hybrids Developed at VPI

They are VPI 426, VPI 648, and VPI 730W. Dr. C. F. Center, agronomist at VPI Agricultural Experiment Station, who developed the new hybrids in cooperation with VPI plant pathologists, says they have been tested at least three years at various substations in the state, and are believed to be better adapted than other situation hybrids of about the same maturity now recommended. They have good yields, standability, and resistance to leaf blight.

VPI 426 (formerly called Va. 126) already has received widespread favorable comment among farmers.

It was distributed through county agents in 82 counties last year for field demonstrations but seed will not be generally available until 1957. It is close relative of Ohio C-54 and is of about the same maturity. It has consistently out-yielded Ohio C-54 in all sections of the state, has been somewhat better in standability and grain quality, and is expected to replace that hybrid to a large extent.

VPI 648 (formerly called Va. 148) is closely related to and of about the same maturity as VPI 426. It is high yielding with standability. One distinct advantage Dr. Center says, is that seed can be produced easily in Virginia. It is eligible for recommendation throughout the state.

VPI 730W (formerly called Va. 803W), a new white hybrid, has yielded as well as and has had somewhat better quality than Indiana 750 in western and Piedmont tests. Indiana 750 has been one of the standard hybrids for those areas, but has sometimes given poor stands. VPI 730W has had an excellent record in the coastal plain area, equalling VPI 900W in yield and surpassing it in quality. It is about 10 days earlier than 900W and will be more widely adapted because of this.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

A college campus is attracting one out of every two Korea veterans training under the Korean GI Bill.

This 50-50 proportion marks a established trend from that distinguished by the World War II GI Bill, under which less than one-third of all veteran-trainees attended college.

These findings are part of a Veterans Administration study, just released, comparing trends of the fast-growing three-year-old Korean GI Bill with those of the 11-year-old World War II GI Bill, now approaching its end.

By the end of 1955, veterans who had taken Korean GI College training numbered two-thirds of a million, or 51 percent of the total of 1,300,000 veterans who have received all types of Korean GI Bill training.

College-trained World War II veterans, on the other hand, totaled more than 2,000,000 - a much lower proportion of the 7,800,000 who took all types of World War II GI training.

Following are other findings from the VA study:

The average Korea veteran probably will receive as much training as the average veteran of World War II - despite the fact that the Korea veterans cannot build up as much entitlement as their fellow-veterans of World War II were permitted by law to accumulate.

Based on experience to date, VA said Korea veterans are expected to use about two-thirds of their average available entitlement.

ment of 31 months - which would mean about 20 months.

World War II veterans averaged 40 months of GI entitlement, and used half of it - also 20 months.

The VA survey revealed a growing tendency for newly-discharged Korea veterans to begin GI training shortly after their return to civilian life, without wasting much time.

Do-It-Whose-Self?

Monk McCarthy's almost as good at publicity stunts as he is at servicing and repairing cars - which is pretty darned good.

His latest gimmick is a hand-bill titled: "Do-It-Yourself! Why Not Grease Your Own Car?" Then he fellows with two paragraphs about all the greases you'll need - the full set of wrenches, spray gun, grease gun, four jacks - the ability to work flat on your back with a face full of goo. And at the very end there's this line: "Or, if that's too much trouble, we'll do the job for 75¢."

From where I sit, I'll have to admit Monk's schemes attract attention. They often seem far-fetched to me, but he and I always had different opinions on how to run a business - just as we have different opinions about what's the best beverage. He likes hot tea - I prefer a glass of beer - which doesn't keep us from having a "smooth-running" friendship.

...with ever-hot water

from an ELECTRIC WATER HEATER

Plenty of luxurious hot water for baths, dishwashing, household cleaning . . . even on washday! That's how it is when you have the right size electric water heater in your home.

You never give it a thought! Because a modern electric water heater is fully automatic. It stores an ample supply of hot water always in its insulated tank. Then the moment any water is drawn, it starts heating to keep up the supply. You need never give cost a thought either, because . . .

It costs only pennies a day to operate an electric water heater. Even less on a thrifty, off-peak meter. Choose a table-top heater that gives you extra kitchen work surface . . . or a space-saving upright model for basement or service room. See them both at your Electric Appliance Dealer's.

The Search For Bridie Murphy
By
Morey Bernstein
Pub. by Doubleday & Co.
1956 — 256 pages — $3.75
Reviewed by Hugh Lynn Cayce

The New York Times of February 19 lists The Search for Bridie Murphy as third on the best-seller list of non-fiction.

Spoke of 70,000 copies sold and another 100,000 printing. It has been reported that it has been already purchased for a movie with one of the outstanding directors in charge of its production. The Hearst newspapers have published the entire book serially throughout the country. The February issue of "True Magazine" carried a condensed version of the book. Many network radio and television programs in the past five weeks have mentioned Bridie Murphy. Recently Art Linkletter's "House Party" carried a film presentation of a hypnotized reported supposedly being taken back to a past life.

It might be that "The Search for Bridie Murphy" began in Virginia Beach. Morey Bernstein, the author of this current best-seller came to Virginia Beach to track down the stories he had read about Edgar Cayce in There Is A River by Thomas Sugrue and Many Mansions by Gina Cerninara. He describes his reaction to these books as follows:

"Although I didn't know it then, picking up these books was a signal for the beginning of a new phase in my life. It was an act that ultimately forced me to dig into fields that I had always regarded as ridiculously out of bounds."

After reading several of the more than 1500 Edgar Cayce readings which suggest that reincarnation is a fact, Mr. Bernstein tried regressing one of his best hypnotic subjects to a past life and discovered Bridie Murphy, born in 1798 in Cork, Ireland. The hypnotic sessions were tape recorded, and a remarkable number of details from this life have been verified.

Bridie Murphy is neither a queen nor a courtesan. She is a very "average" person, but we predict that you will enjoy getting acquainted with her.

In the opening section of the book, the author relates the story of his introduction to hypnosis and recounts some of his early experiments. He then traces his numerous attempts to get himself hypnotized. It turns out that he is a difficult subject. At this point the reader can answer the author's question as to why he cannot be hypnotized. He is thinking and moving too fast to take anyone's suggestions to go to sleep.

Knowing the author, this proved to be an interesting action for me. More tried drugs, shock therapy and asphyxiation, none of which seemed to put him in "a mood" to be hypnotized.

Experiments in hypnosis inevitably led him to psychic experiences and to Dr. Joseph B. Rhine's work at Duke University. The section on the work at Duke is a fine piece of interpretative reporting. Then came reincarnation and Bridie Murphy.

In our opinion, you will find this an exciting experience in reading. The language of the book is "down to earth", clear and crisp. The story moves at a fast pace (it has to, keep up with Morey Bernstein). Throughout there is a delightful thread of humor and constant sense of the dramatic.

The book is like opening a door on a room packed with unwrapped parcels. Each one cries out to be opened. There are dozens of new ideas and many questions arise in a reader's mind.

Hypnosis is, of course, a well-recognized system of therapy used by psychologists and psychiatrists. It has had varying degrees of recognition since it was dramatically demonstrated by Frederick Mesmer. In other words, for the skeptical reader, hypnosis is a fact — a doorway into an area of the mind not yet completely explored.

What, then, are the possible answers to Bridie Murphy? We are limited, it would seem, to four possible explanations. From these you can take your choice:

1. The whole affair could be a hoax. It would have been possible for the subject, Ruth Simmons, working with Morey Bernstein to have concocted the whole story. For anyone who knows Morey Bernstein, the explanation is ridiculous. He has written a straightforward, honest account of an experiment. The tape recordings and the witnesses involved make such a possibility practically untenable.

2. The explanation which will be given by most psychologists and psychiatrists is that this whole story has been fabricated in the deeper recesses of Ruth Simmons's subconscious. Somewhere in childhood she read a book about Ireland and picked up the name Bridie Murphy. In going back over childhood experiences, she ran into this deep-seated memory which has been completely covered up. The mind, as it will do, in making up a story, pieced together these forgotten bits of information on Ireland, and under Morey Bernstein's suggestions evolved the whole story of Bridie Murphy. The psychologist and psychiatrist will point out that it was only by coincidence and chance that some of the general details of the story have been checked, and that such details might well have been a part of the book or play which Ruth Simmons originally read. This will be for most readers the easiest and most convenient explanation. Most people will accept it in order not to be disturbed. For if either of the other possibilities is true, a considerable rearrangement of ideas, and we might say, prejudices, will have to be made.

3. For many people who believe in spiritualism, the most logical explanation will be the idea that Ruth Simmons was simply a medium acting for a disembodied spirit. In other words, Bridie

Murphy actually lived in Cork, Ireland, and died as she described it. It is this Bridie Murphy, a disincarnate entity, who did speak through Ruth Simmons and gave all of the details which are described in the book. Detailed information of this kind is quite common in books dealing with spiritualistic phenomena. Both the British and American Societies for Psychical Research have investigated many such stories.

4. But this is not what Bridie Murphy says about herself. On which are given in detail in the book. Ruth Simmons, speaking in an Irish brogue states that this is a past-life experience. The Edgar Cayce readings seem to provide complementary data in examining this hypothesis. The purpose for giving each of the Edgar Cayce readings was to assist the individual in understanding some talent which he had not uncovered. The psychologist, Gina Cerninara, has pointed out in her book, Many Mansions, the results of a number of individuals having followed such directions, which are interesting and in many cases startling.

The Association for Research and Enlightenment, which is preserving and studying the Edgar Cayce records, is interested in making such data and experiments the basis for further re-

Rev. C. Stanley Lowell

Lowell Leaving Church Pulpit End Of March

Rev. C. Stanley Lowell, Pastor of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church for the past two years, has announced that he will leave his post at the end of March. Rev. Lowell will assume new duties April 1 in Washington, D. C. as Associate Director of Protestant and Other Americans United for the Separation of Church and State. He will receive appointment to the post by Bishop Paul N. Garber and will continue as a member of the Virginia Conference.

Rev. Lowell will preach his final sermon to the congregation on Easter Sunday, April 1. Mrs. Lowell will continue her usual lovely contralto voice in the choir and will sing "Amen" at both the 11 A. M. services.

Commenting on his new duties, Rev. Lowell said: "I have been deeply interested in POAV throughout the eight years of its existence and have devoted considerable time and thought to its activities. Its concern for religious liberty and for its companion principle, the separation of church and state, is a concern I deeply share. As a churchman and as an American I count it a privilege to devote the next years of my life to this significant service."

Rev. and Mrs. Lowell and their son, Hadley, will move out of the church parsonage on 22nd St. during the week of April 1.

Supreme Court Sets New Trial In Libel Suit

A $100,000 libel suit against the Princess Anne Free Press and its publisher, J. W. Dunn, has been returned to the lower court for a new trial as result of a decision by the State Supreme Court reversing an earlier decision in the case, according to a news release from Richmond on Monday.

The case is one in which Mrs. Emma Sue Saleeby sued Free Press, Inc. and J. Wilcox Dunn, its owner, publishers of the Princess Anne Free Press, charging common law libel and violation of the insulting words statute. The answer to the plaintiff's motion asserted that the printed statement complained of was a true statement of a matter of public concern.

The trial was heard in the Norfolk Law and Chancery Court and the jury found in favor of the defendants. The court overruled a motion to set aside the verdict and over the objection of Mrs. Saleeby's counsel judgment was entered on the jury's findings.

The published item complained of Mrs. Saleeby had named her as one of the operators of the Pioneer Club and made reference to the club's operations.

The Supreme Court's opinion by Justice Kennon C. Whitte upheld Mrs. Saleeby's allegations of error in the lower court's granting of certain defense instructions to the jury.

Mrs. Saleeby asked for $100,000 damages against the two defendants.

BPW Dinner On March 13th

Nominations for the Woman of Outstanding Accomplishment of Princess Anne County closed on March 6, and have been placed in the hands of the Selection Committee, three outstanding citizens of the Beach and County. The Committee's choice will be announced at the Biennial Public Affairs Dinner of the Business and Professional Women's Club to be held at the Princess Anne Country Club on March 13 at 7 P. M.

The Woman of Outstanding Accomplishment for 1955 will be the honored guest and will be presented a citation by Mrs. Mary Devereaux of Norfolk and Public Affairs Chairman of the Virginia Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. Other guests will include Mrs. Louise Hooper Ewell, the Woman of Outstanding Accomplishment for 1954; Mrs. Emma V. de Belle Haven, District Director of the Virginia Federation; and members of the Selection Committee.

Invitations have been issued to all Business and Professional Women's Clubs in the Sixth District and to the outstanding women's organizations of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County. The public is cordially invited to attend. Reservations must be made by March 9 with Mrs. Jack Gibbs, Oceana, Virginia, or by calling telephone 2702.

Special music is being arranged by Mr. J. William Miller, Director of Music at Virginia Beach High School.

County Man Gets Driving Award

Herbert A. Moore, civilian transportation worker at PAIDCO, Dam Neck, was recently presented the United States Navy Ten Year Safe Driver Award. Captain E. A. Barham, Commanding Officer, made the presentation. Mr. Moore first started work at Dam Neck on the seventh of September 1943 in Security. He transferred to transportation two years later.

Mr. Moore has never had an accident while driving either in the Navy or otherwise. His formula for success is "to obey all traffic rules" and "to be careful." Mr. Moore resides with his wife and eight children at Route No. 1, Box 1274, Princess Anne, Va.

Walter Beckett Passes; Death Widely Mourned

Walter Beckett

Walter Beckett, well known sportsman and Virginia Beach resident, died Monday at his home on Pocahontas Drive after an illness of four months. He was 69 years old.

Beckett was a golfer by profession and just prior to his illness had been professional at the Aero-Pines Golf course at the Oceana Naval Air Station.

He also served as professional at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club succeeding Al Houghton in 1937. Before that he was professional at Cedarhurst, N. J., and the Country Club of Virginia in Richmond.

He learned the art of making golf clubs at Baltusrol Golf Club at Springfield, N. J. Beckett became pro at the old Norfolk Golf Club in 1915, and in 1927 he was named professional at the 18-hole Truxton Manor, a course he supervised and directed the construction.

As a club maker, Beckett was outstanding in his profession. He developed many stars in the Tidewater area.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Daisy Claire Beckett, two daughters, Mrs. Louise B. Oliver, and Mrs. Peter J. Dorson of Virginia Beach; a son, Lt. Col. Walter H. Beckett, Jr., of Baltimore, Md.; five brothers, Harold H. Beckett of Atlanta, Ga.; John H. Beckett of Brielle, N. J.; Thomas A. Beckett of Seattle, Wash.; Perry Beckett of Chicago, and James Beckett of South Orange, N. J.; and three grandchildren.

Red Cross Off To Slow Start In Fund Drive

The drive for funds by the Princess Anne Chapter of the American Red Cross has started slowly because of a misunderstanding on the part of many people of this area. Some have said they believed they were contributing to Red Cross during a package drive last fall. This was not the case.

The need for funds is so great because of so many serious emergencies last year; it was deemed advisable to conduct a separate campaign which is being held during the entire month of March.

A spokesman for the local chapter has said "Everybody has some gripe against somebody or something, but when you take Red Cross as a whole and in its true perspective nobody does so much in time of real need and everybody is Red Cross. It is hoped that when our citizens attend the church of their choice this weekend, they will realize how much has been done for them by God and others be humbly grateful that they have not needed the services of Red Cross because of a great disaster and be willing to dig just a little deeper into their pockets to enable Red Cross to carry on the work of helping when and where help is needed."

The goal for the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Chapter is $18,500 and the drive will continue thru April 4.

First Aid Course Is Red Cross Unit Project

The purpose of first aid training is to acquire knowledge and skills for the emergency care of the injured until a physician arrives, and to create an active interest in the prevention of accidents through the elimination of causes.

The changes in the textbook methods result not alone from scientific advances in the laboratory and at the bedside, but also from observations of general first aid work and the results in civilian and military experiences.

Every person should have a knowledge of proper first aid procedures. First, because there is a normal desire to help when accidents occur. Second, it has been well established that people who have received first aid training are more safety-conscious than those who have no knowledge of the subject. Third, the first aid program creates a large group of people prepared to give help in the event of an accident or a disaster.

To further the policy of National Red Cross in sponsoring first aid in time of Peace as well as war, the Princess Anne - Virginia Beach chapter of the American Red Cross under the chairmanship of Mrs. Orian M. Avert has trained since January 1955, 172 boys and girls in the Junior first aid, 90 adults in standard first aid, 65 adults in advanced first aid and has a staff of fifteen qualified instructors.

We are so grateful to our staff of fine instructors who have given their time to such a wonderful work for the people of our community. They are as follows: Mrs. Joe Miller, Miss Carol Jerod, Mrs. Annie Bunting, Mr. Scott Panton, Mrs. C. G. Pool, Mrs. Mary Fritch, Mrs. Ruth Brubaker, Dr. Howard Kahn, David Stormont, 111 East Rattlesack, Lannie Woodford, Jack Murry, C. D. Hebron, Mr. Gaylord, and Orian M. Avert.

Those interested in taking a standard course please contact Mrs. Avert, tel. 2647W or 936 and leave your names.

Bids Asked

The opening of bids on two phases of the Virginia Beach Erosion Commission beach maintenance work will be held on Wednesday, March 14. It has been announced. Originally the bids were to have been opened on Wednesday, March 7.

Bids will be on the cost of dredging equipment that may be purchased by the commission and the other is on contract dredging to supply the beach 100,000 cubic yards of sand annually for a period of three years.

The dredging equipment bids will be opened in the offices of Marvin Sturgeon Engineers at one o'clock next Wednesday afternoon, and the dredging bids will be opened that afternoon in the city council chambers at three o'clock.

Jubilee Committee Issues Call For Period Fashions

Old Styles Are Needed For The Easter Parade On April 1st

S. O. S! Have you an Empress Eugenie hat in your attic? Or a Vernet blouse? A flapper outfit? Or a hobble skirt? Or high button shoes? Any outfit, or part of an outfit, which might have been worn in an Easter parade — by man, woman, or child — any time between 1900 and 1949?

If so, Virginia Beach needs your help — for the Golden Jubilee celebration. There will be an Easter parade on the boardwalk Easter Sunday April 1st.

Leading the spontaneous parade of current fashions representative fashions of the turn-of-the-century period between 1900 and 1910 are wanted — the period of World War I — the roaring 20s — the fabulous 30s — World War II — complete with period baby buggies, parasols, fans, walking sticks, shoes, hats and other accessories.

What's more, really representative fashions are wanted — not costumes, but authentic wearing apparel in good condition, reflecting the past glories of our own Tidewater area.

Anything you lend will be treated with utmost care, returned carefully — and names of lenders will receive grateful credit, unless anonymity is desired.

Search out your attic, look in your trunks and closets. If there is anything there, which did grace or could have graced an Easter Boardwalk parade anywhere in those dear bygone days from 1900 to 1949 — and which was worn one more good walk in 1956 — please call Mrs. Harvey Williams at LOVELL 5232, or Mrs. W. J. Dickens, at VIRGINIA BEACH 1810. M. The Parade is being sponsored by the Princess Anne County Woman's Club and the Princess Anne Junior Women's Club.

TELEPHONE AS SOON AS YOU CAN!

All articles of clothing must be with Mrs. Williams or Mrs. Dickens by March 15th — in time to be sorted out, assembled for the models who will wear them (men, women, and children), photographed, and readied up.

The Easter Parade is a big thing for our Golden Jubilee. Hurry, Hurry, Hurry! You may have in your own attic the very thing which will be the biggest hit in "The Fifty Years of Fashion Review" — the first part of the Easter Boardwalk Parade.

It was announced that anyone interested in joining the movement could contact Mrs. Quentin Owens at 3798; Howard Parks at 1746; or Robert Cherry at 1524.

The East Carolina College choir, of Greenville, N. C., now on its annual spring tour, will be presented March 14 at 10 a.m. at the Princess Anne High School and on March 14 at 2 p.m. at the Virginia Beach High School. On Tuesday, March 13 the choir will appear on television in Norfolk.

Son Of Great Athlete In U. S. Army At Ft. Story

The youngest son of one of the greatest all round athletes this country has ever known was the 500th graduate from a continuous course in operation and maintenance of the amphibious truck conducted at Ft. Story.

Ft. John B. Thorpe, spoke quickly after the ceremony March 2 as he told what he remembered about his father, the now almost legendary late "Indian Jim" Thorpe.

As with most conversations about the Thorpe, this one revolved around the tragedy that occurred when "Big Jim" had to give back the medals and trophies he won in the 1913 Olympics after he was charged with "professionalism."

"Dad was prouder of his Olympic performances than anything else he ever did," John said.

John wasn't hesitant about telling how his father thought he was cheated when he had to give back the awards he won in the Olympics.

"Dad never denied he played ball before the Olympics for a little semi-pro baseball team in North Carolina," he said. "But he never really got any money for it."

John said he understood that amounts to about six dollars a week these days.

At this point John advanced an idea he said his family has had for a long time.

A BARC, the huge wheeled amphibious vehicle which has proved itself so versatile in operations at and away from this Cape Henry post, helped the Navy put eight medium tanks ashore at Bloodworth Island near Chincoteague, Va., Feb. 27 to March 2.

The trip was very probably the last for the tanks, salvage vehicles once used by the Marine Corps. The Navy planned to use them as realistic targets for its five-inch guns.

The BARC was used with conventional Navy landing craft to put the tanks ashore because it was believed island waters off Bloodworth Island might keep the landing craft away from the beach. The BARC uses its wheels to crawl over off-shore obstacles.

Two Fort Story Officers traveled to a Norfolk high school Feb. 29 to give students in a senior physics class a technical explanation of the DUKW.

1st Lt. Joseph G. Farrell and 2nd Lt. Charles E. Kendi visited James Farrell's class and used charts, still pictures and motion picture to back up their instruction on what the DUKW is and what it can do.

Lieutenant Farrell is adjutant of the 10th Battalion. He has been working with the DUKW for nearly four years at Fort Story. Lieutenant Kendi is maintenance officer of the 10th Battalion.

Mr. Farrell is well acquainted with Lieutenant Farrell's knowledge of amphibious vehicles. He and the lieutenant are twins.

Three Soldiers at this post have been recognized for making suggestions that will save the Army money and time.

Sgt. William D. Harris received a letter of commendation and a three-day pass from Fort Story Post Commander Col. George E. Woods, Jr., for suggesting the use of shopping carts to gather small items from bins in the Ordnance warehouse. Harris' idea saves an estimated $2,800 a year.

PFC Harold J. Bean and Pvt. D. C. Isaacs received letters of appreciation and three-day passes for suggestions.

Bean submitted a plan for more efficient use of certain forms. The idea saves approximately 250 man-hours annually.

Isaacs suggested installation of a buzzer system in the Post Chaplain's office. The device facilitates work of the Chaplain's assistants by providing an easy, quick way of notifying either Chaplain when he is wanted. The system saves an estimated $375 a year.

NEW S3 for the 1st Battalion is Capt. George G. Hendrickson, formerly commanding officer of the 558th Transportation Company. Captain Hendrickson replaces Capt. Santo La Verde, who is on a temporary duty assignment at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Top Man in a class of 26 graduating from the 57th course in "Operation and Maintenance of the Amphibious Truck" March 2 was Pvt. Charles R. Vest. Private Vest had a final average of 93.3 for the eight-week course. The course is conducted by the 461st Transportation Company's 5th Training Company.

Fort Story's "Soldier of the Month" for March is PFC Norvin E. Powell, III. Powell is a member of Headquarters Detachment, 576th Transportation Battalion.

Two projects sponsored by the Ft. Story Officers' Wives Club materialized March 1 when Col. George E. Woods, Jr., post commander, attended the opening of the installation's first "full time" nursery and a thrift shop.

The nursery, to be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, will be operated by Mrs. Lilly C. Smith of Virginia Beach. Chairman of the Officers' Wives nursery committee is Mrs. Alfred R. Campbell.

The thrift shop, which has been stocked with a variety of items within reach of the tightest budget, will be operated by members of the Officers' Wives Club.

Co-chairmen of the thrift shop committee are Mrs. Joseph G. Friedrich and Mrs. Joseph J. Carfagno. Mrs. William C. Condon is cashier, Mrs. Herman Nadler is secretary and Mrs. Patrick E. O'

Briene is Bookkeeper. Mrs. Harry V. Hobbs and Mrs. Milton L. Yegault are members of the committee.

Fort Story's post bowlers came within two games of first place in the Hampton Roads Inter-Service Bowling League last week as they topped the Atlantic Reserve Fleet, 3-1. They are presently tied for third, their only loss being to the front-running Norfolk Naval Air Station squad by a 4-0 margin.

Story's John Gore rolled a 589 series to lead his mates in the win over the Reserve Fleet.

Story's red-hot intramural basketball league has a clear-cut leader for the first time this season as the result of a game played last week. The 461st DUKW Company and Headquarters Terminal Command "B", previously tied for top honors with identical 7-0 records, met head-on in a battle that saw the 461st Baracudas topple their bitter rivals into second place with a low-scoring 35-29 win.

The hard-fought battle between the two traditional enemies was marked by savage floor play as four shots accounted for much of the scoring.

The score at halftime was 23-15 in favor of the 461st. The defensive battle intensified in the second half as the Baracudas were able to score only one field goal and Headquarters Company hit on from Jim said, as John put it, "We can't take them. They belong to Jim Thorpe."

"So," Jim's son added, "the medals are in a museum in Sweden, where they're really not doing anybody any good. Our family would like to have them so we can place them next to dad's body at Jim Thorpe, Pa. We think that would make him very happy."

In short, the Thorpe family would like to see a tribute paid to Jim in death that never could be paid him while he was alive.

Jim Thorpe died March 28, 1953, at the age of 33. He was buried in a small town in Pennsylvania that has been named after him.

John, who is 18, said admiringly of his dad that he looks much like Jim did at the same age. That would mean that when he was 18, Jim Thorpe was five feet 10 inches tall and weighed 173 pounds. John noted that family records show Jim didn't really start to grow until he was about 20. In his prime, the Indian athlete was six feet three inches tall and weighed 185 pounds.

only four shots from the floor.

The Baracudas' Channie Parrish led the scoring pace with 14 points. Jayce Sprecker topped the losers with 13.

Princess Anne Woman's Club To Meet On 13th

The Women's Club of Princess Anne County will meet on Tuesday, March 13 at the Pine Tree Inn. A book review will be given by Mrs. Marden Waters at 11:15, prior to the luncheon. Members and guests are urged to be present. The book is entitled "A Prophet in the Wilderness" by Herman Hageborn. Mrs. Waters is President of the Women's Club of Norfolk.

Mrs. Grayson Willis announces the program will be under the direction of Mrs. Foster Gilbert, chairman of the Department of Safety. Mrs. Gilbert will have as guest speaker, Mr. Douglas Hubbard, Safety Engineer of The Norfolk Naval Base. Mr. Gilbert is an authority in traffic and safety in the Tidewater Area.

The guest soloist will be Mrs. R. W. Hayward. She will be accompanied by Mrs. George Aldridge, pianist.

Mrs. George C. Manson of Va. Beach and Mrs. Frank Kellam of Princess Anne Court House will represent the Club as delegates on March 15th at the Tidewater District meeting at the Nansemond Hotel.

Vidor, through his attorney, Richard G. Brydges, said he would appeal the sentences and a $250 appeal bond was set. The case was heard by Judge E. V. Gresham.

Vidor's worries were not over as he left the courtroom. Two Princess Anne County policemen were waiting with another warrant which charged possession of slot machines, according to Attorney Robert S. Walsh, Jr.

At the trial, testimony showed that Vidor was the lessee and also contracted for electrical services at 1906 Cypress Avenue, where raiding police found 76 slot machines, a portion of which were the interior mechanisms only.

Sgt. R. K. Halstead testified that he put a nickel in one of the machines and it paid off 15 cents on his first try. Police had to force their way into the building on the right of the raid, according to Halstead.

On the second establishment which was raided — a small warehouse across the street — Halstead testified that there were no slot machines which would operate but that there were several mechanical parts and shells. Two of them were introduced as evidence.

In 70 years time, the average person's heart (1-250 horsepower rating) generates enough energy to lift the battleship Missouri about 15 feet.

There are about 300,000 American children "on the loose" (having run away from home) most any day of the year.

Bird Neck Club Shown Film

The parallel between English and Norfolk gardens was illustrated by vivid color slides by Mr. Richard S. Orr, a prominent seed distributor, when the Bird Neck Point Garden Club held its regular meeting last week at the home of Mrs. R. S. Cramer.

By use of the slides, Mr. Orr showed the English and American ways of using canna's, geraniums, stock, roses and asters; also the difference between the formal and informal gardens. Mr. Orr had taken the English pictures on a recent trip abroad while the ones of private Norfolk gardens had been snapped last Spring.

Mrs. R. H. Owens, of Oceana, Virginia, is the new sponsor of Alpha Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Mrs. Owens is the wife of R. H. Owens, a prominent figure in the public school system of Princess Anne County, and has been most active in the civic affairs of said county.

Visits Mission

The eighth grade Sunday School class of Callee Episcopal Church, headed by Mrs. Paul Maestas and Mr. Al Palmer, visited St. Stephen's Episcopal mission on Sunday, February 26, 1956. The mission is located in Landdale, outside of Norfolk, Virginia.

The Reverend Spencer Williams greeted the class as they arrived for the 11 o'clock service. The class visited the mission in conjunction with their study of missions, ways a mission gets started, and the difference between a mission and a city church.

Those who went on the field trip are: Kathryn Dunlap; Beverly Kennett; Peter McKennett; Harry Robertshaw; Latinee Sallee; Claudy Tucker; Anne Warwick; Tony Williams, and Randy Zehmer. Transportation was provided by Mrs. Paul Maestas and Mrs. Lynn Kennett. Mr. Al Palmer also accompanied the group.

Shirts for daring men are now offered in such colors as ambrosia apricot, Adriatic blue, Genoa lemon, Milona melon, California gold and peach.

Time To Prepare

The springlike weather we have been experiencing does not necessarily herald an early spring and it can be expected that we will still have some cold weather and some wet weather, but it has brought out the paint and brushes which is a good sign.

Virginia Beach is approaching another tourist season and there has been much improvement shown up and down the beachfront. There is still much to be done and as we approach mid-March it would be well for each and everyone in business here to take inventory and to prepare for the season ahead.

All signs point to a good season this year with only that ever-present element the weather-lurking in the shadows. If Mother Nature smiles on us this year and gives us a good season of weather it should develop into one of the best resort seasons in many years.

When we advertise and invite people from all over the Nation to our community for a vacation we should be prepared to care for them in every way. First of all we should put our best foot forward and make our establishments as attractive to the eye as is possible.

It is a good time to get out the hammers, nails, paint and brushes and give Virginia Beach a new, fresh look for the season that is just around the corner.

Highly Successful Season

Even though the Virginia Beach High School Seahawk basketball team fell before their arch-rival, Churchland, in the finals of the tournament held last week at the Princess Anne High School, Coach Isaacs and his team can well be proud of the record they established on the hardwood this season. The community and area is proud of their accomplishments.

While the members of the team and their Coach, no doubt, felt the sting of defeat very keenly last Saturday night since a win would have meant a berth in the State tournament now underway, they, nonetheless, were crowned champions of District One, Group Two for the regular season. In winning the championship during the regular season the Seahawks defeated and dethroned the same Churchland team that whipped them last Saturday. The championship triumph during the regular season broke a string of four straight titles for Churchland.

District play in both football and basketball has practically developed into a two-way battle between Virginia Beach and Churchland and the athletic teams of these two schools have provided many a thrill for the fans over the past few years.

The Virginia Beach Seahawk basketball team can well be proud of its splendid record this year and can look back on its loss in the finals to Churchland as one of those things that invariably catches up with the best teams or performers in sports. It is probably a good reason that sports of all types are popular with the American public.

Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County is proud of the Seahawks at all times, whether it be in victory or defeat. Our congratulations to Coach Isaacs, the players and the school for a most successful basketball season.

Walter Rae Beckett

The death of Walter Rae Beckett last Monday at his Virginia Beach home has saddened the hearts of many who knew this beloved individual as a friend, neighbor and sportsman.

Walter Beckett was well known throughout the State and in many areas of the Nation. He was outstanding in his profession which was the ancient game of golf. He was an expert in teaching the game and he developed his talents as a clubmaker that gained him further fame in the sports world.

He was a good citizen and took much pride in his community and the area which he chose to make his home for the past 18 years. He was an honorable man who carried his virtue into every phase of his busy, productive life.

Walter Beckett's greatest contribution came in the form of his influence on the game of golf in this area. The game of golf was his love; his life and devoted his great store of energy to its improvement and development. Along the way he helped establish many fine players and as he did he imparted a spirit of true sportsmanship into these players which Walter Beckett always considered the most important part of any sport.

His loss is a great one to his many friends and to his community. Our heartfelt sympathy is with his fine family and they might take consolation in the fact that his contributions during his lifetime will always keep him with us in our memory.

Surf Queens Win Seasons Finale

The Virginia Beach Surf Queens, playing their last game of the regular season defeated the Bennie's Drive-In team from Petersburg 52-28 on the Fort Story Court last Sunday.

Topsey Dahn, the Queens' six foot center hit for 25 points and Charlotte Marshall continued her play of the last several games and tossed in 10 points. Barbara Kernan and Dahn continued the backboards for the locals.

Jane Haxton a 5'2" speedster led the way for the visitors with 10 points.

The Surf Queens will enter the State Women's A.A.U. Tournament in Richmond this week-end. They have drawn the Virginia Dairies team of the host city, who recently won the City League title there.

The Surf Queens won the Con-Competition Prize in last year's Tourney. John Tucker is coaching the Queens in their second season of play.

An Address On "Interposition"

by R. L. Woodward, Jr.

(The following article is an address recently delivered before the Virginia Beach Rotary Club by R. L. Woodward, Jr., former Mayor of the City of Norfolk, Virginia. It is reprinted in the public interest with the view that it may help clear up the matter of "Interposition" for many of our readers.)

I have no special competence on the subject assigned me which is said to be a legal matter and by some people, to be indefinable. However, I have always believed that law is not law simply because it is written. Law rests upon two simple factors: the first being common sense and the other the will of the people. Otherwise, there can be no law that can be effective.

The problem that confronts us is probably the most serious problem that has confronted us in our life and, potentially, can be the most serious problem to confront us during the rest of our existence. The problem transcends the matter of "Segregation or Interposition" which impelled the problem. The problem is national, and its solution is a vital to any or all of the States as it is to us because it involves the structure of the kind of government under which we shall live.

Now who precipitated the matter that brought on the problem? It had been a peaceful matter for some 80-odd years, and evolving events would have kept it peaceful had it not been for politicians whose greed for votes allowed them to debate their character by advocating a cause in which they had no heart or belief, and from which, in social practice, they had, and still do, hold themselves aloof. For misdirected preachers pleading the fallacious ministerial doctrine of the equality and brotherhood of man, for professional educators seeking federal aid to education through their parent organization, the National Education Association, for crackpot liberals and dog-gooders and communists contributing to and prodding the N.A.A.C.P.—all aided by a type of journalism distorting events out of proportion to failed to score.

The game broke wide open in the second period after Virginia Beach gained a two point lead. The Truckers went on a 10-point scoring spree and were never headed after that.

their importance, misleading the people and violating the ethics of the profession, until the President of the United States called for the aid of segregation, forthwith, in the District of Columbia, bringing in the blacks and running out the whites; and a Kremlin-like Supreme Court, with their ears and minds attuned to the election returns, emancipated the historic interpretation of the 14th Amendment, by former, more learned courts, and made an erroneous political decision that sanctioned a more erroneous social decree, gathered from the books of psychologists and psychiatrists, every one of whom were under suspicion by the Department of Justice and the Attorney General's office as being fellow travelers in Russian philosophy. Both decision and decree were subversive of the right, interests, and liberties of the people, and invasive of the rights reserved to the States in the Constitution.

And there, gentlemen, is where, through the medium of our accredited representatives legally assembled in the historic legislative halls of the Mother of States, the State that "initiated the Constitutional Convention, whose delegates wrote the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, and the State of Religious Liberty and were most influential in writing the Constitution itself— we, in all of the dignity traditional to this great Commonwealth, stop to inquire, interpose, to determine the background of many of the Supreme Court did illegally invade the rights reserved to the States and that such invasion is against the will of the people who, in the pride and jealousy of their sovereignty in the several States of the Union, will demand, through appropriate means, that the Congress plainly out limitations upon the Court and preserve our form and concept of government from further illegal and unwarranted attempts of the Court to amend the Constitution. Otherwise, we may have created a "Frankenstein," destroying the very freedom we, in the perfection of our governmental process, thought we had achieved.

Now, what is the historical approach to government in the Western Tradition? The search for individual freedom and personal security. It has been a difficult task, and the history of the Western World shows that most of its upheavals have been in the search for the maximum amount of freedom along with the minimum amount of security consistent with order.

Man realized that complete freedom would result in anarchy and complete security would result in slavery and direct his every act toward the preservation of the State which he sought to achieve his goal.

I do not believe we will be pushed aside, and I shall attempt to provide you with the background of "Interposition" with the hope that you and all others to whom I shall address these remarks, shall be loyal to a historic philosophy almost as old as our Government itself. It will not fail if you are loyal and resolute. If it does fail, we may as well abandon our State borders and our State Constitutions, and become so many wards of a dictatorial, autocratic and centralized authority.

Now, what is "Interposition"? Robert Whitehead, the delegate from Nelson County, call "Nullification" and "Fantasy"? It is just what the word implies. It is a position in between the decision of the Supreme Court and our idea of the Sovereignty of the States and rights reserved to them as the "Bill of Rights," being the 10th Amendment of the "Constitution." It is a waiting period, through orderly processes, to establish the legality or illegality of the Court's decision. Don't forget that it is to the people, under Article 10 of What are these precedents? Let me seek to establish them.

In 1765, the British Government wrote rules for the governance of the "Colonies," such as the Stamp Act, the Sugar Act, etc. The rules were considered onerous and burdensome by the Colonies, and there was a great deal of agitation, tension, and rebellion on account of these rules, and many speeches about "taxation without representation." At this time, Patrick Henry made his famous speech, "Give me liberty or give me death." With conditions steadily deteriorating, the Colonies, on July 4, 1776, said, "We are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States, specifying all rights that would naturally accrue to a sovereign nation as reserved to each State, such as the right to levy war, etc. The Revolutionary War ensued. In 1782, the British Government, having been defeated, acknowledged the independence of the Colonies, not collectively, but individually, as independent States, and named and denominated each one separately, relinquishing all rights, claims, interests, and properties therein.

In 1787, the State of Virginia issued a Constitution in convention with the hope of overcoming some of the imperfections of the Articles of Confederation existing between the various States. The first one, held at Annapolis, Md., had an insufficient number of delegates present to accomplish the objectives. So Virginia called the 17th Convention, which met in Philadelphia with George Washington presiding. Seventy-four delegates were appointed to this Convention. Sixteen did not attend; nine refused to go, one of whom was James Madison who later expressed his regret for not attending; Patrick Henry refused because he thought it to be a trap. The Convention met secretly in May 14, 1787, and the draft of the Constitution was not completed and sent to the various States for ratification until September, 1787. It was extremely difficult of ratification, twenty heavily passing some States, and it was not ratified by North Carolina until May, 1788, and by Rhode Island until November, 1790. During all of this time, both States operated as separate and sovereign Nations, not affiliated with the Union. The people were charged about and disarmed, but the Bill of Rights was written to clarify the instrument and was adopted as the first 10 Amendments to the Constitution in December, 1791.

In 1792, South Carolina entered a claim against the State of Georgia. Georgia refused the claim and interposed against the decision of the Supreme Court, and in 1795 the 11th Amendment was added to the Constitution spelling out the fact that no State could have an action against another. In 1798, Congress enacted three laws known as the Alien and Sedition Acts. The first gave authority to deport all aliens dangerous to the peace, etc., of the Nation. The second authorized the confinement of all aliens 14 years old and over. The third made it a crime punishable by fine and imprisonment for anyone, by the spoken or written word, to reflect discredit upon the Congress or the President of the United States. This third act stirred Mr. Jefferson, Vice President of the United States. The Assembly of Kentucky was in session, and they sent representatives to Mr. Jefferson who wrote, anonymously, the first Kentucky resolution of "Interposition" on November 15, 1798. On December 21, 1798, James Madison wrote the Virginia Resolution of Interposition. On November 4, 1799, the second Kentucky Resolution was written which rights are not only reserved to the States, but to the people also.

What is "Nullification"? It is the refusal of a State to enforce a Federal law within its borders. If the decision of the Court is illegal, it is void and, therefore, cannot be "Nullified."

What is "Fantasy"? It is a hallucination with no foundation. But "Interposition" cannot be fantasy because it has definite precedents that establish its foundation.

Now, what is the historical approach to government in the Western Tradition? The search for individual freedom and personal security. It has been a difficult task, and the history of the Western World shows that most of its upheavals have been in the search for the maximum amount of freedom along with the minimum amount of security consistent with order.

Man realized that complete freedom would result in anarchy and complete security would result in slavery and direct his every act toward the preservation of the State which he sought to achieve his goal.

In 1812, the Constitution Act was passed. Some of the New England States, and Maine, interposed, did not consent, and nothing transpired. In 1828, South Carolina passed an Ordinance of Nullification, declaring null and void all Federal laws, such as wool, etc., which they felt restricted unfavorably in world trade against their product, which was cotton. In 1829, through the interpositions of Henry Clay, Congress repealed the act.

This ordinance was plainly unconstitutional because it was about import duties, the levying of which was specified as a right of the Union in the Constitution. Some of you gentlemen may have seen and read an article I wrote in the Suffolk News Herald on February 17, 1954, setting up the foundation of "Interposition" as not being "Fantasy." It was reprinted in the Virginia Beach Sun-News and in the Richmond News Leader, with editor's approval. "Interposition" was used three times in that article, which was in the editorial room of the Virginia-Pilot on the regular exchange basis existing between newspapers, such as those mentioned, there appeared two editorials in the Virginia-Pilot, captioned, "The Foundation of Interposition," numbers one and two. Both editorials said, in effect, that "Interposition" was "Fantasy," without foundation. They did not refer to my article which, I believe, promoted the editorial. Instead, they took from the Washington Post an extract from the biography of James Madison, by Robert Grant and set it up in a box next to one of the editorials in what appeared to be an effort to use what Mr. Madison said to indicate their view. But Mr. Madison was speaking about the unconstitutionality of the South Carolina Ordinance of Nullification, which is to no sense analogous with the problem now confronting us. To this effect, the Virginia-Pilot was trying to reinforce its statement that "Interposition" is "Fantasy," which it cannot sustain by reason. But continues to champion to mislead the people. Before the referendum on February 9, 1954, to amend Article 11 of the Virginia Constitution, they used three people on their TV station to speak against the referendum, and only one for it. It has offered no solution nor alternative for the States' efforts to formulate a plan and has offered no stand for itself on the matter of "Segregation." So don't be misled by this paper's editorials.

In 1850, a slave by the name of Glover escaped into the State of Wisconsin. Under the law, he should have been returned to his owner, but he was freed by radical abolitionists, and altho the Court ruled that he should be returned, Wisconsin interposed and nothing was done about it.

Now, who is more consistent to speak on the rights of the States than Mr. Madison and Mr. Jefferson? Said Mr. Madison in his plea for the ratification of the Constitution: "The powers delegated to the Federal Government are few and defined. Those which are retained to the States are numerous and undefined. Federal powers will be principally on external objects, such as war, peace, negotiation and foreign commerce. The powers reserved to the States will extend to all objects which, in the ordinary course of affairs, concern the lives, liberties, and properties of the people, and the internal order, improvement, and prosperity of the State. The operations of the Federal Government will be extensive in time of war; those of the States in times of peace and prosperity."

Said Mr. Jefferson in his inaugural address: "I believe in honorable peace with all nations, and in friendship with all people, and in the support of the State governments in all their rights, as the most complete administrations for our domestic concerns and the surest bulwark against anti-republican tendencies." Those remarks are plain about States' Rights.

I have thus tried to provide you with some information regarding the background of "Interposition." Perhaps I have kept you too long. I thank you for your kind and courteous attention to my remarks, which I hope have been of some help.

In closing, I would like each one in this room to join with me in the hope and prayer that the flag of Virginia shall be secured to the top of the mast of resolution, always to wave resplendent and unfurled in the breeze of courage, and in its motto, known throughout the free world, shall be notice to all men, whether they be 9 or 900 million men, that Virginians will never yield to tyranny and unwittingly create an anarchy for our eventual enslavement. It has been a pleasure to be with you.

Babe Ruth League News

Boys of ages 13, 14 and 15, will be formed into a Babe Ruth League to play baseball this summer. Games will be played at night at the Virginia Beach High School Stadium. Schedules and further announcements will be made at a later date.

It is fitting and proper that the Babe Ruth League should be formed this year, following the very successful first year of operation last year of the Little League games. Little League games were most popular last summer, and many parents and other citizens have acclaimed the program as being one of the finest things that had happened in Virginia Beach in many years. Organized baseball has brought wholesome recreation, fun and a wonderful spirit of sportsmanship, that has developed in an intense program participated in by both boys and their parents.

By organization of the Babe Ruth League, this will be the next step to continue the program commenced by the Little League covering boys from 8 thru 12 years old. Likewise, the Babe Ruth League, is but a stepping stone to the American Legion League which covers boys from 16 through 19 years old. All three leagues play "hard ball" baseball.

Little League baseball will continue this summer under the able leadership of Mr. J. Tom Dailey, President of the National League, and Coach, J. P. White, President of the American League. Mr. Dailey was recently selected by the Virginia Beach Sports Club as the Sportsman of the Year, for his marvelous contribution to local sports by organizing the Little League program last year.

The Intermediate Sunday School Class meeting of the Bayside Baptist Chapel was held Tuesday, February 21st. Twenty-four members were present. The program began with the four individual classes having their individual business meetings. Later they joined together for games, refreshments, and fun. The "climax" of the program was the pastor, Rev. John R. Wright acting as a "boon specialist." He gave an inspiring talk on how our hearts needed doctoring in the spiritual realm.

The Junior Sunday School Class meeting of the Bayside Baptist Chapel was held, Tuesday, February 21st, at the Chapel with twenty-four members present. Mrs. Edward Pavey is Superintendent of the Department.

A special committee composed of B. M. Stanton, John A. Tucker, F. W. "Beau" Lathrop, Tom Dailey and Comdr. White, have called a meeting for discussion and registration of boys who are interested in playing in the Babe Ruth League this summer. The meeting will be held in the Virginia Beach High School auditorium, Thursday night, March 15th at 8:15 P.M. All interested boys are urged to attend with their parents, and it is hoped that many of the parents will want to participate in the adult committee activities of the League. Especially urged to attend this organizational meeting are those men with some baseball experience, who would be interested in managing and coaching Babe Ruth baseball. Those who are unable to attend the March 15th meeting, are urged to contact one of the members of the committee named above.

The local Babe Ruth League will become affiliated with the National Babe Ruth organization, which has leagues in 37 states, and conducts an annual championship series. Rules and Regulations of the Babe Ruth League are very similar to those of the Little League, with the difference in ages, and the fact that Babe Ruth baseball is played on a regulation size diamond, while Little League's diamond is somewhat smaller. For the first year, only four teams of 15 men each will be organized in the Babe Ruth League.

Those firms, civic or church organizations and individuals who are interested in sponsoring one of the teams or making a financial contribution toward the organization of Babe Ruth baseball, are urged to contact B. M. Stanton, who is in charge of this phase of the program.

Six states have produced a billion tons of coal or more since the beginning of the industry in America. They are: West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, and Illinois.

Derby Downs, Akron, Ohio, is a street from which all cars and trucks are barred; its only use is for the soap-box races held yearly, when boys 11-15 years of age compete in coasting in home-made vehicles.

In 1954, American schools cared for 2,600,000 more pupils than their rated capacity.

CORPORATION OF PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY WATER AND SANITATION AUTHORITY.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Virginia Water and Sewer Authorities Act (Code of Virginia, 1950, Chapter 21.1, Sections 15-764.1 to 15-764.3, inclusive), the Board of Supervisors hereby signifies its intent to create an Authority.

(1) The name of the Authority shall be "Princess Anne County Water and Sanitation Authority" and the address of its principal office shall be Princess Anne, Virginia.

(2) The name of the incorporated public corporation is County of Princess Anne, Virginia. The names, addresses and terms of office of the first members of the Board of said Authority are:

- Dr. Meyer H. Lamm - Lynnhaven, Va. - Dec. 31, 1959
- T. G. Adams - Oceana, Va. - Dec. 31, 1959
- J. Robert Addenbrook - Virginia Beach, Va. - Dec. 31, 1959
- R. E. Lister - Rt. 2 Norfolk, Va. - Dec. 31, 1959
- Richard B. Aslam - Princess Anne, Va. - Dec. 31, 1959

(3) The powers of the Authority shall be to acquire, construct, operate, maintain, improve, extend, operate, and maintain a water system or systems, a sewer system or systems, a sewage disposal system or system, or a garbage and refuse collection and disposal system or any combination of such systems within or partly within and partly without one or more political subdivisions or subdivisions of the County of Princess Anne.

(4) The Authority is created for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, improving, extending, operating, and maintaining a water system or systems, a sewer system or systems, a sewage disposal system or system, or a garbage and refuse collection and disposal system or any combination of such systems within or partly within and partly without one or more political subdivisions or subdivisions of the County of Princess Anne.

(5) The following are preliminary estimates of capital costs and initial rates for services for the proposed initial facilities of the Authority, as certified by responsible engineers:

PRELIMINARY ESTIMATES OF CAPITAL COSTS - SEWAGE	TOTAL ESTIMATED COST
Kempville Manor Sewers & appurtenances	$12,500.00
Sewage Treatment Facilities	$14,000.00
TOTAL ESTIMATED COST	$26,500.00

(6) The total included interest, during the period of construction, engineering, fiscal and legal services, and all other expenses, for the proposed initial facilities of the Authority, shall be approximately 100% of the water

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the County of Princess Anne, Virginia, is now in the process of incorporating a public corporation to be known as the County of Princess Anne Water and Sanitation Authority.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, held on Monday, March 26th, 1956, at ten o'clock A. M., persons will be heard for or against the following proposed ordinance:

VIRGINIA: At the regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, held on Monday, March 26th, 1956, at ten o'clock A. M., persons will be heard for or against the following proposed ordinance:

The regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, held on Monday, March 26th, 1956, at ten o'clock A. M., persons will be heard for or against the following proposed ordinance:

An Ordinance regulating the use of County property and Right-of-way for road improvements and drainage.

From and after the effective date of this Ordinance it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to alter in any way the existing surface of any right-of-way, drainage, easement or County property, until such person, persons, firm or corporation shall have first obtained permission for such improvement from the County Planning Commission. The County Planning Commission or its Agent shall specify any and all improvements to be made and shall also specify the condition upon which such improvement shall be made in order to insure the satisfactory completion of such work in the interest of the general public.

And further that it shall constitute a misdemeanor for any person, persons, firm or corporation to commence into any such improvement without a permit from the County Planning Commission or its Agent.

No person, persons, firm or corporation shall for any reason obstruct any ditch, water course or drainage easement in such a manner as to cause the stoppage of water across and along such ditch, water course or drainage easement, unless satisfactory evidence has been given to the County guaranteeing that such stoppage will not cause damage or flooding of public or private lands.

This Ordinance shall be enforced by the County Planning Commission or its Agent.

Any person or persons who violate any section of this Ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than fifty dollars ($50.00) nor more than two hundred dollars ($200.00) and each day's continuance of such violation shall constitute a separate offense.

All voting yes:

VIRGINIA BEACH HIGH SCHOOL

STUDENT COUNCIL HONORED

Virginia Beach High School will play an important part in the Student Council Association State Convention this year, which is to be held at Longwood College in Farmville, Virginia on March 16th and 17th. This will be the first year the high school has ever participated on the program.

The task for V. B. is to discuss "Understanding Between Faculty and Students." This discussion will be led by Sandra Hood, with Charles Meachum acting as recorder, along with the assistance of Frank Tarrall and Mr. Walter Parker, S. C. A. Sponsor for the year.

The main points to be considered are as follows:

I. WHY NECESSARY

- More work is accomplished in class
- Better relationships between the faculty and students
- In order to have good discipline
- In order to learn to get along with others throughout one's life
- So one knows better how to aid students in solving problems

II. WAYS TO PROMOTE UNDERSTANDING

- What teachers can do
- Stagger six weeks tests
- Be consistent in giving work
- Respect big events in students activities — go lightly on home work
- Treat students as adults
- Show interest in students
- Be demanding for control of classroom at all times

B. WHAT STUDENTS CAN DO

- Act as adults
- Complete work on time
- Be courteous and considerate of teachers
- Behave in class
- Realize teachers are human man — that they can and do make mistakes!

C. WHAT ADMINISTRATION CAN DO

- Stand behind decisions of teachers — support them in all practical things
- Not reprimand teacher in front of students

D. VALUE OF PTA

Discussions between parents and teachers

We are proud, to think, that the Virginia Beach High School Student Council was selected to be on the program. We consider it an honor.

JUNIORS PLAN "SADIE HAWKIN'S DANCE"

The Junior Class of Virginia Beach High School is sponsoring a Sadie Hawkins Dance, in the gym on March 24. Among the features of interest will be: Mary Sam, a good old fashioned country store equipped with "kiki-a-poo" Joy Juice, and many other things to supply everyone with a good time. The day before the dance, there will be a pig chasing contest in the stadium, which will supply a lot of fun for all. So come on sala, this is your chance, grab a date and come to our "Sadie Hawkins' Dance!"

STUDENTS ATTEND TRI-C MEETING

Five students and their sponsor for the Virginia Beach High School Student Cooperative Association attended the district Tri-C meeting in Cradock on Wednesday, March 7th for the purpose of nominating candidates for the district Tri-C for next year. Candidates from Virginia Beach for Tri-C officers are: Bob Kelville, Vice-President; and Alyce Savage, Treasurer. Elections for these offices will be held on March 27th at Deep Creek so it is hoped that Virginia Beach will have some candidates for these positions.

Bowling Results

Results of League Games rolled Wednesday, February 29th, 1956. Colonial Ready To Wear won 2 games from Carl's Market with C. Chucci rolling a set of 287 and Shirley McChesney rolling a 291 set for the losers.

Nick's Soda Shop won 3 games from Kitchin's Kitchen with Virginia Murden rolling a set of 273 and Natalie Gentry rolling a 245 set for the losers.

Mr. Sloan Dewesse, Interior Designer, of Coler's Inc., was the guest speaker at the March 7th meeting of Alpha Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. Mr. Dewesse conducted a panel discussion on the modern trends in interior design—a question and answer period followed concerning designing problems in this area.

V. B. H. S. JUNIOR BOYS HOBBY CLUB

The purpose of the Junior Boys Hobby Club is to create an interest in hobbies and to help students select a hobby. Students have constructed scale models and have brought in individual projects that interest them most.

Many of the boys have started many new hobbies that they have not had before joining the club and new interest has been started among many new students. Many times stories are read to the students in order to create new ideas to boys that do not have a definite hobby. On the other hand, paper and pencils have been given to many boys to stimulate new interest along the lines of creative art and drawings of many kinds.

The sponsors for the club this year is Mr. Joseph A. Binford, Jr. and Mrs. Charles Modlin.

National Little League News

Last Wednesday afternoon about 90 ladies and two slightly befuddled gents (now slightly deaf) attended the card party held by The National Little League fund raising committee at the American Legion Hall. They all had a wonderful time and fifteen ladies took home useful if somewhat unique door prizes. The prizes were donated by some very generous and civic minded merchants of Virginia Beach. Mrs. Mary Michael's chairman of the committee and other league officials have asked that gratitude be expressed to these merchants for their generosity.

This is the best of things that makes Virginia Beach more than just another summer resort. "The most delighted prize winner?" Mrs. Barco who won a gallon of automobile lubricating oil.

Wednesday night a National Little League meeting was held to discuss several items of importance in league operations. It was learned that Mr. Beau Lathrop the general proprietor of Beau's Sport Shop has volunteered to donate a trophy to the winning team of the Princess Anne County Championship. It was also learned that permission has also been obtained to use four fields at Camp Pendleton for Little League practice diamonds. These diamonds will be shared by both the American and National Little Leagues. It was also revealed that the Babe Ruth League was nearing reality which can be a wonderful thing for graduates from the Little Leagues and any boys between the ages of 13 and 18 years.

In order to spark interest in baseball a Little League movie will be shown at W. T. Cooke School on Tuesday, 13 March 10:00 A. M. by President Tom Dalley and Capt. Jim Gregory. No difficulty is foreseen in getting a large turn out of boys but there's nothing like a movie to get the pot boiling. Mrs. Dalley was nominated as Chief Scorekeeper and Jimmy Williamson is this year's Umpire Chief of the League. He has a fine corps of arbitrators lined up for this year. In case you are wondering that does include that just man of decision, Dickie Mumford the local boobiest best friend.

LITTLE LEAGUE PERSONALITIES

Mr. John Kull is the league's hard working secretary. "Big John" is also the head of a family of Little Leaguers. Mrs. Kull is a member of the crackerjack Fund Raising committee and son John was the hard hitting center-fielder of the J. C. Hawk's last year. Son Ronnie an excellent prospect is also a member of "Them Mighty Hawks." If there were any other members of the family they would undoubtedly be involved too. Big John is the proprietor and chief watchrepair expert of the Beach Jewelers when he can spare time from his Little League duties. You should see this fellow "play ball" covers more ground than a gang of octopus and welds a mean bat. Just watch him at the first Dad's game this summer. The key to his success as a watchrepair man is his thoroughness and the same can be said of the way he executes his secretarial task. A real good man, John.

At the Navy guided missile test range, Point Mugu, California, there is a huge $3,000,000 electronic marvel that can perform approximately six million mathematical operations in five minutes, problems that would take an average mathematician 4 years to complete.

Although the colonies had only 6 frigates and 10 small vessels to oppose more than 600 fighting ships of the enemy in the War of 1812, history shows that America's victory depended on the Navy.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Princess Anne Girl Scout District Committee met at the home of Mrs. Paul Dolgins, 5601 Atlantic Ave. on Mar. 2nd at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Bonnie Miller the new district director gave a training course beginning with a game and a song. Mrs. Henry Hedby took the chair for the beginning of her term as chairman of the district committee.

Each neighborhood chairman received a folder containing, "The Success Story of a Neighborhood." Motions were made and passed to accept 17 applications for 1st class rank and 12 applications for curved bar.

There is to be a training institute for Brownie leaders at Brith-Sholom temple on March 12th, 10 to 12 a. m. Those desiring training must register at Girl Scout office prior to March 12.

CAMPERSHIPS DEADLINE HAS BEEN EXTENDED Senior round-up plans are completed.

Each troop has practiced camping skills with camp equipment. Each troop in the Princess Anne District is being asked to contribute $1.00 toward sending alternates to Doughty St. Park.

Motion was made and passed to grant Virginia Beach troops permission to sell cookies on a neighborhood basis. They are trying to raise $250.00 for camp equipment and a reference library.

The out-going chairman Mrs. Lyman Clark and the district director Mrs. Anne Rees, who is moving to Washington D. C. were each presented with a gift in appreciation for their untiring efforts on behalf of Girl Scouting in Princess Anne.

The first sub to actually sink an enemy man-of-war during wartime was the Confederate Hunley built during the Civil War. The Union Frigate Housatonic on blockade station in the harbor was the victim.

Style Show Is Success

During the business meeting which preceded the program, Mrs. B. R. Coffman thanked all members for their co-operation which had helped make their recent style show and card party, "Hearts and Fashions," such a success. All profit from this project was placed in the beautification fund for the entrance at Laskin Road.

A resolution for the protection of birds and small wild life was adopted by the club, and $15.00 was voted for the polo fund. Plans for the triangle at Kildeer and Cardinal were discussed and replacement plantings will be made. Mrs. Karl Wunder, horticulture chairman, and Mrs. David Stormont, beautification chairman, were appointed to serve with the Council on the Laskin Road planting.

Mrs. R. E. Doyal, who was hostess with Mrs. Creamer, had Mrs. Bailey of England as a guest.

Kempsville Garden Club

The Kempsville Garden Club held its monthly meeting Monday, February 27th at the Community Center.

Mrs. B. R. Middleton, winner of the Tricolor Award was presented the Christmas Doorway Trophy, a silver pitcher, by Mrs. Howard Tyler, president.

Mrs. M. M. King gave a talk on suitable containers for flower arrangements. She also stated that the people of Virginia overlook one of our greatest assets, our own greenery, the native pine, laurel and Scotch broom. The club voted a donation of twenty five dollars to the garden center building fund of the Federation of Garden Clubs of Norfolk and vicinity. It was reported by Mrs. E. D. Pugh that thirty eight dollars was made on a recent bake sale. All members were urged to subscribe to the Federation year book.

Mrs. Tyler announced that the Heart Fund Drive was a success with the members of the club collecting one hundred and seventy dollars.

Hostess for the evening were Mrs. Roy Allen; Mrs. C. A. Bamforth and Mrs. R. T. Andrews.

Members from the Acredale Garden Club judged the dried arrangements. Ribbons were awarded to Mrs. H. D. Pugh; Mrs. Allen; Mrs. C. W. Odermann; Mrs. R. H. Henderson; Mrs. J. C. Lilley; Mrs. M. B. Jones and Mrs. R. H. Evick. Kempsville Community 4-H Club.

Doris Humphries is the new president of the re-organized Kempsville Community 4-H Club.

Officers elected to serve with her are Frank Hudgins, vice-president; Carolyn Charles, secretary-treasurer; and Richard Barright, historian.

New members are Marjean Wright; Pat Kilmon; Irene Creekmore and Robert Langhorne. Miss Cora Blackmore is the adult leader.

Commander and Mrs. Charles Deaton have returned to their home after a visit to Florida. During the past month Commander Deaton has been attending the George Barrs Twentieth Annual Baseball Umpires School in Longwood, Florida. He expects to spend this summer umpiring in a baseball league.

Mr. and Mrs. William Crews are now at home after spending some time in La Grange, North Carolina. While there, they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crews. They also visited Lieutenant and Mrs. J. T. Knight and children of Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. Mrs. Knight is the former Miss Ernestine Wright, of Kempsville.

Music Club Will Present Italian Violinist

The third concert of the Civic Concert Association sponsored by the Virginia Beach Music Club will be held in the Virginia Beach High School, Tuesday night, March 13th at 8:15 P. M.

Giovanni Bagarotti, Italian violinist is to be the third great concert artist presented this winter by the Virginia Beach Music Club.

Giovanni Bagarotti, Italian violinist, was born in Geneva, Switzerland, and began his early study of violin in that city. He later continued his musical education with the late Karl Flesch and Joseph Wolfstahl in Berlin. From 1935 to 1939 he concentrated extensively throughout Europe until he arrived in the United States in 1942. He was appointed professor at the Conservatory of Lausanne, Switzerland. After the war, he resumed his tours, in the course of which he won special acclaim for his performance of all the violin concertos of Mozart with the Orchestra Colonne in Paris.

In October, 1948, Mr. Bagarotti came to the United States, and made his debut in New York with the Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Pierre Monteux, winning unstinted praise from the New York critics.

He is the first of the great violinists ever to play all the nine Mozart Concerti. He was selected by Dimitri Mitropoulos to play the Mozart 200th Anniversary Concert with the New York Philharmonic, in January, 1956, a very singular honor indeed.

In his Virginia Beach appearance, he will be ably assisted by his wife, Marta Bagarotti, a most charming and gifted pianist, whom he met when they were both studying in Berlin.

While in the locality, Mr. Bagarotti will play in Williamsburg, Va., on the Colonial Palace programs.

Only a few tickets remain for this concert. They may be obtained by calling Mrs. Roland Thibb, Virginia Beach. Phone 248-3.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Veterans Administration and the Small Business Administration announced joint action to assure small firms a fair share of VA business.

Harvey V. Higley, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, and Wendell B. Barnes, Administrator of the Small Business Administration, established a joint policy for setting aside many purchases for exclusive competitive award to small firms.

Mr. Higley said VA spends approximately $200,000,000 a year for goods and services of all types and that more than 50 percent of this business now goes to small firms.

The policy is designed to increase the proportion of awards to small firms where possible, according to the joint statement by Mr. Higley and Mr. Barnes.

Mr. Barnes said the Small Business Administration also has established similar joint programs with the Department of Defense, the General Services Administration, and the Department of Agriculture.

The VA agreement provides that centralized purchase requirements, with an estimated value of $5,000 or more, will be reviewed by representatives of the two agencies for appropriate set-aside action in favor of small firms.

The procurements found suitable for award to small business will be set aside for exclusive competitive award among small firms. Either the entire amount of the individual purchase or a designated part of it may be reserved for small business in this manner.

The agreement also provides for the Small Business Administration to supplement the VA Bidders List with qualified firms which are registered with them.

VA will continue to cooperate with the Small Business Administration in its certificate of competency program. Under this program, Small Business Administration can certify to the technical and financial ability of a small firm to fulfill a specific Government contract on which it is the low responsive bidder.

Mr. Higley said: "Veterans Administration is pleased to cooperate with the Small Business Administration in helping to maintain the economic strength of small business concerns. Many thousands of the Nation's war veterans are engaged in small business enterprises." The edge of water lily, rush or reed beds is an excellent place to cast for bass or pickerel.

Ford Wins at Stock Car Racing "Olympics"

HERE'S FORD'S RECORD AT NASCAR'S DAYTONA BEACH NATIONAL SPEED WEEKS

FIRST in Sports Car Acceleration
A Ford Thunderbird set a new record for American production sports cars, sprinting a measured mile from a standing start in only 40.5 seconds - reaching a top speed of nearly 150 mph!

FIRST in top speed - class 4
A Ford "Six" took top honors in the Flying Mile for Class 4 American production passenger cars!

FIRST in 160-mile Convertible race
Ford V-8's took 1st and 2nd place in the National Convertible Championship Race. Ford not only won over all cars entered, but it also topped the all-time record for the Grand National Championship Race.

FIRST in over-all performance
Ford won the Pure Oil Manufacturers' Award by gaining the greatest number of points for the best performance of any make of car in this great 2-week stock car racing "Olympics"!

The Ford V-8 again showed its tailight to all competitors in the "Olympics" of stock car racing at Daytona Beach, Florida.

In blazing across the finish line Ford demonstrated once more the azzling performance that keeps it the largest-selling V-8 in the world. No other car in the field could match Ford for getaway "git" . . . for straightaway acceleration . . . for all-around roadability. To see exactly how the other cars trailed behind Ford, see the chart at the top of this page.

One of the secrets of Ford's performance is the tremendous torque (wheel turning power) developed by Ford engines. For example, Ford's new 225-h.p. Thunderbird Special V-8 engine develops more torque than any other engine in the low-price field. This means quicker response, smoother running in the kind of driving you do. Just a gentle nudge of Ford's accelerator and whoosh! You pass in instants when instants count!

Ford now offers this mighty 225-h.p. engine with any Ford Fairlane or Station Wagon model with Fordomatic. What's more, these engines are coming off the assembly lines right now! So why wait? Come in today for a Test Drive. Find out for yourself about Ford's exciting performance. Find out why Ford is the V-8 with the world's biggest following!

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Tun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and fables... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

We are about to celebrate another important week in this great country of ours. From March 11-17th, we'll be celebrating National Rice Week. So I would suggest that you EAT MORE RICE. It is economical - delicious and nutritious. Rice is a plentiful food and therefore, an excellent buy. Certainly the budget will welcome many new and different ways to use rice.

Foreign Lands give us exciting ways to use rice. From the Rice Consumer Service, I received some mighty interesting rice menus and recipes, here they are. I know you'll help celebrate National Rice Week, but don't forget, rice dishes will be welcomed by your family every week in the year.

Give your cooking a foreign accent and a marvelously pleasing variety of tempting flavors by learning to cook rice in the manner of our neighbors across the seas.

The Chinese, for example, have cooked and eaten rice for centuries and serve most of their dishes on top of rice. The rice is a perfect foil for the succulent juices of the foods served over and with it. These experts in the art of rice cookery use a variety of meats or fish: chicken, ham, pork, beef or shrimp with the rice along with such vegetables as onions, mushrooms, green pepper, water chestnuts, celery, even spinach and cabbage, and bean sprouts or other Chinese vegetables. Soya Sauce is a must and gives the dish a characteristic flavor which makes out of this world eating! These dishes are prepared by cooking the various ingredients in hot oil or fat until tender but with the vegetables crisp. Often the rice is cooked or "fried" in the hot oil or fat and the dish is then called "fried rice". Other times, the mixture of meat and vegetables is served over fluffy boiled rice. Since the cookery of Albania and Greece has been greatly influenced by the customs of Turkey let us first consider how rice is eaten in this country.

The Turkish housewife doesn't purchase her rice from a super market. Instead, she goes to a special store which sells only rice. Turkish rice is called "pilav". It may be boiled with butter or margarine added; it may be fried in hot fat and then boiled in chicken or beef bouillon; it may be boiled and have nuts, raisins and orange peel added; it may be boiled and mixed with fat and tomato juice. These various rice combinations are served with any kind of meat or chicken. The Turkish housewife also uses rice to stuff eggplant, tomatoes or chicken.

The Albanian "pila" is rice cooked in broth with cinnamon and raisins and served with chicken or meat. In Greece "pilaf" is rice cooked in water along with mushrooms, onion, green pepper, tomatoes, oil, butter or margarine, tomato paste, salt and pepper.

Special mention must be given the delicious "dolmas" or stuffed grape leaves of the Near Eastern Countries. In Turkey the grape leaves are stuffed with a mixture of rice, onions and mint and are simmered in water, cooled and served as hors d'oeuvres. A traveler in Greece is likely to be served canapés of rice and meat wrapped in spiced grape leaves. In Syria and Lebanon the "dolmas" are often cabbage leaves filled with rice, peas, onion, mint or a mixture of lamb, rice, allspice and other seasonings. The leaves of cabbage or grapes are spread with the rice mixture, rolled tightly with the ends tucked in, placed in layers in a large pan and covered with water and simmered until the water is absorbed. The water in which the "dolmas" are cooked is often flavored with lemon juice.

Truly Italian is a dish of rice with saffron sauce, and "risotto" is the Italian way of cooking rice in such a manner that it may be made into any number of main dishes. The rice is slowly heated in hot fat until it begins to show a yellow tinge and then a well seasoned stock is added. The Northern Italians prefer their "risotto" a bright yellow with a saffron sauce, while the tomato loving South Americans the "risotto" in tomato sauce and the central region of Italy uses a meat sauce. All top it off with grated Parmesan cheese. In Rome, the tomato appears in its own right, where it is hollowed out, stuffed with boiled rice, seasoned with olive oil, garlic, chopped mint, and then baked in the oven.

To the people of India we are indebted for the exotic, mysterious, and magical condiment - curry. Dozens of delicious meat and fish combinations are delicately flavored with this yellow powder and then served over fluffy boiled rice so that none of the heavenly juices are lost to the eater, but are absorbed by the tender rice grains.

These rice dishes and many others from the lands across the seas have flavors as interesting and as romantic as the people and their customs. The American family can treat itself to much eating excitement by learning the various combinations of ingredients and seasonings used by these "true gourmets". However, "first things come first" and that is, that the rice for these dishes must be properly cooked. A quick-easy and time saving way to cook rice is as follows:

1. Put 1 cup uncooked rice; 2 cups cold water; 1 teaspoon salt, in a two-quart saucepan.
2. Bring to a vigorous boil.
3. Turn down heat as low as possible. Cover saucepan with a lid and leave over this low heat for 14 minutes. Serve.

SUNSHINE DESSERT FROZEN ORANGE-RICE PUDDING

Frozen desserts always seem extra special after any meal so you'll welcome this brand new idea for a refreshing frozen orange-rice pudding. The whipped cream gives a heavenly flavor. Frozen concentrated orange juice is stirred into the pudding to give a marbled effect and "tree-ripe" orange sweetens. It's an easy dessert to make because the low cost rice cooks in only 14 minutes. Your refrigerator does the rest.

½ pint whipping cream
½ cup frozen concentrated orange juice

METHOD: Put the water, salt and rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover the saucepan with a lid. Leave over this low heat for 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat, but leave the lid on 10 minutes. Immediately remove lid and stir in the milk, sugar and vanilla. Cover and allow to cool.

When the rice has cooled, stir to make the mixture creamy. Whip the cream until thick. Fold the rice into the whipped cream. Immediately place in a freezing tray.

Stir the frozen concentrated orange juice through the rice-whipped cream mixture with circular motions to make swirls of orange juice through the rice mixture. Place in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator until frozen. If desired, remove the hard, remove from freezing compartment to soften slightly before serving. If desired, garnish servings with fresh orange sections. This recipe makes 12 servings.

Everyone likes apricots so treat your family and friends to this apricot dessert. Cover and cook 2 cups milk, ½ teaspoon salt and ½ cup uncooked white rice over a very low heat until rice absorbs milk. Stir occasionally. Beat in 2 egg yolks, ½ cup sugar and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Stir in 1½ cups cut up, cooked apricots and ½ cup chopped pecans. Bake in a greased oven dish at 350° F. for 30 minutes. Pudding will have a creamy consistency. If desired, top with a meringue made with the egg whites.

SAGEBRUSH FRIED CHICKEN
THE BEST OF THE OLD WEST!
Here is a different way to serve chicken - but probably easier than any you've ever tried! Once you fix chicken this way, you'll have it again and again. Crispy and brown; fried to a "T", it's served over yellow corn and rice. The rice is browned to develop a nutty flavor, perfect with fried chicken. Green pepper and yellow whole kernel corn are mixed with the browned rice - and oh, what a perfect combination with fried chicken!

INGREDIENTS:
1 frying chicken
½ cup flour
2 teaspoons salt

14 teaspoon pepper
2½ cups frying chicken
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup uncooked white rice
¼ cup onion, finely chopped
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1-16 oz. can (2 cups) whole kernel yellow corn, drained

METHOD: Cut chicken into serving pieces. Wash in cold water. Pat dry. Mix flour, salt and pepper in a paper bag. Place one piece of chicken in a bag at a time and shake to coat the flour. Heat ½ inch fat in skillet until a drop of water just sizzles. Brown meaty pieces first, adding less meaty pieces last. With tongs or spoons, turn to brown evenly.

When lightly browned, 18 to 20 minutes, reduce heat, cover tightly and cook slowly until tender, about 40 minutes. Turn as necessary to brown evenly. Uncover the last 10 minutes to crisp the skin.

While chicken is cooking, melt butter or margarine in a saucepan. Add the rice and onions and cook until the rice is browned. Slowly add green pepper, water, salt and pepper. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover an leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Turn off heat. Stir in the corn. Cover and leave over for 10 minutes or until ready to serve. Put corn and rice on hot platter. Arrange the fried chicken over the corn, or place servings of the chicken on dinner plates and arrange the corn and rice on the plates. Garnish with tomato slices if desired.

This recipe makes 8 generous servings.

TROPICAL LEMON COCONUT REFRIGERATOR DESSERT

A lemon dessert is right with just about any meal. Since this delicious lemon dessert is easy to make and store in the refrigerator, you'll serve it often. The coconut "crust" makes the dessert enough for company and is quick to fix.

Shrimp Curry on Rice
Frenched String Beans
Almond-Buttered Topping
Lettuce and Tomato Salad
Hot Biscuits
Tropical Lemon Coconut Refrigerator Dessert

INGREDIENTS:
8 cups milk
¾ cup uncooked white rice
¾ cup butter or margarine
1 cup moist shredded coconut
1½ cups vanilla wafer crumbs
¾ cup beet or cane sugar
½ cup lemon juice
1½ teaspoons grated lemon rind

METHOD: Put the milk and rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Place over a high heat. Stir well. When bubbles appear around the edge of the saucepan, stir well. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover and leave over this low heat 40 minutes or until the milk cooks into the rice.

While the rice cooks, melt the butter or margarine in a saucepan. Add the coconut and cook until golden brown, stirring frequently. Add the wafer crumbs and mix well. Press half of this mixture into the bottom of a well greased 10" x 6" x 2" pan. After the rice cooks, stir in the sugar, lemon juice and lemon rind. Pour mixture over the coconut-wafer crust. Top with the rest of the coconut-wafer mixture. Cool, then cover and chill in the refrigerator at least 3 hours before serving. To serve cut into squares. This recipe makes 8 servings.

Quick-To-Fix Tuna Timbales

Really Wonderful Eating!
Take it easy and still treat your family to some of the most marvelous eating they have ever experienced! Just plan these Tuna Timbales as the main dish. They are made in a matter of minutes and the saving in "kitchen time" is all yours.

And oh, my, you have never seen such a satisfied bunch as your family will be when they taste this perfectly flavored tuna main dish. The cheese and the mushroom sauce becomes hot and bubbly in the oven to give the tuna timbales a positively irresistible look.

INGREDIENTS:
1. 6½ ounce can chunk style tuna
2 tablespoons finely grated onion
2 tablespoons finely grated green pepper
3½ cups hot cooked rice

Dish of Tuna Timbales
1. 10½ ounce can (1½ cups) condensed cream of mushroom soup
½ cup water
½ cup grated American cheese

PREPARING THE FLUFFY WHITE RICE: To make 8 heaping cups of white, fluffy perfectly cooked rice:

1. Put 1½ cups uncooked rice, 3 cups of cold water, and 1½ teaspoons of salt into a 2-quart saucepan and bring to a vigorous boil.
2. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover the saucepan with a lid. Do not remove lid for stir rice while it is cooking.
3. Leave saucepan over this low heat for 14 minutes. Remove from heat. The rice is now ready to use. Leave cover on till ready to use.

For extra fluffy, tender, separate grains allow the rice to steam for an additional 10 minutes - with heat off, but without removing lid, keeping the extra cups of unused ready-cooked rice in the refrigerator in a covered container. Use this rice as needed in quick, delicious and inexpensive continued on page fourteen

ELEMENTARY NEWS:

A system of Safety Patrols was organized at the beginning of the school year. Reliable boys and girls have assisted teachers on yard and hall duties by guarding the drinking fountains and doors during morning and evening relief periods.

"They have done a splendid job in directing the children and in maintaining order in the halls. We appreciate their efforts." Says Mrs. Julia Clark, teacher of a fifth grade class. Mrs. Alice Durgan, a seventh grade teacher sponsors the Safety Patrol Group.

Negro History Week Study was very inspiring and educational. An assembly program was presented in the auditorium, Friday, February 17. The theme of this program was "Negro History in an Era of Changing Human Relationships." Choral selections presented by the elementary choir were "Somebody's Knocking at Your Door" and "Till the Bell." The choir, under the direction of Miss Oella Kinsie and Mrs. Louise Carter, "The Boy Scout Oath," was presented by a third grade group. Mrs. J. V. Boykin, teacher; "Negro Contributions Toward Art." George Britt, seventh grade, Mrs. I. C. Wilson, teacher; "Negro Contributions toward Music," Sandra Perdue, seventh grade, Mrs. Alice Durgan, teacher; "Story of George Washington Carver," Oliver Morgan, fourth grade, Mrs. Beattie Morgan, teacher.

Very interesting remarks were made by Mrs. L. B. Archer, Assistant Principal. Her topic dealt with "Integrating the Negro Within the Historical Framework." Her general and specific aims were to help children appreciate the beginning of civilization and the contributions made by those closely responsible, such as the Egyptians and Africans. To also show the beginning of democratic government although under a king who was Pharaoh. The Pharaohs who were rulers of Egypt were of Negro Origin. They appointed priests and nobles to help them rule. They used scribes to help them rule and used scribes to keep their records that were buried in tombs.

Mrs. Alice Durgan was Mistress of Ceremonies. Negro History Scrap Books were exhibited on the Phi Delta Kappa Society exhibit at the Y.W.C.A. on Feb. 19th from the fifth grade.

sponsored by Mrs. Evelyn W. Smith and the seventh grade classes, Mrs. A. A. Durgan, Mrs. I. C. Wilson and Mrs. M. E. Preston, teachers. The second and third prizes were received, respectively.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS:

It's all again folks. We are back on the news stand. We wish to bring you up to date with the happenings around our school. Now that the second semester is in full swing, our lessons are bearing down on us. The teachers are exacting, study-loads are heavy, and we have to really turn the "midnight oil."

The basketball team are doing a great job. The Tigers came back from the tournament last Saturday evening, Feb. 26th, to bring us great honors. They brought home the beautiful trophy which gave them second place in the conference.

The girls' basketball tournament begins early in March. We are keeping our fingers crossed and holding our breath in great anticipation that the "Tigerettes" will take first honor in their tournament. The Tigerettes are working out some hard practice periods in preparation for the tournament series.

The students, patrons, and other friends of the Princess Anne County Training School were highly entertained on last Tuesday, Feb. 21, by their teachers. The faculty of the Training School presented a most enjoyable talent show in the interest of the band and choir uniforms drive. There were songs, dances, fashion display, dramatic excerpts, readings, instrumental solos, and band extracts on the very entertaining program. The sponsors were Mrs. B. A. Raspberry and Mr. C. K. Wilson.

On Monday, Feb. 27, our teachers and students enjoyed another very fine talent show presented by the Booker T. Washington High School Students of Norfolk. This program also was in the interest of the band and choir uniform drive. Mrs. F. R. Ballard and Mrs. B. A. Raspberry were the sponsors.

All of the various clubs of the school are busily engaged with the sundry activities of their program outlines.

with a modern ELECTRIC WATER HEATER

When you set your water to HOT, you can count on your Electric Water Heater to deliver the piping hot water for money, sheets and table linen. And it's the same story all over the house, from sink to shower bath. If a faucet's labeled "hot," your Electric Water Heater never makes it fit. You needn't give it a thought, because your Electric Water Heater is completely automatic. Day after day, year after year, it gives you hot water without asking the slightest attention. And you never need think of cost, either. Electricity heats water for pennies a day—and it's especially cheap with a thrifty off-peak meter to watch your budget. Fits anywhere from basement to attic. With an Electric Water Heater, you choose the most convenient location—without worrying about chimneys or vents. Uprights tuck away in any odd corner with the least possible floor space. Table-top models match your all-electric kitchen and give added work surface—without oversteering the kitchen in summer. Take your pick at your electric appliance dealer's—and enjoy clean, thrifty, dependable hot water day after day.

GARDEN GUIDE

By BARTOW H.
BRIDGES, JR.

Care Of Roses

A recent Garden Guide discussed the popularity of roses and how they are graded. This topic should be continued with some pointers for properly planting and maintaining the plants.

First, where should roses be planted? The spot should be well drained and it should be sunny. The soil can be made to the plants' liking. As for locating the roses with respect to the overall landscape, most designers prefer to have a separate bed set aside for roses. The plants are not particularly attractive when they are not blooming, so a rose bed in a part of the yard that is seldom seen or used in the winter but is used during the warm weather is sensible. Another good reason for grouping all the plants in beds is that their planting and maintenance requirements are different from most other flowers and shrubs; therefore it is easier and more satisfactory to have all the roses in groups. Planting properly is one way to insure satisfaction. It is important to know that a rose sends its roots downward rather than outward. Therefore the area to be considered for each rose should be about one foot wide and two or two and half feet deep. The ground should be dug out to that depth. Put good top soil mixed with cottonseed meal, bone meal, rotted or processed cow manure and peat moss. This mixture should be thoroughly blended and put in the bottom of the hole to a depth of six or eight inches. The remainder of the hole is filled with clay mixed with rotted or processed cow manure.

To set out the roses, make a cone shaped mound of the clay and manure in the spot where the plant is desired. The height of this cone is determined by the rose itself. It can be easily seen where the ground level was on the rose stem. The old ground level should be buried about an inch deep. The roots of the plants are spread out over the cone and thus are not bent.

The ground that has been so prepared should be several inches higher than the surrounding ground level. This will lower as the soil settles and is compacted.

Water the plant well after planting. The rose should get a thorough soaking each week during the spring, summer and fall; if not from rain, then thorough watering.

Mulch is as beneficial to roses as to other plants. Peat moss, pine needles, Michigan peat, rotted manure, peanut hulls and many other substances may be used to keep moisture in the ground, retard weeds, stabilize temperature and perform the other functions of a mulch. It is a good idea to add lime to the mulch on roses because mulches tend to make soil acidic and this is not to the rose's liking. Lime will correct the problem.

Unfortunately America's favorite plant has insect and disease troubles. But roses are, in general, able to plug along with no attention, bloom occasionally and live for years. However, to have the numerous large flowers that are desired, insecticides and fungicides will have to be called upon to help.

Recent research has developed very efficient chemicals for roses and it is not an oversimplification to say that they will do the trick. Some insecticides and fungicides are even combined to one powder to make an all purpose rose dust or spray.

If the roses are properly planted and cared for, they will certainly repay the small time expense requirements.

Fun To Cook

soups, salads, casseroles, hot breads and dessert.

METHOD: With a fork, break the tuna into small pieces. Add the onion, green pepper, hot rice and Tabasco sauce. Rinse a custard cup with water. Pack about 3/4 cup of the mixture into the custard cup. Unmold immediately into a shallow baking-serving dish or into individual baking-serving dishes. Make the rest of the mixture into timbales, moistening the cup with water before molding each timbale.

Mix together the mushroom soup and water. Pour over the dish. Sprinkle the cheese over the timbales. Bake in a preheated 350° F. oven for 30 minutes or until the cheese is browned. This recipe makes 6 timbales.

Don't forget - properly cook the rice and every recipe will be just perfect. Bye - Now!

Appraisers Elect Two-Time Award Nominee Hopes For Oscar Now

C. Q. Nugent, Jr., vice president of the Mutual Federal Savings and Loan Association, is the president of the Tidewater Chapter, Society of Residential Appraisers, which was formed this week.

Other officers of the Association, which is open to appraisers in realty, sales, mortgage and other types of financial organizations, are Nathan S. Raitt, vice president; E. E. Mathews, Jr., secretary; and Saul Salberg, treasurer. Directors, in addition to the officers, are E. H. Blackburn, Stephen D. Ravenel, Tazewell T. Hubbard, Jr., Hal G. Ward and Frank V. Atkinson.

The association will install officers at a charter night program March 21.

Eleanor Parker plays the uncommon role of Zosh, embittered, wheelchair ridden wife of Frank Sinatra in "The Man With the Golden Arm," produced and directed by Otto Preminger. The United Artists release opens March 14th at the Beach Theatre.

Eleanor is that rare avis, a stage-struck girl who was aided and abetted by her parents rather than hindered in the pursuit of her ambitions. An Ohio girl, Eleanor was allowed to join a local drama group in Cleveland while attending public schools there. After graduation, she joined a summer stock group in Martha's Vineyard.

THE MAN WITH

After several more seasons of stock, interspersed with a radio appearance, Manor headed west for the Pasadena Community Playhouse. There she was discovered by a talent scout and signed to a studio contract. For the next few years, she marked time in a series of bit roles, meanwhile absorbing all she could of the technique of acting for the cameras. Her patience and dedication were rewarded when, in 1944, she played her first lead in "The Very Thought of You." This was followed by starring roles in such pictures as "Of Human Bondage," "Voice of the Turtle," "Chain Lightning" and "Caged." Her performance in "Caged" won her the first of her Academy Award nominations. A year later, she again received an Oscar nomination for her brilliant portrayal of the long-suffering wife in "Detective Story." She hopes "The Man With the Golden Arm" will bring her the Oscar.

Mrs. C. H. Reed Named Woman of Accomplishment

At the Biennial Public Affairs Dinner of the Business and Professional Women's Club, held at the Princess Anne Country Club on Tuesday evening, Mrs. Cecil Henderson Reed of Princess Anne County was honored as "The Woman of Outstanding Accomplishment" for 1955.

The announcement of Mrs. Reed's having been selected was made by Mr. Harold Kellam, President of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce, and Chairman of the Selection Committee, who was introduced by Mrs. M. P. Strickler, Public Affairs Chairman of the club.

Mrs. Mary Deveraux of Norfolk, Public Affairs Chairman of the Virginia Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., presented the citation designating Mrs. Reed "The Woman of Outstanding Accomplishment" of Princess Anne County for 1955, for her untiring efforts in the promotion of the conservation and preservation of the American Lotus, a God-given heritage of Princess Anne County. Her work has received national recognition and the endorsement of the Virginia State Department of Conservation and Development.

This project was undertaken during her term of office as historian of the Cape Henry Woman's Club, which sponsored the First Annual Lotus Festival in 1955, of which she was chairman, as well as the 1956 Festival.

She is president of the Lake Joyce Garden Club, now busy planning and promoting the development of a Bird Sanctuary in the Lake Shore Area.

Aside from these, Mrs. Reed's work in Public and Red Cross Departments are among her other accomplishments in cultural and civic betterment.

Miss Irma E. Bell, club president, introduced the guests, which included members of the Selection Committee, Mrs. Emma Wise, Director of the State District of the Virginia Federation, and Mrs. Virginia Pennington, and members from the Norfolk and Virginia Peninsula Clubs. Special guests from the City and County included Mrs. W. W. Connell, president of the Cape Henry Woman's Club, and Mr. Connell; Mrs. E. L. Cooper, Communications Chairman, Tidewater District, Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Louise Hooper Ewell, "Woman of Accomplishment" for 1953; Mr. P. H. Strickler and Mrs. Strickler; Miss Louise Lufford; Mayor Frank A. Dusch and Mrs. Dusch; Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Kellam; Mr. Harold Kellam; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tarrall; Mrs. Robert Steinboer; Mr. and Mrs. James Darden; Mr. and Mrs. Albin R. Mathies; and Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Haycox. Several beautiful choral selections were rendered by a group of choral students from the Virginia Beach High School under the direction of Mr. J. William Miller.

The Business and Professional Women's Club wishes to take this opportunity to thank all of the women's organizations in the city and county, who entered nominations for "The Woman of Outstanding Accomplishment." This is a civic project, which the club hopes to continue as a biennial event.

Junior Women Elect Officers For New Year

On Tuesday night, March 8th, the Junior Women's Club of Princess Anne County elected new officers for the club year 1956-1957. They are Mrs. William P. Farrell, President; Mrs. Art Connell, 1st Vice-President; Mrs. Harvey Williams, 2nd Vice-President; Mrs. C. D. Jones, 3rd Vice-President; Mrs. Paul B. Maestas, 4th Vice-President; Mrs. Thomas H. Caffrey, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Stanley Higgins, Corresponding Secretary; and Mrs. Doris W. Eberhardt, Treasurer.

Also Mrs. Leslie B. Core was elected 4th Vice-President for the remainder of the current club year.

Mrs. James G. Kellam, the outgoing President, and Mrs. Perrell, President-Elect, will represent the Junior Women's Club of Princess Anne County at the Annual Meeting of the Tidewater District in Ocean View on March 15th and the State Convention in Richmond on April 10th and 11th.

Campbell's Camera Center, of Norfolk, which will open a Virginia Beach branch shortly, has been selected as the nation's Brand Name Retailer in the photographic dealer category. The announcement of the honor came Monday in a telegram from J. Owen Campbell, Sr., president of the photographic firm.

In addition to Campbell's, Shuman's Mens Store won a second honor.

Cancer Meeting Scheduled Here On March 20th

The Princess Anne Unit of the American Cancer Society Education Chairman Mr. A. R. Mathies and Professional Advisor Dr. James Todd report that a great deal of work is being done by the committee in organizing the education meeting to be held on March 20th at 8 P. M., at Virginia Beach High School. New cancer films and informal discussion will be the basis of the meeting, as the information is of such vital importance to all individuals the committee is making every organization in Princess Anne County to send representatives to the meeting. Letters have been sent out to this effect but if your group has not received one please do plan to send two people. We feel that this meeting will give interested individuals an opportunity to know the work being done by the Princess Anne Unit. This is an open invitation to all to come out March 20th at 8 P. M. at the Virginia Beach High School as an individual interested in the cancer program. Along with the films and discussion period the different committee chairman will outline the work being done by the cancer unit in serving Princess Anne County and tell YOU how YOU may serve your community through the local cancer unit.

On Thursday Evening March 8 a special meeting was held at the Community House when reports on the progress of this unit were given by Mr. Bernard W. Woodhall, Executive Director of the Virginia Division and Mrs. Ashby Raine, field representative for this unit. They were greatly pleased with the unit and the wonderful progress made since the organization started in September.

The Service Program Chairman Mrs. S. Kellam, and Mrs. R. Wahab, Jr. received commendation on having designed a special slide drawing to be used by a local peace another group working for the cancer unit. The program, the Sisterhood of the Temple Emanuel of Virginia Beach, Mrs. Wahab went to the meeting to instruct this group in making the drawings. It is interesting to report that the drawings program will be getting help from the Girls Scout with Virginia Beach Troop No. 509 having started to sew for the cancer unit and others to follow. Mrs. Paul Dolgin, Secy. helped the girls get started and reported that they did very well. The unit says thank you to both groups and welcomes you to the organization. Remember additional groups are needed to please look into this very worthwhile work or your organization.

Mrs. Margaret Tompkins, President on behalf of the Princess Anne Unit of the American Cancer Society at this time would like to publicly thank the Junior Women's Club of Princess Anne County for donating their hospital bed, crutches, wheel chair and many other smaller items to us for use in the room. The members of the unit gratefully accept these items as additions to the loan and gift closet. It is encouraging to know the Jr. Women's Club has faith in the Cancer Society and such a generous contribution is most helpful and will enable the unit to carry out their work that much more efficiently.

We of the Princess Anne Unit of the American Cancer Society wish success to the Red Cross in their present drive.

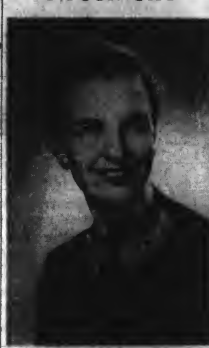

Civic League Meets

The Broad Bay Civic League was formed recently at a special meeting held on March 1, it has been announced by a spokesman for the group.

C. C. Absolon was elected chairman for the year with C. Nottingham as vice-chairman. Margaret Twigg is secretary; Thelma Sueswald, treasurer; and Kenneth Bruin, master-of-arms.

Ivan D. Mapp, Princess Anne County Commissioner of the Revenue, was special guest at the initial meeting. The regular meeting of the league will be held the first Thursday of each month.

President

Mrs. William F. Ferrell, above, has been elected president of the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County. She succeeds Mrs. James G. Kellam in the office. (Boice Photo)

B. P. Holland Is Made Mayor for Day By City

Virginia Beach's first mayor, Mr. B. P. Holland, was made "Mayor for the Day" on Tuesday by the city's present Mayor Frank A. Dusch.

The honor was bestowed on the venerable "Mayor" Holland on the occasion of Mr. Holland's 89th birthday. A gold and white rosette was pinned on Mr. Holland by Mayor Dusch which signified his honorary title for his birthday as a salute to Virginia Beach's first mayor.

Mr. Holland came to Virginia Beach prior to the time it was incorporated as a town. He was the first mayor in 1881 serving the railroad that came into Virginia Beach at that time.

When Virginia Beach was incorporated into a town in 1906 Mr. Holland became Mayor of the Town of Virginia Beach. He has resided here ever since 1891.

"Mayor" Holland still lives in the old homeplace at the corner of 12th street and Atlantic avenue where he raised his family of four boys and one girl.

Mr. Holland was given the key to the City by the Council. The key is one of his most prized possessions, and is a replica of the key at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

Being made honorary mayor for his birthday is another salute to this distinguished citizen of Virginia Beach on the occasion of Virginia Beach's fiftieth year as first a town and now a city.

Hatch Tells Of Indian Civilization Of Colonial Times in Princess Anne

John Davis Hatch, Jr., curator of the Norfolk Museum of Art and Sciences, discussed Indian civilization and early colonial history at the March meeting of the Princess Anne Garden Club. The meeting took place yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. R. Miller, Jr., at Great Neck Point.

Hatch painted an interesting picture of Indians and White settlers of the early 17th century living pleasantly together in Princess Anne County. He reported that early Indian "designs in pottery have been found that are truly distinctive" and indicated a high level of Indian culture in the colony.

The speaker described the recent excavations near Lake Joyce, which offer the first positive proof of the existence of a white settlement or trading post south of the James River.

Babe Ruth League

There will be a meeting of the Babe Ruth baseball league tonight at the Virginia Beach High School at 8:15 o'clock, it has been announced.

The Babe Ruth league is for boys 13, 14 and 15 years of age and is the league in which the Little League graduates.

All those interested in the Babe Ruth League are urged to attend tonight's meeting. The season will be for the summer months.

Easter Parade Interest Grows As Event Nears

In Norfolk, in Virginia Beach, Princess Anne County and even as far afield as Suffolk, lids are being lifted on dusty attic trunks to yield tissue wrapped treasures of bygone fashion elegance.

In response to newspaper stories, radio, TV telephone calls and just good ole "word of mouth," members of The Princess Anne Woman's Club and The Princess Anne Junior Woman's Club have gathered some delightful dresses, suits and a fascinating collection of hats bedecked with feathers, jet and cabbage roses. Many records in their history the glory of the suspicious on which they were worn, many boat Paris ledes, some are in excellent condition, some will take some "doing," to revive their glory for the Golden Jubilee Easter Parade.

The spreading enthusiasm over Virginia Beach's Broadwalk Parade and review of fashions that marked the past fifty years is bringing in leads of other sources "where past prices might be borrowed."

Many costumes are complete in ensemble and will be worn by the owner. All that are volunteer and used will be accredited to the owner with its history told in the commentary. Men's and children's fashions from 1900 through the 1920's are still on the "want list," as are women's clothes of 1910 through 1920. Items of where these can be located will be gratefully received by Mrs. Aubrey Holmes, Va. Beach 1866; Mrs. W. J. Dickens, Va. Beach 1610-M; Mrs. Harvey Williams LO 5-3222 and Mrs. James Kellam, Va. Beach 109-J11.

This review of fashions of the 1900's thru today will constitute the first part of the Easter Broadwalk Parade, scheduled at 4:00 P. M. on Saturday, March 22nd and 23rd. The parade will be a 1919 Ford complete with driver and passenger in dusters of the day. The famous "Golden Jubilee" mascot, burrow will lead the parade wearing Easter bonnets and bearing saddle baskets filled (Continued on Page Three)

Red Cross Board To Meet Next Monday

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Princess Anne Chapter of the Red Cross will be held on Monday night, March 18th, at 8:00 o'clock.

The service chairman and district fund chairman have been asked to attend this meeting.

P. A. Police In Quick Arrest Of Young Trio

Princess Anne County police required just 25 minutes to apprehend three sailors last Thursday night who had been charged with robbery by force.

The sailors, Charles E. Burgess, Robert C. Lanning and Gilbert L. Adams, have been charged with forced robbery of a taxicab driver near the Norfolk Municipal Airport on March 8.

The robbery is reported to have netted the sailors at total of three dollars. It is alleged that Burgess held the driver Adams ransacked his pockets.

The Princess Anne police were notified and apprehended the youths twenty-five minutes later after they had fled into the woods near the airport.

The trio will be given a hearing in the Princess Anne County Trial Justice court on Friday.

Disaster Relief Big Part Of Red Cross Work

The Disaster and Preparedness and Relief Committee of the Princess Anne County Red Cross Chapter is organized for the purpose of rendering prompt and efficient service in the event of unusual disaster or emergency and to insure relief of suffering as a result thereof.

To accomplish this mission the committee has organized a number of specific functions such as Warning, Rescue and Evacuation; issue of emergency clothing and food; responsibility for providing temporary shelter; responsibility for providing necessary emergency medical care; and numerous other vital jobs that would have to be done in the event of widespread disaster.

Obviously, the vast majority of the actual labor involved is donated by local citizens dedicated to the service of humanity. On the other hand, destitute families must be supplied with emergency clothing; they must be fed for a limited period of time; they need assistance in rehabilitating their homes; and medical supplies are necessary and must be purchased. These are just a few of the items for which your Red Cross dollars are urgently needed.

When your Red Cross solicitor calls to your home please remember that his time is donated and that even though you receive him graciously his task is a thankless one. He is doing a vital job in an important humanitarian cause. Please receive him kindly and give generously.

P. A. Police In Quick Arrest Of Young Trio

Princess Anne County police required just 25 minutes to apprehend three sailors last Thursday night who had been charged with robbery by force.

Public Hearing Set Friday On County Drainage Plan

Route 632 To Be Re-Surfaced

The State Highway Department will reconstruct nearly four miles of Princess Anne County Rt. 632 from US Rt. 58 at London Bridge South to Secondary Route 633. A $135,227 contract for the work has been awarded to Sam Finley, Inc., Roanoke, as a result of a low bid submitted February 29.

Plans call for replacing the present narrow and weak road with a 24-foot paved surface on a solid stabilized base and a wider road-way. The section through London Bridge will be made 30 feet wide and will include curb and gutter work.

Resident Highway Engineer E. H. Orange, of Norfolk, said the project is the first stage of proposed reconstruction of Swamp and Mapleton Roads from Virginia Beach Boulevard to Court House Road east of Princess Anne County House. The road is a direct connection to the Oceana Air Base and carries an average of 825 vehicles daily, the engineer said.

The project will be financed from Princess Anne County's share of matching Federal-aid and State highway funds under the Federal-aid Secondary program.

Lions Planning Sale Of Blind Made Products

To further their sight conservation and blind aid work, the Lions Clubs of Virginia Beach, Kemperville, Backside and Oceana will join with other Lions Clubs in Tidewater on May 2, 3 and 4 in the sale of blind-made products.

On the three nights, between the hours of 6 and 9 p.m., the Lions will make a house to house canvass, selling products made by blind people working for the Virginia Commission for the Blind.

Money raised through the sale of the products will be used by the local clubs in conducting their various activities. Each of the clubs conducts eye examinations in city and county schools. In addition they finance eye examinations, provide white canes and offer other aid to the blind in cases where there is a genuine need.

At Virginia Beach, members of the Virginia Beach Lions Club will sell house brooms and ironing board mats and covers.

In the Kemperville area, members of the club there will offer for sale house brooms, whisk brooms, door mats, aprons and ironing board, mats and covers.

In the Chesapeake Beach, Oceana Park and Bayside area, the Bayside Lions Club will sell house brooms, whisk brooms and door mats.

New Church To Be Erected At Virginia Beach

The R. R. Richardson Company, a Norfolk contracting firm, has been awarded a contract for the construction of the new Galilee Episcopal Church at 40th St. and Pacific Ave.

The Norfolk company's bid of $320,000 was the lowest received, a spokesman for the church said. The total cost including land acquisition and furnishings is expected to reach $360,000.

The new edifice, designed by Paul D. Woodward, a Norfolk architect, is to be built at 40th Street and Pacific Avenue on a tract of land recently acquired by the church.

Of colonial architecture, the all-brick structure will be in fact in series of buildings. A church sanctuary will have a seating capacity of 476. In addition there will be a chapel, choir rooms, offices and other auxiliary spaces and a Christian education building of two stories.

Work is to begin next week with completion slated for some time this fall.

CHANGE DRAW ROOMS

Many people who are remodeling their older homes frequently turn to wood paneling to give new life and sparkle to once-draw rooms. For more formal rooms, clear, straight-grained boards of Douglas fir, western red cedar or west coast hemlock can be used. For family rooms, dens or kitchens, lumber can be selected which enhances the beauty of grain, texture and color.

Planning Benefit Dance

Final plans being made by Miss Anne Davis, Chairman; Mrs. E. R. Amburn, Publicity; (standing) Mrs. Hester Neal, Tickets; for the Benefit Dance sponsored by Alpha Chi Chapter Beta Sigma Phi Sorority to be held March 16th at the American Legion. Proceeds will go to the Tidewater Association for Retarded Children. (Boice Photo)

Mrs. Grover Speaks To Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Kempsville Lions Club were very privileged and delighted to have as their guest speaker, Monday March 13th, Mrs. Grover, wife of Rev. W. W. Grover, retired Presbyterian minister.

The Club met at Wheeler's restaurant on Virginia Beach Blvd for their regular monthly dinner meeting at 7:00 p.m. A good representation of the Club was present. The ladies were especially pleased to have the three new members of last meeting among them.

After a brief business meeting, the speaker was introduced by Mrs. Horace Culppepper. Mrs. Grover, a very fluent, instructive as well as entertaining speaker, spoke on gardens. Beginning with the planting of the garden at the time of the creation of man down to the quieting solacing effect of a garden on man today. She spoke of her own garden, designed and for the most part planted by her own hands, as a place of romance, meditation, solace and where many people have asked to come to be alone with nature to solve some vital problem.

Each member voiced the sentiment that truly they had received a great lift along the highway of life.

The well wishes of the Club go with Mrs. R. M. Whitfield, pres. and Mrs. Don Meadows, treas. Both are entering hospitals for surgery before the next meeting.

H. D. PLEMMONS ELECTED

Mr. H. D. Plemmons of Clark Chevrolet Corp., Virginia Beach, Va. last week attended the annual banquet of the Richmond Chevrolet Zone Parts Record Club.

The banquet was held at the Jefferson Hotel in Richmond, Virginia and every Parts Manager who attended received a favor in addition to enjoying a floor show. Officers installed for 1956 included: M. L. Wood of Chase City, President; H. D. Plemmons, Virginia Beach, Vice-President; H. H. Blaska, Richmond, Va., Secretary; and H. T. Clary, Jr., Lawrenceville, Va., Treasurer.

Dr. Kibler is chief resident in internal medicine at the University of Pittsburgh. His wife is the former Miss Jane Corpening Kornegar, of Virginia Beach. They are frequent visitors to Virginia Beach.

Club Meeting

The Cape Henry By-the-Sea Garden Club met Monday at the home of Mrs. James Standing on 47th Street. Specimens of Camellias and Daffodils were exhibited and blue ribbons were awarded Mrs. Maurice Nordlinger, Mrs. Trudy Hoffer and Mrs. James Standing. A Nominating Committee to bring in a slate of officers for the coming year were named as follows: Mrs. Phillip Sullivan, Chairman; Mrs. R. J. Cherry, and Mrs. Maurice Nordlinger.

Horticulture notes were read and various sprays were suggested for use at this time of the year by Mrs. Hoffer.

Mrs. R. J. Cherry was hostess, and Mrs. J. W. Watson guest for the day.

CHAMPION FLOOR

The world's largest log cabin, built in Portland, Oregon in 1905 for the Columbia Exposition World's fair, has become a popular tourist attraction with an estimated 150,000 visitors annually. Interesting is the fact that the floor of Douglas fir is still in excellent shape after 50 years of hard usage and more than 5,000,000 users.

government to maintain canals once they have been dug.

The package plan to be advanced also includes:

1. A drainage canal from Mapleton to West Neck Creek in the County. It would drain swamp land which backs up water around Dozier's Bridge.
2. A drainage canal from North Landing to County Creek to relieve flooding in the Salem area.
3. Opening of Mill Dam Creek in the Blackwater District.
4. Opening of Oakum Creek to the Inland Waterway.

FRAMING ORIENTAL RUG

The perfect background for the rich and exotic colors of oriental rugs in any room of the home is a carefully finished wood floor. There is something inherently beautiful about the grain and texture and soft natural colors of Douglas fir or west coast hemlock flooring which seem to bring out the best in an oriental rug.

Azalea Queen To Appear At Relief Ball

An elaborate greeting has been planned for the "two night" appearance of the 1956 Azalea Queen, Miss Nell Eastland and her court, during the Navy Relief Ball which will be held on April 13 and 14 at the Norfolk Naval Base Gymnasium.

Queen Nell and her princesses from 12 NATO countries will pass through the Gilbert St. entrance with a two Marine guard into the gym which will be decorated as an old Southern Mansion. Other decorations will carry out the theme of Azalea Festival.

An announcer at the main door will announce the name of each princess and the country they represent. They will be: Penelope Smith, Canada; Yvonne de Freitas, Portugal; Kitty Johansson, Iceland; Claude Saubestre, France; Anne Groven, Belgium; Bjord Dingstad, Norway; Nina Holst, Denmark; Donatella Ortona, Italy; Diana Farrant, Great Britain; Rose Marie Majerus, Luxembourg; Anne Constantinople, Greece; and Sevil Denizalp, of Turkey.

Queen Nell Eastland, daughter of Senator James O. Eastland, of Mississippi, will represent the United States and is the Third International Court and Festival ruler of the Norfolk Azalea Gardens.

On both evenings of the ball, the Queen and her court will be greeted by Rear Admiral I. N. Kiland, Commandant, Fifth Naval District upon their arrival shortly after 10 P. M.

During the last night of the ball, the Royal ladies and their families will be guests at a dinner which will be held at the Norfolk Naval Base Commissioned Officer's Club prior to the evening's festivities.

Two orchestras will appear at the ball on both nights to furnish music for the guests dancing pleasure. The Valley Forge "Choralliers", Lieutenant (jg) Ted Forte, USN, and Portsmouth Naval Hospital WAVE Nancy Peterson will provide the vocal entertainment.

Advance ticket sales for the Enlisted Ball on Friday, April 13, will begin on March 15, at the Navy Exchanges and at Naval Relief Headquarters in the Naval Station Old Hostess House. Enlisted tickets will be $1.00 per couple and seating will be on a first come first serve basis.

Tickets and reservations for the Officer's Ball on April 14, are already on sale at the Navy Relief Society Headquarters. Officer donations will be $5.00 per person for commanders and above and civilians. Lieutenant Commanders and below will be required to sub-

Economical performance is the big reason why Ford's the V-8 leader!

It takes a FORD to squeeze maximum power out of today's gasoline

Prefer a SIX?

Ford is the only manufacturer who gives you a Short Stroke Six in the light-duty field. It's the most modern, most efficient Six because it gives you more horsepower per cubic inch than any other Six. And in a Ford Six you get integral valve guides, free-run intake and exhaust valves—plus a deep-skirt crankcase for longer, smoother engine operation.

Shown above is the biggest Pickup box in the 3-ton field—a new 8-ft. box, available on the Ford Pickup at low extra cost.

Only Ford gives you modern Short Stroke power—V-8 or Six—in every truck! Short Stroke design means up to 53% more power with no increase in engine size

Just one kind of engine can give you all the mileage built into today's gas. And that's a modern Short Stroke engine—the new kind of truck power pioneered by Ford.

Short Stroke engines develop the kind of power that used to be possible only with much bigger engines. And Short Stroke engines do it on less gas! The shorter stroke means less piston travel, which means less friction to waste power and gas, and less wear, too. You get more usable power also—power that works for you at the rear wheels!

New Ford Trucks save you money when you buy! Ford is America's lowest priced line of V-8 trucks.* And right now your Ford Dealer is offering attractive terms for spring. Call him today and find out what a sweet deal you can get!

Virginia Spending Program Is Largest In History Of The State

The largest capital outlay program and the largest increase in funds for public education in the history of Virginia were among major items of legislation resulting from the 1955 session of the General Assembly.

The Assembly, completing one of the most harmonious and smooth-functioning sessions in years, concluded its 90 days work at 5:45 P. M. March 10 and set March 30 for the usual "constructive" session when presiding officers and enrolling committees return to sign bills passed in the closing days.

A great part of the important enactments were related to the Appropriation Act, which makes available approximately $369,000,000 for expenditure during the next two years from the General Fund and an additional $930,000,000 from special funds.

The huge capital outlay program, with emphasis on mental hospitals and institutions of higher learning, provides some $62,000,000 for buildings and improvements during the two years. It was made possible by Governor Stanley's program for accelerating individual income and public service corporation taxes so that a windfall in excess of $57,000,000 will be picked up during the next fiscal year. The rest of the capital outlay money will be available from surplus.

The session ended without a clear-cut decision on school segregation policies, although there was virtual unanimity on the desire for continued segregation. The legislature carried through one of the major recommendations of the Commission on Public Education, providing an amendment to the State constitution so that public funds can be used for tuition grants to parents of pupils attending private non-sectarian schools. It also related college and war orphan tuition grants which had been invalidated by the State Supreme Court, pending a change in the constitution.

A pupil assignment plan, and other recommendations of the Commission on Public Education, were deferred with the understanding among legislators that these items could be considered in special session when advisable, or necessary. One of the later debates was on a resolution offered by Speaker E. Blackburn Moore of Berryville, with 63 co-sponsors, to declare a policy of continued segregation in 1956-57 and against an early special session. The resolution passed the House 2 to 1 but was killed by the Senate Rules committee. This, in effect, left the next step up to the Governor and the State Board of Education. There was no disagreement as to objection to continued segregation but members differed on the policy which best would accomplish it and at the same time avoid Federal court involvements.

The major policy statement on the segregation issue was the Resolution of Interposition, adopted by overwhelming votes in both Houses, declared the Supreme Court of the U. S. decision an illegal encroachment on the rights of the states and pledging its resistance by honorable, legal and constitutional means. Another resolution by Delegate Sam Pope of Southampton was approved on the final day declaring state policy to be against mixing of the races in athletic competition among the state's free public schools.

The Assembly approved all of Governor Stanley's recommendations. These included the capital outlay program and the budget; establishment of a Business Manager for the State Mental Hospital System, appointed by him and under his supervision; increases in Workman's Compensation and Unemployment compensation; limitation of service on various boards and commissions to two full terms; studies of the distribution of highway revenues and related matters, and also of the sales tax and other state-local revenue problems, by September 1, 1956, and steps to strengthen traffic law enforcement. The latter includes an increase of 50 men in the state police force.

The final block to adjournment was cleared when a conference report on the budget bill was adopted restoring $350,000 for a nuclear reactor at the University of Virginia.

VIRGINIA:
The regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Prince Anne County, was held in the Supervisor's Room, of the Clerk's Office, on Monday, February 27th, 1956, at ten o'clock A. M.

Motion by Mr. Darden, and seconded by Mr. Whitehurst, that the following Ordinance be adopted:

An Ordinance regulating the use of County property and Rights of way for road improvements and drainage.

From and after the effective date of this Ordinance it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to alter in any way the existing surface of any right-of-way, drainage, easement or other County property, until such person, persons, firm or corporation shall have first obtained permission for such improvement from the County Planning Commission, or its Agent shall specify any and all improvements to be made and shall also specify the condition upon which such improvement shall be made in order to insure the satisfactory completion of such work in the interest of the general public.

And further that it shall constitute a misdemeanor for any person, persons, firm or corporation to commence into any such improvement without a permit from the County Planning Commission or its Agent.

No person, persons, firm or corporation shall for any reason obstruct any ditch, water course or drainage easement in such a manner as to cause the stoppage of water across and along such ditch, water course or drainage easement, unless satisfactory evidence has been given to the County Planning Commission that such stoppage will not cause damage or flooding of public or private lands.

This Ordinance shall be enforced by the County Planning Commission or its Agent.

Any person or persons who violate any section of this Ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than fifty dollars ($50.00) nor more than two hundred dollars ($200.00) and each day's continuance of such violation shall constitute a separate offense.

All voting yes:

Girl Scouts Celebrating 44th Birthday This Year

Local Scouting Entering 40th Year of Activity

This is the National Girl Scout of America celebrating their 44th birthday and we in Princess Anne County are proud that this is our 40th year. Forty years ago the first troop was formed in Princess Anne County by Mrs. George W. Boush in Oceana. This troop was known as Daisy Troop No. 1, National Troop No. 334 and the following eight girls registered: Mary Parker, Edith McKenney, Annie Gilbert, Margaret Balliol, Anne H. Boush, Elizabeth Porter, Boris Seede, Louise Hunter.

From this small group, Girl Scouting in Princess Anne has grown to the largest total membership in our history with a registration of over 877 girls; brownie, intermediate, seniors and 196 adults with a total of 46 troops.

Princess Anne District of the Virginia Tidewater Area Council is proud of its accomplishments of the past year having helped others through participation in many community projects. Since the theme for girl scout week this year is "This is our Town," it is especially fitting that our girls have been an active part of the following worth while events: Princess Anne T. B. Association, American Cancer Society, March of Dimes, Jr. Woman's Club Welfare Bank, Joy Fund.

For the first time, this year the girl scouts are having a Senior round-up on a national scale. Over 5000 outstanding girls from all parts of the United States and possessions will participate in an adventure in the out-of-doors. This mass encampment will take place June 26 through July 10 on a camp site located 40 miles North of Detroit. Princess Anne is delighted that two delegates and one alternate have been chosen from this district. They are Lila Rose Davis, and Alice Savage delegates and Grace Tucker alternate from Virginia Beach Troop No. 205. Since the national theme of the round-up is "Americans" and camping will be done on a primitive level we feel this will be a memorable experience for all the girls fortunate enough to be able to go. The basic requirement that campers luggage measure only 28 inches in length has already tested the girls' natural ingenuity. Every delegate has been asked to bring some local history of the section she represents as well as four original pieces of handicraft of the area. Mrs. V. Hope Kellum has assisted the girls in getting together this information. One of the high lights of the encampment will be a swap tent where the girls can trade products and souvenirs which they take with them representing the different parts of the country. If anyone has a suggestion and would like to help these girls in any way please call the Girl Scout office in Norfolk. There will be eight girls going from the Virginia Tidewater Area, they will be known as Patrol No. 17. It is interesting to note that all these girls have completed the five point program.

It is again the pleasure of the Girl Scout Day Camp Committee to announce the opening dates of Day Camp. Linkhorn at Virginia Beach; Browne Camp July 9th through July 19; Intermediate Camp July 23 through Aug. 2 Monday to Thursday. This year's camp committee will be Mrs. Paul Dolgins, Day Camp Chairman; Mrs. Glenn Dill, Day Camp Director; Mrs. Lewis G. Payne, Asst. Director.

The Virginia Beach Neighborhood is planning a Girl Scout Rally to be held March 17 at 2 o'clock in Virginia Beach High School. The Theme of the Parent will be "Girl Scouts Also Serve" and thirteen girls will be presented with the highest award a Girl Scout can receive. We all feel this will be a most fitting climax to Girl Scout week and we hope everyone will attend.

The Girl Scouts celebrate their 44th birthday this week and pictured above are Princess Anne Girl Scouts in some of the varied activities that occupied their scout time during 1955. The local girl scout program has advanced rapidly during the past several years. All

Princess Anne Training School

By Shirley Hamberry

Hello there, folks, we greet you again with everything good for continued success out there in life. Life is still full and exciting around our school. Curricula, and extra-curricula activities are in full swing. This week is being observed as "Girls Scout Week." The teachers and students of our school are being informed and inspired regarding the history, life, and activities of the "Girl Scouts" program and its progress in America. Girl Scouts conducted devotional exercises over the public address system in our school. On Wednesday, the Girl Scouts had a demonstration in the auditorium, which included singing, folk dancing, and a camping scene. A birthday party was given for all scouts immediately after the demonstration. Girl scout activities were sponsored by Miss O. F. Daughtry, Miss O. V. Kimble, Mrs. K. P. White, and Mrs. C. M. Frink. Mrs. Sadie Campbell and Mrs. A. A. Dugan, scout leaders, helped to sponsor it also.

Our school was host to the Girls' VII, Group II, District VI, Basketball Tournament Friday and Saturday, March 9th and 10th. The participating schools were Disputanta of Disputanta, Hayden of Franklin, Carver of South Norfolk, Luther P. Jackson, of Dendron, Courtland of Southampton, Sussex of Waverly, Nansemond of Holland, Isle of Wight of Smithfield, and Princess Anne of Princess Anne, Va.

The first round was played between Disputanta and Hayden with Disputanta winning with a score of 27 to 21 points. Miss Orlie Rose was high point scorer for Disputanta with 15 points. Miss Wilhelmina Hargant of Hayden scored with 13 points. The second round saw Carver of South Norfolk and Luther P. Jackson of Dendron battle for supremacy of the court. Carver victoriously won by a great margin with the final score of 67-16. Miss Francine Wynn of Carver led the Pirettes with 9 points. Miss Rebecca Sevedge of L. P. Jackson was high scorer with 8 points.

Girl Scout Rally

The Girl Scouts of Virginia Beach will have their Annual Rally at the Virginia Beach High School on Saturday March 17th at 2:00 p.m. This will be the second all Virginia Beach Rally.

A pageant "Girl Scouts Also Serve" will show how all Girl Scouts are prepared to serve their community. Our Senior Troop, nine Intermediate Troops and seven Brownie Troops will participate. The Curved Bar, the highest rank in Girl Scouting will be awarded to thirteen girls, twenty-six Scouts will receive First Class Rank and the same number will receive five-year pins.

There will be an exhibit in the main hall of the High School showing the crafts of the troops.

The public is invited as well as parents, sisters and brothers of Girl Scouts. All persons interested and connected with Scouting are urged to attend.

nal score). Again Miss Francine Wynn stood out with her sharp eye for the basket, scoring 33 points in that game. As the tournament was gradually nearing an end, the tension was somewhat lessened and again the two top teams, Smithfield and Princess Anne met to battle for the greatest honor of it all, the championship trophy. Smithfield finally emerged the victors with a score of 37-23. This declared Smithfield champions of District VII, Group II, and Princess Anne runner-up champions. Carver won the consolation trophy. Princess Anne has been successful this year in reducing Carver (boys and girls) to the consolation trophies.

Mr. J. V. Boykin, the principal, and his faculty were honored to be host school to the tournament. Mr. P. D. Wann awarded the beautiful trophies to their respective winners. The World's largest operational seaplane is the Navy's Mar. The U. S. Navy was officially established in 1797.

Local Basket Ball Team Wins State Honors

The Snow White entry successfully defended their State Crown last Sunday in Richmond, but only after holding off a second half surge, by the Surf Queens from Virginia Beach, that cut an eleven point lead down to one point before Jean Hollomon drove in for a final basket to make the score read 33-30.

Becky Gallup led the second half play for the Queens by bucketing 9 points.

The defensive play of Barbara Whitehead and Barbara Kernan was outstanding for the Surf girls. The John Tucker coaches sextette placed three players on the All State Teams and Geraldine Middett brought home the Free throw title with 22 of 25 free throws.

Charlotte Marshall and Topsy Dahn made the First All State team while Doris Etheridge was First Coffee-Break was in 1554. Coffee houses, or cafes, originated in Istanbul, Turkey, in 1554 — when the city was still known as "Constantinople" — and first became popular throughout Europe in the late 17th century, after the coffee-loving Turks had occupied Eastern Europe up to Vienna. The Turkish custom of lingering over a cup of coffee" soon became a continental institution.

Standout Performances Electrify In Bold Drama 'The Rose Tattoo'

"The Rose Tattoo," the first American film of Italy's, and perhaps the world's, greatest actress, Anna Magnani, has emerged as a motion picture of the rarest quality—a masterpiece whose thunderbolt drama is matched not only by its astounding performance but by the wizardry of its production and direction.

Starting March 21st at The Beach Theatre with Miss Magnani starred opposite a magnificent Burt Lancaster, the Hal Wallis film of Pulitzer Prize winner Tennessee Williams' sensational play is probably the most unashamedly frank story of love ever to come out of Hollywood. Yet, as fearless as it is in its outspoken picturing of the raw emotions of an earthy group of Oult Coast people, it maintains from beginning to end an extraordinary insight into its characters that you can't help but share every sob, every laugh, all the lusty pounding of the blood with them.

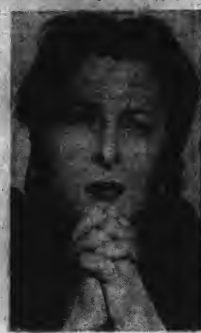

"The Rose Tattoo" tells of Sicilian-born widow, Anna Magnani, whose great pride in her late husband's love causes her to live in the past, until gossip about his lack of fidelity begins to shake her flimsy world.

At this point, Lancaster begins a courtship that shakes both Miss Magnani and their audience—with laughter and tears. It's the cruelest, wildest courtship ever, and it took a great actor to portray the role, and a great actress to match it.

When into the theme is the agonizingly sweet yet bold love story of the widow's lovely daughter and her sailor boy friend, played by Maria Pavan and Ben Cooper. Several of the scenes between the budding girl hungering for womanhood and her still innocent young man, as they find first love, fairly blaze with unabashed fervor.

The fiery Virginia Grey portrays the girl rumored to have shared the love of the husband. She and the tempestuous Magnani engage in a bout of a barroom brawl.

Freight Increase Will Affect Price Of Coal

The freight rate increase approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission effective March 7, 1956 will result in an annual increase in freight on coal of $342,000 to the Virginia Electric and Power Company, according to E. H. Will, President.

He stated that if this amount, $399,000 will be passed on to consumers through the application of the coal clause in the Company's rates. Residential rates of the Company have no fuel clause. The Commission, however, in approving this increase, decreased the increase asked by the railroads from 7% to 6%, and exempted a long list of products, namely coal, lumber and farm goods from the full increase. In the case of coal, the maximum increase allowed was 15 cents per ton.

To protect its consumers, as well as its own interest, Vepco joined with 13 other utilities to oppose the 7% increase.

The group included utilities from Michigan to Georgia. Among them were Appalachian Electric Power Company of Roanoke, Virginia; Carolina Power and Light Company of Raleigh, N. C.; Duke Power Company of Charlotte, N. C.; and Potomac Electric Power Company of Washington, D. C.

The group urged the Interstate Commerce Commission to take note of the fact that the electric utilities consume more coal than any other single industry and freight rates were already 90% of the price of coal at the mine. Further increases, the group argued, may lead to the substitution of other fuels and the location of new generating stations near the mine so as to transmit power by wire instead of shipping coal.

National Little League News

Registration Friday 16 March ... Registration of National Little League players and aspirants will take place on the evening of 16 March at the Virginia Beach High School between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. If you live from 2614 St. Southward and have a boy from 8 to 12 years in age, be sure to register him so that he will have the opportunity to play baseball this summer. Tryouts start on 17 March.

Work on the new dougouts at the official Little League Diamond is coming right along. The concrete foundations were poured on Friday 9 March. Resurfacing of the infield got a start Saturday when a working party of Little League Fathers cleared off the grass which had gotten started during this early Spring weather we've been having. Mr. Buba Bayne's crew will take over to finish the job.

One of the Little League rules which differs from regular baseball is that the baserunner must hold his base until the ball crosses home plate before he can attempt to steal a base. This rule of course permits the pitcher to take a full wind up with each pitch and concentrate on getting the ball over the plate. More important is the fact that he full wind up is easier on the pitcher's arm than the pitch from the chest position.

Ever been to a box-social? If so you don't have to be told that it's a lot of fun. Just in case you haven't, it works like this—admission to the dance per couple is a box-lunch for two prepared by the lady and presented at the door. Later in the evening an auctioneer auctions off the lunch to the gent who bids highest for it.

The lady who prepared the box must then be his dinner partner. This bit of information will stand you in good stead at the Box-Social tentatively set by Mrs. Michaels and her committee for Thursday evening the 12th of April at the American Legion Hall. Proceeds will go towards the National Little League. More about this later.

LITTLE LEAGUE PERSONALITIES

The Allen Boys, Russell and Leaky manage the Moose Lodge "Little Giant" team. Do they do a good job of it? Well their team won the National Little League Pennant last year and played an excellent brand of ball in the doing. The Allen boys' teach their team heads-up base running and the Giant's took many an extra base last year. The Allen boys have played quite a bit of local baseball and softball and they know the game. Better than this qualification, they know KID'S.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Information "On The Line"

I was reading the other day how a person can get all sorts of things just by dialing a number on his telephone.

In New York you can get the time, the weather, or a prayer. In Philadelphia it's the stock reports. In Boston a voice tells bird watchers what's to be watched in the park.

Over in Europe, they go further. Vienna offers a five-minute fairy tale for kids. In Switzerland you can get the news in any of three languages. And a couple of places have "talking menus" for desperate housewives.

From where I sit, it doesn't matter if ideas are put out by telephone, through editorials, or in person—as long as we can take them or leave them. I happen to like a glass of beer with my supper. You may prefer coffee, tea or branch water. Well, there's no harm in "listening" to another's opinions ... but if he should try to force them on you, it's always an American's privilege to simply "hang up!"

GARDEN GUIDE

By
J. WILSON
ANDERSON

Everyone is familiar with the old favorite wax begonias, however for a really interesting addition to your plant collection, try growing tuberous rooted begonias. They are grown from "bulbs" (technically tubers) and are guaranteed to provide you with many envious compliments from your neighbors.

Tuberous begonias have had a slow start in popularity in this country, but are now catching on like wildfire. They are quite vivid and striking in their appearance and never fail to interest many when displayed at flower shows.

FLOWERS

The color range of the flowers found in tuberous begonias is almost incomparable to any other group of plants. There are reds of all hues, pinks, white, orange and yellow. The depth and vividness of color is seldom duplicated in other plants. Only blue is absent as it is in so many other favorites. The flower forms may be either single, or semi-double.

LIKE SHADE

One outstanding feature that should interest many garden lovers in this plant is the fact that it is possibly the most colorful plant which can be grown in a shaded area. Birdneck and Linkhorn Park residents should especially prize this feature.

SOIL PREFERENCE

Since Birdneck Point, Bay Colony, and the Atlantic Avenue areas represent three entirely different soil types you may wonder whether you could grow tuberous begonias or not but you need wonder no further. Tuberous begonias will grow in any kind of soil so long as they are given drainage. Since they are surface rooting plants, you need only to spade up or build a bed several inches high-her than the surrounding area to provide the sufficient drainage. Apply generous amounts of organic matter such as peat moss, woods soil or leaf mold to the bed and work it into the top two or three inches. The tubers are planted about a inch deep anytime from now on and by late July should flower.

A few points should be mentioned about the care of the plants. They have thick fleshy stems that are somewhat brittle, therefore, if your plants are located where they may possibly be subjected to wind by all means stake them with a short bamboo cane and tie the stem to the stake for support.

Since the plants are surface rooters as mentioned be sure to water them frequently in the summer. Unlike lawn watering give the begonias light drinks often to keep the upper soil layer moist. Insect and disease trouble should be few, if any. Mealy bugs may occasionally get on the plant so watch for them and spray with nicotine and soap, if present. Avoid wetting the foliage late in the day when watering and you

FORT STORY NEWS

To first government-built lighthouse in the United States, erected in 1791 on land that is now a part of Ft. Story, is being restored.

Workmen from Norfolk, Va., engineering firm were repairing the inside of the tower this week. Plans call for the copper canopy which topped the lighthouse to be replaced as soon as possible. The canopy was removed after it was badly mangled by hurricane "Barbara" in 1953.

A representative of the engineering firm said it would probably be two to three months before the old lighthouse was completely restored, inside and out.

Units of the 10th Transportation Battalion completed their annual Army Training Test March 9. During the four-day field pro-will head off fungus disease.

Tuberous begonias are the name. Try some this year, and they will surely become a must next year.

blem, three amphibious truck companies and a terminal service company, coordinated to move cargo from ship-to-shore and shore-to-ship. The test followed an intensive seven-week Army Training Program.

New commanding officer of the 558th Transportation Company at Ft. Story is 1st Lt. Melvin I. Feldman.

Lt. Feldman replaces Capt. George G. Hendrickson, who is now operations and training officer for the 1st Transportation Battalion.

The 558th is the parent unit of the Transportation Corps' gaint wheel amphibious BARC.

Recently appointed commanding officer of the 899th Terminal Services Company, which came to Ft. Story from Oakland Army Base, Calif., less men and equipment, is 1st Lt. James P. Dollard. Lt. Dollard will have the job of bringing the unit, one of four terminal service companies on the post, up to operating strength.

Feature attraction at the monthly business meeting of the Ft. Story Officers' Wives Club March 7 was a "white elephant" sale to raise money for the new post nursery. Each of the wives contributed 25 cents for a white elephant-type gift brought by another member of the club. The sale netted about $10.

A reserve officer who used a variety of talents to make a lasting contribution to the Army during a 21-month tour at Ft. Story will be released from active duty March 13.

1st Lt. John T. Willison, who plans to work for an advertising agency in Pittsburgh, Pa., when he becomes a civilian, captained the rifle team during his entire tour at the Cape Henry post.

Recently, he supervised the remodeling of the post indoor rifle range and promoted a post-wide small bore rifle match. He then switched from supervisor to active participant and won the post individual small bore rifle championship.

Willison also called on a college background in dramatics to produce two skits which proved valuable as graphic training aids. The young officer came to Ft. Story in May, 1954. He served as executive officer of the 208th (now 347th) and 458th Transportation Companies before being assigned to the 54th (now 378th) Transportation Battalion as adjutant. After serving as adjutant from August, 1954, to July, 1955, Willison became project officer for the battalion S-3. He was project officer for ROTC training in 1955.

Willison's next and last assignment at Ft. Story was as post operations and training officer.

LET'S GET THEM OUT OF THE WAY! YOU WILL BENEFIT

Competitive pricing, practiced without restrictions by most American businesses, is denied the transportation industry by outmoded government regulations. The result is that shippers frequently must pay higher freight rates than otherwise would be necessary.

These higher charges are passed down the normal channel of product distribution—to wholesalers, retailers and, finally, to you! For freight transportation costs are included in the price you pay for goods shipped into your community.

President Eisenhower's special Advisory Committee on Transportation, composed of Commerce Secretary Weeks and other high-ranking government officials who have no personal or business connections with any transportation companies, have made recommendations on our country's transportation policies and practices which are the basis of legislation now being studied by Congress. Passage of these recommendations (popularly called the Weeks Report) would permit railroads and other forms of regulated transportation greater freedom in basing tariffs on their own competitive merits; at the same time allowing the government to retain authority to prevent charges which are unreasonably high, low or discriminatory. It would give the railroads no advantage which other forms of transportation do not already have or would not receive.

Improvements in transportation service and efficiency will accrue naturally under this freer system of open competition, and the resulting benefits will be passed on to producers, shippers, retailers—and, ultimately, to you, the consuming public, who in the end pay transportation costs.

Urge your Congressman to help get outmoded regulations out of the way—you will benefit.

CHESAPEAKE BEACH NEWS

The Bayside Jr. Woman's Club met Tuesday night, March 6th at 8:00 P.M. at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center. The following slate of officers was presented to the club, to be voted on at the next meeting: Mrs. C. E. Cummings, president; Miss Barbara Greenhouse, vice-president; Miss Susanne Harrell, recording secretary; Mrs. L. A. Hackworth, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. J. C. Harmon, treasurer.

The club has chosen three drives they will take part in during the coming year - polo, multiple sclerosis and mentally retarded.

Mrs. C. E. Cummings and Mrs. W. H. Etheredge were appointed delegates to the March 15th meeting of the Tidewater District Federation of Woman's Clubs which will be held at the Nantuxent Hotel.

Mrs. Violet Lee Smith, beautician, led an informal question and answer period. She stated that in her twenty-four years of experience, she had never seen an ugly woman. She urged women to find their assets and make the most of them.

Mrs. E. L. Cooper visited the club and invited the members to join the Association for Preservation of Virginia Antiques.

The "Shut-In" Club, sponsored by the Garden Department of the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach, will meet Thursday, March 21st at the home of Mrs. G. E. Watson on Bradford Drive.

This club is fast outgrowing its name as many of the members are getting out and taking an active part. Hat making will be featured at this meeting. Mrs. Harry Fulford is the hostess for the group.

The Bayside Baptist Chapel will hold its Spring Revival beginning Sunday night April 9th and continuing through Saturday night, May 5th. The Rev. Jack Altman, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church of Norfolk will be the guest Evangelist.

VIRGINIA BEACH HIGH SCHOOL

V. B. H. S. HAS EVALUATION

In the last few weeks, many students of Virginia Beach High School and many parents have heard that the school is undergoing an evaluation program. Few realize the purpose of this program or what will result from it.

The primary purpose of the evaluation program is the improvement of the high school as to the services it renders to the youth of the community. A committee composed of prominent educators visits the school and examines its educational values, students ideas and views, and the teaching methods. After the committee investigates the school and judges its standards, it presents an oral and a written report to the faculty, school board, interested patrons, and administration of the school.

Following the evaluation, which should result in a stimulating force leading to definite improvements in services offered by the school to its pupils and the community, the school will conduct a self-analysis program.

If Virginia High School receives a sufficient rating on the evaluation, it will become accredited with the Southern Intercollegiate Association of High Schools and Colleges.

The purpose of the Virginia Beach High School is to create an interest in art among the students. During the club periods, the members have a chance to express their artistic abilities and to work in many different phases of art.

The Art Club tries to beautify the school and to publicize school events. The members make posters and decorate and lunchroom for various holidays and other events, and also make posters publicizing school dances and games.

The Art Club is sponsored by Miss Bacman and Miss Alexander.

On Monday, Virginia Beach High demonstrated safe driving. Everyone should know about safe driving and we learned a lot. We had a short film and then a very good lecture on safe driving. After that, we went outside and had a demonstration by two student drivers. It was very informative.

Virginia Beach High will be coming soon and all students are supposed to come in costume (it is cheaper that way).

V.B.H.S. STUDENTS ATTEND S. C. A. CONVENTION

V. B. H. S. CANDIDATES FOR DISTRICT OFFICERS

The V. B. H. S. Student Council Association has selected the following proposed candidates for Tri-C officers. They are as follows: Diane McCombs, President; Bob Keville, Vice-President; Betty Southerland, Secretary; Alyce Savage, Treasurer; Warfield Leake, Reporter.

The Tri-C District is composed of Norfolk and Princess Anne County Schools. We are hoping to have good luck in having some of our candidates elected to these positions.

QUIZ EM ON THE AIR VA. BEACH BEATS PERQUIMANS

On Thursday, March 8, Virginia Beach High School defeated Per-quimans High School of Hartford, North Carolina, in the Quiz Em on the Air Contest. The final score of the contest held in the Virginia Beach High auditorium was 558 to 450. This advanced Virginia Beach High into the quarter-finals where they will meet Granby High School on April 21.

The team of Virginia Beach was composed of Betty Southerland, Mahone Tarrall, Leland Robinson, and Tona Supack. Miss Dolly Bray was the faculty sponsor. Each was awarded a Quiz Em papermate pen and the school library received a copy of the book, WHO WAS WHEN.

Mrs. Grace Jordan was judge of the program with Ray Turner as Quizmaster and Winston Hoke as the announcer.

IS HUMANITY NECESSARY?

We are facing today a possibility that is new under the sun—namely that life on this planet may be exterminated. Due to the destruction potential in "fall-out" from the general use of atomic weapons, we must now contemplate such a result. It may not happen; it need not happen. But it is possible and the possibility we must face.

Fortunately, the Bible gives us light at this point. Isaiah the prophet faced the end of the world. He saw that the Hebrew people, the people of the divine covenant, were doomed to destruction. He predicted it in awful language. But he did not argue from destruction to atheism; he reargued in exactly the opposite way. He did not end his prediction of doom by saying: "This proves there is no God and humanity is hopeless." He said, rather, "O Lord, Thou art my God; I will exalt Thee, I will praise Thy name; for Thou hast done wonderful things, plans formed of old, faithful and sure."

THE END OF ATHEISM

One point of faith is definitely established by the possibility of total human destruction. If you are a humanist, you no longer have any leg to stand on. If you think the world is getting better and man's ingenuity will finally bring it to perfect pitch, you are all through. For the disappearance of man leaves you with nothing. Man will have gone, and since you have put all your eggs in his basket, they will be gone with him.

The Bible writers understood very well that this world was passing away. We read that "all flesh is like grass." It won't last; it can't last. "But," the writer continues, "the word of the Lord abides forever."

What will last? Our skyscrapers, our industry, our business, our government, our civilization, the world we live in, our life? No! all of this is on the way out. One day this will all end in stark, silent death.

WHY ARE WE HERE?

What, then, will be left? Nothing but the word of the Lord or God. That was before the world began, is now, and shall be evermore. All that it touches, all that is included in its majestic sweep—that lives, the rest dies and is gone. Why is the world here? It is a means to an end and the end is God. Why is there oxygen? That of the lungs of those who love God may breathe it and voice their love. Why is there food? To strengthen the arms and legs and bodies of those who do God's service. Why are there letters and figures and languages and glyphs? That His wonders may be made known. Why are there houses? So that in them men and women and children may walk in God's ways and live to His glory. Why is there music? That lovely harmonies may exalt His name. Why is there a world? That the gospel may be preached in it. Why are there people? That they may find their fulfillment in the worship and love of their Creator; so that through the humble concerns of their daily life His will may be revealed and done.

Why are you here? For yourself? No! For God. To Him and through Him we are saved. We are saved not only from death but from human annihilation.

Vets Officer Here March 22

The Area Representative of the Virginia Division War Veterans' Claims from Norfolk; Thomas A. Moore; announces his next service trip to this locality for the next week, at which time he will interview veterans or their survivors as usual. Moore assists such clients with their application forms, and Government papers, and any other necessary services toward obtaining for them lawful benefits, based on service in the Armed Forces. His schedule is below:

At the Community House, 18th St. & Arctic Ave., Virginia Beach, from 11:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. on Thursday, March 22, 1956.

Moore visits this same location on every second and fourth Thursday, each month. On other days he can be reached in the office at 305-6 McKevitt Bldg., 203 E. City Hall Ave., in Norfolk. His telephone there is Madison 2-9871.

Practicing What He Preaches

When President Celal Bayar of Turkey took office in 1950, he cut his own salary from $40,000 to $26,000 a year, got rid of both the official presidential railroad train and the official presidential yacht, and had two of his three private automobiles turned over to the government for use by other officials.

Notes from YOUR COUNTY AGENT

BY E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.
PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

Gardening Like Any Other Business, You Should Know What You're Doing

Gardening is like any other business. You have to know what you're doing to be successful. In some areas of Virginia, it's time for home gardeners to pick up the hoe, and we have some words of advice.

Plan before planting. A good plan of the garden will help you order enough of the right kinds of seeds and your garden will supply more usable vegetables. Plant a balance of the leafy, root, and fruit vegetables. Select disease-resistant varieties.

Begin planting potatoes and green peas in warmer areas of the state this month. Plant the early maturing vegetables together in the garden so you can use these same rows for other vegetables.

Manure, cover crops, or any compost material should be plowed under a month to six weeks before planting. The addition of manure or compost will help condition the soil. Sawdust may be used if additional nitrogen is added. Add 1 to 2 pounds of 16 to 20% nitrate material per 1,000 square feet. Plow deep, and avoid turning up too much clay.

The gardener should have his seed on hand before the planting season. Plants such as cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, peppers, eggplant, and tomatoes, can be started in hotbeds and coldframes or window boxes.

For leafy and fruit vegetables, broadcast fertilizer and work it into the soil. For root crops, place the fertilizer in the row and work it into the soil. Never let fertilizer touch vegetable seeds. Usually a 5-10-5 fertilizer will be satisfactory, but if the soil is low in phosphorus, a 5-10-10 is suggested. Apply 20 to 30 pounds of fertilizer to each 1,000 square feet of garden. One pint of fertilizer weighs about a pound.

If you prefer to measure fertilizer by the length of the row, instead of by the square foot, apply 3 pounds to each 100 feet of row if the rows are 12 inches apart, 6 pounds if the rows are 24 inches apart, 7½ pounds if 30 inches apart, and 8½ pounds if 36 inches apart.

Growers Greet New Potato

Potato growers, plagued with late blight, may find a new variety a partial answer to their problems.

The new variety, "Boone," was developed at North Carolina State College. Foundation seed only will be available for planting the 1956 crop.

An average of three years of test-growing show Boone to slightly outyield both Kennebec and Sequoia where no late blight was present. In tests where late blight infestation was heavy, Boone greatly out-yielded Sequoia.

The Boone is the late in maturing. Since the plants stand erect, injury to plants by wheels of equipment is reduced. It will not be necessary to dust or spray Boone for late blight.

Late blight has been particularly bad in the mountain sections the past few years.

Chemical Kills Thistle

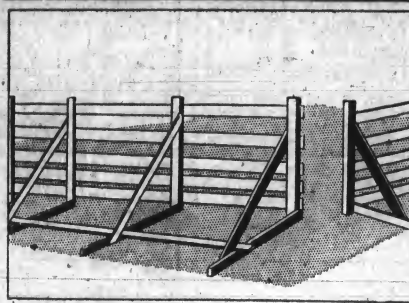

The Canada thistle, one of the most troublesome weed pests, may bow to a new chemical, amino triazole.

Applied to thistle foliage in the bloom stage, or to thistle stubble, the weed-killer has given excellent control in preliminary trials by Oregon State College.

The chemical also shows promise for controlling certain brushy plants and Russian knapweed.

Coming Events Listed For 4-Hers
Several events, and special observances, of interest to Virginia 4-H club members have been listed

FENCE LINES

MULTI-PURPOSE . . . Movable gates can serve a variety of uses around the farm. They're convenient for hay storage, loafing sheds, or for setting off pen areas. Gate can be used either as a partition or hay feeder.

by the Agricultural Extension Service of VPI.

Of immediate note is National 4-H Club Week, March 3-11. Club members, their parents and friends, are being urged to tune in on several nation-wide radio and television programs which have been scheduled such as: CBS "Farm News", Saturday, March 3; NBC "National Farm and Home Hour", Saturday, March 3; NBC-TV "Wide, Wide World", Sunday, March 4; and ABC "The American Farmer", Saturday, March 10.

The 4-H officials also say that clear channel stations will broadcast a recording to be made by USDA Extension Service Administrator Ferguson, and 4-H delegates. But for date and hour of any of these programs, consult your local papers.

Also on the 4-H schedule this spring and summer are: National 4-H Sunday, May 6; National 4-H Club Camp, Washington, D. C., June 13-20; State Negro 4-H Short Course, Virginia State College, June 18-22; State 4-H Short Course, VPI, June 18-23; All Star Conference, VPI, June 22-24; Youth Section, Institute of Rural Affairs, VPI, July 18; State 4-H Conservation Camp, Camp Farrar, Virginia Beach, July 28-29; Negro 4-H Conservation Camp, Virginia State College, July 31 - August 2; Young Men and Women's Leadership Training Camp, Camp Farrar, August 9-17; State 4-H Electric Congress, Richmond, August 30-31.

Four-Hers Plan Baby Beef Sales

Some 700 baby beefs are on feed for a series of 4-H shows and sales this spring.

The animals are those which have been used in 4-H projects, and will be judged before the sales.

The events are scheduled for: April 6, Fredericksburg; April 11, Richmond; April 18, Bristol; April 20, Roanoke; April 23, Winchester; April 24, Charlottesville; April 25, Orange; April 26, Staunton; April 30, Waverly; May 1, Smithfield; May 2, Suffolk; May 3, Portsmouth and Front Royal; May 4, Danville; May 10, Franklin; May 11, Petersburg; and May 19, Richlands.

Market hogs will be shown and sold at the Richmond, Roanoke, and Staunton events. Staunton will also have a market lamb class.

Congress Trip Added As Forestry Incentive

Virginia 4-Hers enrolled in forestry projects are now eligible for a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago in late November.

This year is the first time the forestry projects have had a Congress trip as incentive award for the state winner.

To be eligible, a 4-H member must have been enrolled in and completed a forestry project in both 1955 and 1956. Overall work in forestry projects (tree identification, tree planting, timber estimating, woodland improvement), as well as citizenship and leadership activities, will be considered in making the awards.

The good fisherman destroys every water snake he finds, for they consume millions of fish eggs every year.

Oldest Building In The World

The oldest building in the world still in use is the Hagia Sophia museum in Istanbul, Turkey. The 1400-year old edifice was built as a church, was later converted into a mosque and is now a museum of Byzantine art. It is considered the supreme masterpiece of Byzantine architecture.

'New' Dish An Old Turkish Delight

Shish, kebab — alternate aliases of lamb, tomato and onion broiled together on a spit — is fast becoming an American picnic favorite, but has already been popular in Turkey for centuries. Its name comes from the Turkish words "shish," meaning "skewer," and "kebab," meaning "broiled meat."

YOU'RE SET FOR HOT WATER SAVINGS...

with a new ELECTRIC WATER HEATER and a thrifty off-peak meter

HERE'S THE PENNY-WISE WAY to enjoy the luxury of automatic hot water electrically. Hot water on tap for quick morning showers—or relaxing bedtime tub baths. Piping hot water for your electric laundry or electric dishwasher. Hot water aplenty for household cleaning.

ONLY 1¢ PER KILOWATT HOUR to heat water with a budget-watching off-peak meter. Your Electric Water Heater does its heating during the day's off-peak hours. The rest of the day, the heavily insulated tank keeps hot water on tap.

FIT YOUR WATER HEATER ANYWHERE. An electric table-top model goes right in the kitchen. It gives you extra waist-high work surface . . . and it won't heat the kitchen in summer. Or you can get a space-saving upright model to tuck away in any corner. For an Electric Water Heater needs no vent or chimney. See the new models soon at your electric appliance dealer's—and start enjoying hot water for pennies a day electrically.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and foibles... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

It is certainly a pleasure to bring to you news from my good friend Nancy Webb of the Home Economics Department. Bernard L. Lewis Inc., New York, "Here's Health with Fresh Fruits and Vegetables," is a welcome bit of news everytime the mailman brings it.

The February notes were so interesting I want to share every one of them with you. Tomatoes are so good and are equally good in salads, as a vegetable, or combined with so many foods. Can you think of anything more delicious than vegetable soup made with lots of luscious tomatoes.

There are so many ways tomatoes can be used in your meal planning so include them often, all year round. A hundred years ago, here in the United States, nutritious tomatoes were grown mainly as ornamental plants. Folks around New Orleans ate tomatoes as early as 1812, but they didn't become a food item in the Northwest for another 20 to 25 years.

Today, tomatoes are our second most valuable vegetable crop, being surpassed only by potatoes. They are grown commercially in every state.

California, Florida and Texas are the largest producers of tomatoes, their warm climate being especially suited to growing this vegetable. The tomato was originally a tropical or subtropical plant, but has become adapted to a wide range of environment in temperate areas. It is assumed to be native to the Andean region of South America. The cultivated tomato can't stand much cold, nor does it do well in either extremely hot or dry weather. These characteristics reflect the climate of its origin.

Tomatoes are available all the year mostly from domestic crops but also from Cuba and Mexico. They are a valuable source of nutrients, both because of their high vitamin content and the quality in which they are eaten. They are low in calories.

A waist-watching America, aware of the dangers of obesity, finds tomatoes an ideal food. In many homes, tomatoes in one form or another are served every day.

Tomatoes should not be limited to salads. While they are a staple salad ingredient, they are equally delicious in cooked dishes. The United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association suggests a delectable tomato casserole, a stuffed tomato to brighten a fresh vegetable platter and a new salad using this versatile member of the vegetable kingdom.

Fresh Tomato and Zucchini Squash Casserole

1 pound zucchini squash
1-inch boiling water in saucepan
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups thinly sliced onions
5 medium tomatoes
3/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 cup grated Cheddar cheese

Preheat oven to 400°F. (hot). Slice unpeeled zucchini squash 1/2-inch thick. Place in a saucepan with 1-inch boiling water and the 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cover. Parboil 5 minutes. Drain squash and place in alternate layers with onions, sliced tomatoes and bread crumbs in a greased 2-quart casserole. Sprinkle each layer with the remaining salt and black pepper mixed together. Repeat until all squash, onion and bread crumbs are used. Top with remaining tomatoes cut into wedges. Cover. Bake one hour. Remove cover and sprinkle with grated cheese.

Baked Fresh Tomatoes Stuffed With Fresh Spinach

6 large firm tomatoes
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 pound fresh spinach
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 tablespoon minced onion
1/4 cup dry bread crumbs

Preheat oven to 350°F. (moderate). Cut a 1/2-inch slice from the top of each tomato (save tops for later use). Scoop out center and save pulp. Sprinkle inside of tomatoes with 1/2 teaspoon salt. Wash spinach. Cook without water, in a covered saucepan 5 minutes or until tender. Drain well. Chop fine and add remaining ingredients. Pack into tomato minutes. Serve with Fresh Tomato-Cheese Sauce.

Fresh Tomato-Cheese Sauce

1 cup diced tomato pulp
2 tablespoons minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1/2 cup grated Cheddar cheese
Combine first 4 ingredients in a saucepan. Simmer 10 minutes. Stir in cheese and heat only until melted. Serve over Baked Fresh Tomatoes Stuffed With Fresh Spinach.

Fresh Tomato and Grapefruit Salad
3 medium fresh tomatoes
3 medium fresh grapefruit
French dressing
Romaine lettuce
Fresh parsley for garnish

Cut unpeeled tomatoes into quarters.

Want to frost a cake easily? Place it on a lazy Susan so that it revolves with a touch of the finger so you swirl the icing around it. Next time you make refrigerator cookies, give them a different appearance by cutting with a French-fry cutter so they'll have a corrugated effect.

Whenever you're cooking, lay the utensils and ingredients out on a tray before you begin. Then you can check the recipe to make certain everything's there and you won't forget such vital ingredients as baking powder or salt. As you use each utensil, replace on the tray. It will keep your working surface clean and everything can be lifted to the sink for washing in one operation.

Keep salt and pepper and flour near your range as well as at the mixing center. You'll save steps by having the necessities where you use them.

Put leftover bits of vegetables in a plastic container. Freeze in freezer. Use them as a combined vegetable when there's enough.

Pare grapefruit an inch into sections. Sprinkle each with French dressing and chill. Line a salad bowl with Romaine lettuce. Arrange tomato wedges around edge for border. Pile grapefruit sections in the center. Garnish with sprigs of fresh parsley.

YIELD: 6 servings

Cinnamon Tomatoes

Take a trip from the Pennsylvania Dutch and sprinkle thickly sliced ripe tomatoes with a mixture of cinnamon and sugar. The taste is unusual, but oh, so good!

Tomato Soup

A soup made from fresh tomatoes is a delightful flavor treat. A thin cream sauce base, a little celery and onion for added flavor and plenty of fresh ripe tomatoes. It is as fresh as spring itself.

Tomato Cocktail

Wedges of ripe fresh tomatoes smothered in a peppy sauce such as is generally used with seafood cocktail is a delightfully different and inexpensive for a meal.

That's all — Bye — Now —

Hosiery Through The Ages

In Colonial times, mighty hand-knit hosiery took six weeks to make. The rich were lavishly decorated with white. Commoner it-stitch cotton.

Modern research, more production have brought ultra-fine nylon into every woman's budget and recently, for the first time in history, construction, a new twin-thread stretch stocking by Bur-Mill Co.

This new stocking has two cuts, fashion their threads running through each loop compared to the single thread previously used, making "double-knit" the ultimate in sheer, soft, and durable wear.

Your Family Physician

Every individual throughout life should be under the care of a family physician who, by means of medical examination, will keep informed of the health needs of that individual and will advise as to how these needs may best be met. No one is more cognizant of this fact than the public health worker, since the effectiveness of his work depends to a large extent upon a close working relationship between himself and the family physician.

Often the health agency needs to know the name of the family physician of the person who is rendered a service by the health department. This is especially true when referral reports must be sent back to a private physician, such as a tuberculosis x-ray report, or a report from a crippled children's or rheumatic fever clinic.

Also, the public health nurse, in making home visits, sees many people who should be referred to a family physician for certain conditions which she may detect merely by looking at the person. If you don't have a family physician, the best time to choose one is now - at your leisure before an emergency presents itself. Many people think the family physician is outmoded. This is the era of specialists, they say. More and more physicians are skilled in one particular field of practice. The family physician is as necessary, now in an age of specialization, as he has ever been. The family physician did not become an institution by accident. The growth of specialization at first seemed to outmode the doctor in general practice to whom one could turn for every form of medical care. But in the end it was specialization itself which again brought the importance of general practice to the forefront, both outside and within the profession. During the years of his submission, the family physician went right on caring for his patient.

The growth of specialization has not subtracted from the responsibilities of the general physician; it has added to them. Modern medicine offers him the widely extended horizon of greater med-

Proper Diet for The Healthy Teenager

Because of lack of sufficient food and lack of the right foods, many teenagers are actually undernourished. As a result, their growth is retarded, their appearance adversely affected, and their energy and endurance undermined. For is one of the essential foods seriously eliminated from the teen-age diet.

Spry and Good Luck merengue, the vegetable lots used in the study, played an important role in the controlled diet. The girls whose diet contained the greatest amount of lot were very ahead on every count.

In a nutrition study sponsored by Lever Brothers Company at Texas State College for Women, growing and going teenagers showed all-around improvement on a well-balanced diet which contained 1/2 of the calories as lot.

The results of the study showed that teenagers who controlled weight, have more pep and energy, have prettier skin, and better general health on a vegetable diet which includes a substantial amount of these vegetable lots.

ical knowledge with which to combat disease plus preventive measures placed in his hands by the medical advances.

Nowadays it is necessary to carry the medical job far beyond diagnosis and treatment. Through the ages it has been recognized that prevention is better than cure, and during the last half century on the public health level, great strides have been made in the prevention of disease, and in rehabilitation from the inroads of disease.

For the modern physician, however, prevention alone is not enough. There must be a positive effort to build health in the individual. Here lies the physician's prime opportunity and challenge. The public must be educated that such things can be done. One of the vital functions of medicine today is education of the people in how to attain health. The physician cannot promote health if the patient merely seeks him when he becomes ill. It is necessary for the personal physician to know his patient when is well. If he knows him in his usual state, he has a basis for judging the severity of illness when it comes. "John is not himself today" is an old-fashioned form of speech, but how can a physician know that John is not himself, if he has never known him in his usual health?

Perhaps the most important service the family physician renders is not a service at all, but a relationship that permeates all services. This is his function as friend and confidant. He becomes well acquainted with the family, interested in all its members, cognizant of their problems and always ready to help. Anyone who has ever been ill knows that without confidence in his physician, half the battle is lost. Conversely, with such a confidence, the chances for good progress are greatly enhanced.

When you have selected your family physician, be completely frank with him. The more your doctor knows about you, the better care he can provide. Consider him your health advisor. Follow his instructions to the letter.

If you always watch the clock you'll remain one of the hands.

PLYMOUTH costs less

From the day you buy it...through all the years you own it...you'll spend less on a Plymouth. That's one reason more Plymouths are used as taxis than all other cars combined.

Coal Is Important Factor In Virginia's Economy

In the past twenty years Virginia's annual output of bituminous coal has grown from less than one million to about twenty million tons, proceeding steadily even in the past quarter-century, when coal production in the nation fluctuated but showed no long term growth. During 1955 Virginia mines produced an estimated 23,500,000 tons a 9 percent increase over production and 5 percent of the nation's output for the year just past.

The high quality and ease of mining of Virginia coal coupled with the developments in the electric utility, industrial, steel and overseas markets have contributed to its increased consumption, according to a research study entitled "Production and Marketing of Coal in Virginia and the Nation" released by the Virginia Division of Planning and Economic Development. Production factors favor the future competitive position of coal from Southwest Virginia. The coal is easily accessible with more than 80 percent of the output coming from drift mines in the side of the hills and the remainder from strip and augur mines. The reserves are large and the quality is high. It is estimated that the reserves in coal seams 43 inches or more in thickness would be sufficient to supply 20 million tons of coal from Virginia annually for 50 years or longer.

If the thinner seams are included, the U. S. Geological Survey reports that Virginia's reserves are sufficient to last 250 years at an annual rate of production of 20 million tons. It is clear that physical supply presents no problem in the Virginia coal mining industry. Sustained production in the next half-century depends rather on what the market for coal is to be competition with other fuels and the possible development of nuclear and solar energy for industrial use.

Virginia has approximately 300 active mines that produce more than 1,000 tons of coal annually, although the nine largest coal companies among these produced 60 percent of the state's bituminous output in 1955. Large mining companies can be found in Virginia operating mines with a daily capacity of 10,000 tons, with all operations fully mechanized, with an output per man day of 12 tons, and paying employees at an average hourly rate of $2.80, plus 40 cents per ton contribution for the miner's welfare fund. On the other hand, there are many truck mines operating with 20 or fewer workers, with operations only partly mechanized, with an output per man day of 4 tons, and paying employees at an average hourly rate of $1.00. Most of Virginia's coal is produced in mines operating between these two extremes.

Factors on the marketing side have favored Virginia coal in the past, and promise to favor it in the future. No matter in which fields the coal originates, it is possible to ship it in any direction, and 92 percent of Virginia mined coal leaves Southwest Virginia by rail. During 1954 more than 2.5 million tons was carried to Hampton Roads, and more than one million tons was sent to the lower Lake Erie ports. In addition, Virginia coal is delivered by rail to almost every state east of the Mississippi River.

The electric utility industry has become the principal consumer of coal mined in Virginia and the nation. Virginia shares with West Virginia and Kentucky the growing electric utility market in Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina. In 1953 the electric utilities in these three states purchased more than 8 million tons of coal, three times as much as was purchased seven years earlier. Part of this 3 million ton Detroit market falls to this state, and currently Virginia coal is being purchased for the TVA John Sevier plant which is expected to consume 1.5 million tons annually as of the spring of 1956.

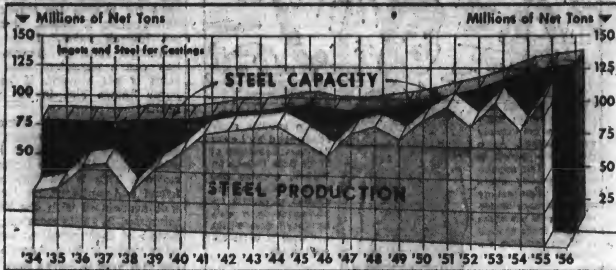

Steel is another market for Virginia coal. During 1953 more than 3 million tons of coal was shipped from Virginia mines to by-product coke ovens in other states, and approximately 300,000 tons was carbonized in beehive ovens in Wise County. The nation's steel output is expected to expand to an annual rate of from two to three percent, and, barring any technological development which would make it possible to utilize non-cooking coals in the manufacture of steel, this promise to be a moderately expanding market for Virginia coal.

Large manufacturing plants (other than steel) constitute the third largest market for Virginia coal, and the geographical pattern of consumption is similar to that for electric utilities. Virginia's chemical industry is her largest single consumer of coal, and is but one of the many expanding industries in the South Atlantic States.

The overseas market which consumed less than one million tons of U. S. coal annually during the decade preceding World War II have since that time purchased from a low of 2 and a high of 43 million tons annually, the principal overseas market lying in Western Europe and in Japan. Being in a strategic position to send coal to Hampton Roads, Virginia will feel the impact of any increase or decrease in overseas demand.

Looking to the immediate years ahead, it is clear that the nation's coal production reached "rock bottom" in 1954, that temporary losses were recouped in 1955, and that the long term growth in the expanding markets will exceed contractions in the declining markets. Desegregating in-fossil-fuel events which would react for or against increased use of coal, it is estimated that the nation's coal production in 1959 is likely to be about 400 million tons, approximately 100 million tons higher than in 1954. Beyond 1960, the more distant the outlook, the greater are the difficulties in forecasting the probable future of coal. The most certain factor in the future use of fuel for energy, worldwide, is the expectation of an enormous expansion in the consumption of energy within the

STEEL COMPANIES STEP UP EXPANSION PLANS

The steelmaking capacity in the United States is now higher than ever before at 128.4 million tons annually, says American Iron and Steel Institute. The capacity has gone up 40 per cent in ten years.

During the next three years the steel companies plan to build about 15 million tons of capacity. The companies spent over $7 billion in the past ten years for new equipment and construction.

next twenty years. Coal will be but one of the possible sources of energy. Technology will have increased the efficiency with which coal, oil, and gas are used. New techniques will be developed which will tend to cut the costs of producing, transporting, marketing, and utilizing coal; but cost-cutting techniques will be developed for coal's competitors too. Most importantly, technology will be hurrying the day when atomic, hydrogen, and solar energy help to shoulder the nation's and the world's energy requirements. Only with the passing of time, as a multitude of uncertainties resolve themselves, will it be possible to chart coal's future with any degree of certainty.

More oil fields, Romania, has a fire that has burned for 555 years, defying all efforts of man to put it out.

Marine History

Women Marine accelerated their 15th anniversary February 13 at posts throughout this country, and abroad in Hawaii and Europe. While Women Marines didn't become a permanent part of the regular Marine Corps until June 12, 1948, the Marine Corps Women's Reserve was established back in February, 1948.

Before that, 305 women had served in the Marine Corps during World War I. Known as Marines, their uniforms consisted of long skirts and jackets, blouses with neckties, overseas caps and high-buttoned shoes — a far cry from the trim, Mainbocherdesigned uniforms of today. Marines were enrolled for clerical duty, and all were honorably discharged July 30, 1919.

In World War II, an amendment to the Reserve Act of 1938 authorized the inclusion of women in the Navy and Marine Corps Reserve. Initial groups of enlisted women and officers were trained at Hunter College, New York City, and the U. S. Military School, Northampton, Mass. In July, 1943, all such training was transferred to Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Assignments of Women Marines included practically every type of noncombatant service at more than 50 camps throughout the country. Many women received further training in one of 13 specialist schools studying aircraft, motor mechanics, radio, parachute rigging, instrument repair and other technical jobs. The popularity of the Marine Corps was attested by the Women's Reserve reaching its authorized strength of 18,000 in July, 1944 — Less than a year and a half after its authorization. At the time, 100,000 of Women Marines were overseas, 100 enlisted personnel and five officers, landed in Hawaii Jan. 28, 1945. Later, women served at detachments in Europe.

Most Women Reservists were released from active duty after V-J Day, but a number of them returned to active duty as regulars in 1948. They formed a trained nucleus for the rapid mobilization brought about by the Korean conflict, during which they gained new reasons for the pride they take in being United States Marines.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Veterans of the Korean and post-Korean conflict period are losing valuable GI insurance rights because they are filing applications for special five-year term policies four months after separation instead of within 120 days.

The law grants only 120 days in which to apply for this non-convertible term policy without medical examination, the Veterans Administration said.

One hundred and twenty days can be, and usually is, less than four months, VA explained. So when a Korean or post-Korean veteran counts on a four-month leeway and thus files his application one, two or three days late, he cannot be granted insurance under the law.

Not only must the application for this special five-year non-convertible term policy be filed with VA within the 120-day period after separation, but the first premium also must be paid within the same period.

A longer period of time in which to apply is granted to Korean or post-Korean veterans who are found by VA to have service-connected disabilities. These veterans must apply within one year from the date VA finds their disabilities to be service-connected and they must pass a medical examination to show they are otherwise insurable except for their service-connected disabilities, according to VA officials.

Moreover, their choice of GI insurance is wider. They may apply for a five-year term policy or for any of six permanent plans of insurance.

Even the term policy for these disabled veterans is different, VA added. It is convertible, whereas the term policy for which Korean and post-Korean veterans must apply within 120 days after separation is non-convertible, are nonparticipating—that is, no dividends may be paid on them.

Ques. and Ans. I am going to school less than half-time under the Korean GI Bill. What will be the amount of my monthly GI allowance payments?

You may receive either (1) the established charges for tuition and fees paid by non-veterans for the course, or (2) a pro-rated amount based on $110 a month for a full-time course—whichever is less.

How much money may I borrow on my permanent GI insurance policy? It has been in force for more than one year.

You may borrow up to 84 percent of the reserve value of your policy. Any VA office can determine the exact amount for you.

Turkey to Build New University

A new educational center, patterned after the landgrant colleges of the United States, is to be built in Turkey at a cost of $21,000,000. It will be called Atatürk University, in memory of the former president of Turkey, Kemal Atatürk, who in 1924 organized a conference of educators from all over the world to study Turkey's education requirements. The recommendations of this conference, as presented by the renowned American, the late John Dewey, were put into practice by Atatürk. Turkey's modern educational system is free to students through college.

Sgt. Goffigan

Sergeant First Class Arthur J. Goffigan, 26, son of Mrs. Lydia Goffigan, Route 1, Londonbridge, Va., took part in a field demonstration of mass atomic casualty treatment at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., March 2.

The demonstration was held by the Army Medical Service administrative officers. It illustrated how trained medical Army personnel would sort patients according to wounds and evacuate them for further medical care, in the event of an atomic attack.

Sergeant Goffigan, a section sergeant in the 1st Battalion's Company C, entered the Army in 1951. He is a veteran of the Korean conflict.

POULTRY MEAT COLOR

If poultry is thoroughly roasted, why is the meat sometimes pinkish in color? We find that certain substances in the atmosphere of any heated oven—or in the hot air over a wood fire or barbecue pit—are the same chemically as some used in the curing and smoking process that produces cured meats. These substances react with traces of hemoglobin in the meat or poultry to give a pink or reddish color.

How much of the poultry meat turns pink and how deep the color becomes depends on how hot the flame or heater is and whether the poultry roasts in an open or covered pan or is covered with aluminum foil part of the time. The age of the bird and amount of fat in the skin also count. Because the thinner skin of young birds is more easily permeated by these substances, the flesh underneath may be noticeably pink. A point to remember: The pink color does not affect quality.

cause the thinner skin of young birds is more easily permeated by these substances, the flesh underneath may be noticeably pink. A point to remember: The pink color does not affect quality.

HOME FREEZER ECONOMY

The more turnover of frozen foods in your home freezer, the greater the economy in using this appliance.

It costs more than twice as much per pound—excluding the cost of the food itself—to store 360 pounds of food for a year in a home freezer than to store and use 900 pounds from the same freezer during the year. As more food is used and replaced in a freezer, storage costs are spread over a large number of pounds and cost per pound decreases. Certain fixed costs of freezer operation are relatively large compared to other costs—such as that for wrapping—which vary with the amount of food handled by the freezer. Whether the freezer is empty or full, the electricity required to hold zero F. remained the same. Obviously, there is no economy in an empty or partially empty freezer.

More research facts and figures about home freezer operation are not reported in a Department revised bulletin, "Home Freezers, Their Selection and Use." This publication was revised to meet increasing demand for freezer information.

The bulletin also discusses such buyers' questions as: What size freezer does my family need? Will a home freezer save on my food budget? What is better—a chest or an upright freezer? How should I defrost my freezer? Single copies of "Home Freezers, Their Selection and Use," (HG 48), may be obtained free from the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

COON HUNTERS FIELD TRIALS RUN

The Tidewater Coon Hunters Association held their annual field trials for members only February 26th on the Northland Road. The coon dogs were running for the Vickers Plaque and the Club Trophy.

There were sixteen dogs entered and three elimination heats were run. The following dogs were entered: Joe, owners N. H. Stevenson and C. Lambert; King, owner N. B. Wolfe; Andy, owner M. J. Penzella; Monty, owner M. J. Penzella; Ring, owner M. J. Penzella; Blase, owner M. J. Penzella; Sam, owner N. B. Wolfe; Burk, owners E. L. Vickers and M. Rowe; Red, owners E. L. Vickers and M. Rowe; Blue Traller, owner N. H. Stevenson and C. Lambert; U-Know, and Red Traller, owners N. H. Stevenson and C. Lambert; Boy, owner E. R. Blazer; Red Wing, owner E. R. Blazer; Amos, owner H. I. Patrick and Winslow; Dewey, owner O. W. Gable.

Mr. H. I. Patrick was the Hunt Master. The judges were A. S. Zimmerman and R. J. Beck, line judges and L. C. Myers and E. L. Vickers were the tree judges.

The Vickers Plaque was won by N. B. Wolfe's "King" for first tree, and the Club Trophy was won by N. H. Stevenson and Clyde Lambert's "Joe" for first line. A mounted coon was used in the tree with its head pointed toward the ground. This made quite an impression on both the dogs and the spectators.

CAVALIER JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB ELECT MRS. MIDDLETON

Mrs. E. G. Middleton, Jr. was elected president of the Cavalier Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County for the coming year at its meeting Thursday, March 9th in the Kempsville Baptist Sunday School. Other officers elected to serve with Mrs. Middleton were Mrs. B. R. Middleton, first vice president; Mrs. B. D. Jacobs, second vice president; Mrs. Marvin B. Jones, recording secretary; Mrs. E. W. Knight, Jr., corresponding secretary and Mrs. E. M. Henderson, Jr., treasurer.

The club will have an Orientation luncheon at the Carriage House for the new members Saturday April 21st at one o'clock. A contribution of ten dollars has been given to the Jamestown Festival Highway Beautification.

It was also announced that the Junior club will entertain the

BROWNIE TROOP 231

Wednesday, March 7th, is a day all the Brownies of Troop 231 will remember for some time to come. The girls visited the Doll Show in Norfolk. Sponsored by the Norfolk Doll Club. Dolls of all ages, some of great antiquity and of other periods up to the beautiful dolls manufactured today were featured. The greatest enthusiasm was shown over the general store and the play house. The most impressive exhibit to the girls was the Girl Scout Display showing Juliette Lowe and dolls dressed as Brownies and Scouts of that era.

Those enjoying the show were Linda Baker, Lydia Day, Susan Daves, Judy Hiders, Paula Jeter, Sharon Jones, Agnes McKenney, Carolyn McClellan, Cynthia Hayes, Diana Moore, Mary Jane Meiners, Margaret Ann Phillips, Frances Pollock, Marcia Pierce, Patsy Vann, Jenny Vann, Jacqueline Weeks and Donna Willis, and Sharon Malo. Mrs. J. Z. Weeks, Mrs. M. P. Warrick and Mrs. E. B. Jeter helped the leaders Mrs. W. T. Baker and Mrs. M. B. Jones with the transportation.

also won the two dollar award for having the most fathers as members.

It was announced that due to the next meeting falling on Easter Monday it would be postponed until April 8th.

The attendance award was won by Mrs. Cockrell.

CHILD STUDY GROUP

A Child Study Group for Primary Children will be conducted at the Princess Anne Elementary School Tuesday, March 13th at one o'clock. The topic under discussion will be "Character and Needs of Primary Children." Speakers will be Miss Lillian Perdue, Elementary Supervisor, Mrs. R. Hamilton, Visiting Teacher, Mrs. Virginia M. Lloyd, Public Health Nurse, and Mrs. Grace Wenger, first grade teacher of Court House School. There will be a movie showing "Answering your Child's Whys." Lunch will be served before the program.

Two other study groups are planned for different age groups for March 20th and March 27th.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. John Lawson Fink of Kempsville announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Velma Bernice Fink, to Graham R. White, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Graham R. White of Bay Colony, Virginia Beach.

Both Miss Fink and Mr. White attended the College of William and Mary in Norfolk.

The wedding will take place May 28th, 1956.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal C. Thayer and children Gene and Roy have returned home after touring Florida for two weeks. While there they visited Sarasota, and the winter quarters for Ringland Brothers Circus also Cypress Gardens. Gene was thrilled by catching a three pound big mouth bass.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pierce and children, Martha and Billy visited friends and relatives in Windsor, North Carolina.

PRINCESS ANNE COURT HOUSE P. T. A.

The Princess Anne Court House Parent and Teachers Association held its meeting Monday, March 5th in the school auditorium. The 4-H Club members of the school presented a program entitled "So Proudly We Sail" and also had on display the Achievement Awards and Trophies of the club.

A Membership drive has just been concluded. Mrs. Cockrell won first prize of six dollars for her room; Mrs. Gilbert's room won second prize of four dollars; Mrs. Hatfield's room won third prize of three dollars. Mrs. Cockrell

Bay Colony Club Meets

The monthly meeting of Bay Colony Garden Club was held on Wednesday, March 7th, at the Princess Anne Country Club. Mrs. Andrew Moore, president, presided.

Mr. Lancaster, of Curman Nursery, was guest speaker and gave an interesting talk on things to do in the garden now, emphasizing the use and beauty of shrubs that do well in Tidewater locality. Hostesses were Mrs. J. M. Jacoby, Mrs. T. J. Kenney, Mrs. E. H. Renn, and Mrs. K. T. Mullen.

Too small a hook for fishing is better than too large a hook; big fish will take a small one but the small fish can't take a large one.

At least 14 different 3 cent stamps have been issued, all using Washington's picture.

Little Creek Group Asks School Building Be Halted

A group represented by the Joint Civic Committee for School Improvement, Little Creek Area, appealed to the Princess Anne County School Board Tuesday to halt construction on elementary schools on Thalia and Great Neck roads.

The committee contended that the two schools should be built in the Little Creek area of the county where enrollments problems are much greater than in the area where the schools are being constructed.

The School Board meeting was a lively one with Board Chairman John B. Day saying: "We're not going to build a half dozen schools in an area that we're going to lose to the city." He was referring to the annexation suit instituted by the City of Norfolk to annex some 33 square miles of Princess Anne County.

A committee spokesman asked the Board why it had abandoned plans to construct a 30-room addition to the present Little Creek school last year. The committee made a total of six recommendations to the Board and asked for a reply in writing.

Day indicated the board would reject the recommendations that were stepped on the two schools; but said it would attempt to carry out a three-point plan to meet enrollment pressure on the Little Creek School.

He said that the board would: 1. Continue negotiations with Navy authorities at the Little Creek Amphibious Base for conversion of two barracks into school buildings providing 32 classrooms. This was one of the six recommendations made by the Joint Civic Committee.

2. Build a 20-room primary school building (grades 1-3) on the Little Creek site, contingent on an approved Federal grant. School Superintendent Frank W. Cox had said he expected the application for a grant to be approved within 30 days, and that barring unforeseen delays work could begin on the new building within 60 days.

3. Build a new elementary school on a recently site allocated south on the Little Creek Road near its intersection with Halprin Drive. Asked whether Federal money would be used for this school, Day said, "I'm not sure."

Alvin R. Milnes, committee chairman, introduced the officers of the Princess Anne Cancer Unit which included Mrs. Margaret P. Tompkins, president; Mrs. Paul Dolgins, secretary; Mrs. Robert S. Wahab, Jr., chairman of the unit's bandage and dressing committee; Dr. James Todd, professional adviser to the committee; and Miss Harriet Allstock, hospital supervisor.

Two films were shown at the beginning of the meeting provided by the American Cancer Society. Following the showing of the movies, the meeting was explained by the chairman and an open discussion concluded the meeting.

The public education committee, as was explained to the group, is making films available to groups for showing during the month of April on the subject of Cancer. It was also explained that films would be obtainable throughout the year and the representatives were urged to call on the local Cancer unit to provide programs at any time.

Any club or organization desiring to schedule a cancer film should contact Mrs. Dolgins, the unit's secretary, at Virginia Beach 3378.

F. O. P. Will Hold Banquet On 28th
The second annual banquet of the Fraternal Order of Police will be held in the Chaucer Room on Wednesday night, March 28, it has been announced.

Richard G. Brydges will serve as master of ceremonies and Circuit Court Judge Floyd E. Kellam will be the guest speaker.

Limiting it to that," He indicated that residents of the Kempsville magisterial district probably would be asked to approve a bond issue.

(After the School Board had adjourned its formal session, R. J. Webber, executive secretary of the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors, said that he had informed some of the supervisors of this three-point proposal and that they had given it their approval.)

The Joint Civic Committee said it was opposed to the building of new schools in the Little Creek area with local bond funds. Its spokesman, V. F. Anderson, said that people in the Little Creek area didn't want to assume a bond obligation for schools that would be built with Federal funds. He pointed out that Federal grants were obtained on the basis of the number of Federally connected pupils and that the majority of such children in the county lived in the Little Creek area.

The committee, representing some 10 civic leagues, women's clubs, and the Little Creek P.T.A., held its initial meeting March 9. Anderson has told The Virginian-Pilot that the patrons of Little Creek School wanted to take concerted action for adequate school facilities.

Before the board, Anderson said that if the present enrollment trend continued, 2,500 pupils would seek admission to the Little Creek School next September, and that by the close of the year 1956-57 an additional 500 pupils would be knocking on the door. He noted that already pupils in

Former Boxer's Trial Set Today

The contempt of court charge against Elias Fletcher, the former Marine Corps boxer, who once charged that Virginia Beach's police chief offered him $500 to assault a newspaper editor, is scheduled to be heard today in the Princess Anne County Circuit Court.

Fletcher is charged as a result of his refusal to testify in the Virginia Beach Police Court several weeks ago at the trial of Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson when the police chief was cleared.

Also scheduled for trial today is a felonious assault charge against Odey, a semi-professional boxer who was charged with black-jacking J. W. Dunn, editor and publisher of a weekly newspaper. Dunn identified Odey as the man who assaulted him with a black jack as he entered his car in the 3100 block of Pacific Avenue on December 5, 1955.

Gray Lady's Help In Many Ways

The Gray Lady service is a trained group of volunteers who act as hostesses in hospitals and on Blood Programs or in emergencies. During a visit of the bloodmobile, they act as hostesses, register donors and type records.

The chapter often calls upon them for short-term assignments and in emergency situations. Such assignments may be in disaster operations, covering booths at public functions, registering students and assisting instructors of Red Cross training courses, performing various services in the fund and membership campaigns and cooperating with other agencies on special community projects.

During Disaster operations, Gray Ladies are generally assigned to hospitals and shelters to help provide non-medical supplies. Their duties may include meeting relatives of disaster victims, supervising nurseries and

American Little League Meeting

Players and parents residing in the American Little League territory of Virginia Beach are urged to attend a meeting in the Virginia Beach High School gymnasium Friday night starting at 6:30 o'clock.

The meeting is designed to sign up players for the American League season this summer. At least one parent should accompany the youngster to the meeting. The American league comprises the territory north of 26th street and also includes Bay Colony and Midwood Point.

Youngsters between 8 and 14 years of age are eligible. Youngsters who will reach their thirteenth birthday prior to August 1 are not eligible.

Parents should have knowledge of their child's height and weight in signing an application to participate.

Post Office Seeks Station Near 17th Street

Virginia Beach Postmaster Howard S. Myers announced this week that the post office department is advertising for bids to construct a new post office station in the vicinity of Seventeenth Street in the City of Virginia Beach.

The bid announcement read: "Sealed proposals for the construction of a new post office station to be located in the vicinity of 17th Street, Virginia Beach, Va., will be received by the Postmaster, Virginia Beach, Virginia, until 2 P. M., Thursday, March 23, 1956."

The agreement for the construction of this station must be executed in quadruplicate and will cover the contract period from July 1, 1956 to June 30, 1958. Proposals must agree to furnish sufficient space in the main (Continued on Page Eight)

Second Annual Three Hour Service To Be Held At Galilee Church On Good Friday

The Ministerial Association of Va. Beach has decided to hold a Second Annual Three Hour Service on Good Friday, March 30th, from 12 to 3 P. M. in Galilee Episcopal Church for all Protestant Churches on the Beach and Eastern Shore Chapel and Scott Memorial Church, Oceana.

This Union Good Friday Service was so well received last year that the effort is being made to make it an annual occasion.

The First Word of the Seven Last Words of Our Lord is to be preached on by the Rev. John D. Kelster, Pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd, Va. Beach: "Father forgive them for they know not what they do."

The Second Word was assigned to the Rev. C. Stanley Lowell, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Va. Beach. This will be Mr. Lowell's next to last public service at the Beach as he leaves for Washington with his family the week after Easter: "Today shalt thou be with me in paradise."

The Third Word was assigned to the Rev. Henry C. Barton, Jr., Rector of Eastern Shore Chapel, the new Episcopal Church on Laskin Rd. and Va. Beach Blvd.: "Woman, behold thy son! Behold thy mother!"

The Fourth Word will be preached on by the Rev. Edmund Berkeley, Rector of Galilee Episcopal Church, Va. Beach, and it reads: "My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken Me?"

The Fifth Word is assigned to the Rev. Robert P. Davis, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Va. Beach, and is "I thirst."

The Sixth Word is "It is finished," and is assigned to the Rev. F. H. Strieby, Scott Memorial Methodist Church's new Pastor in Oceana.

The Seventh Word, "Father, into Thy Hands I commend My spirit," is assigned to The Rev. W. George Bond, T.H.D., Pastor of the First Baptist Church of Virginia Beach.

Interpersed in the service will be prayers, silences and solos. (Continued on Page Four)

Old Auto In Easter Parade On April 1st

An authentically restored 1901 Oldsmobile, which is owned by Robert K. Wallace of Norfolk, will be one of the delightful curiosities of The Golden Jubilee Boardwalk Easter Parade.

Mr. Wallace and his daughter dressed in the fashions of that day will ride in the car in both the Easter Parade and as the Virginia Beach entry in the Cherry Blossom Festival Parade in Washington, D. C. on April 4th.

The Olds will be transported to Washington by Mr. Wallace and his daughter on its trailer and will be driven in the parade decorated with "Golden Jubilee Banners." Wanda Wallace Moore, daughter of Mr. Wallace will throw candy kisses from a gold sand bucket during the Cherry Blossom Parade.

This 1901 model is very scarce as the Oldsmobiles burned after the production of just a few cars. All the molds had to be re-made leaving only a few cars of this particular model in the country.

Mr. Wallace's car is the only one in the area in running condition. He did all the restoration on the car himself. The Olds has one cylinder, 4 1/2 horsepower and gets 30 to 35 miles to a gallon of gas. Its top speed is 18 miles per hour. It is steered by a tiller, has kerosene oil lights, and starts with a side crank. The top is down like a regular convertible.

The Princess Anne Junior Woman's Club and The Princess Anne Community Club support this "Fifty Years of Fashion in Review" part of the parade are going to be sensational all the items and children's clothes of all periods from 1906 to 1950 are still on the SOS list. Many entries are expected in the "Best Dressed Easter Paraders of Today" section which follows. The clubs continue to be residents of the area to 1:15 in the parade in their Easter finery.

The clubs co-sponsoring the event announced the judges for the Parade. Mrs. Richard R. Sweetser, President of The Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs, Alice Brewer White, Woman's Director of WVBC, Mildred Alexander, Woman's Director of WTAAR and William McDowell of Elizabeth City, chairman of Potomac City's Annual Potomac Festival.

Church Board Gives Approval Of Plans

The Official Board of the Community Methodist Church gave final approval last Monday morning to architects plans for a new Educational Building.

The new building will be erected within the next few weeks and will follow the contemporary Williamsburg design of the present buildings.

Red Cross Fund Drive Entering Fourth Week; Funds Are Needed

The 1956 Red Cross drive will go into its fourth week beginning Monday with several hundred volunteer workers soliciting funds in every district of the county and the city of Virginia Beach, which comprises the local chapter territory.

Mrs. A. John Dennis, Jr., chairman of the fund drive, reported that approximately $7,000.00 of the goal of $18,000.00 had been raised, and that every effort would be made next week to complete the drive.

Last fall the local chapter of the Red Cross, through its board of directors, declined to have a combined drive at the same time as the county-city community chest, and at this time the Red Cross is conducting its usual annual drive for funds during the month of March, which has been for many years designated as "Red Cross Month."

Red Cross is in dire need for funds this year, due to the preceding year, being the worst disaster year in the 75 years of Red Cross history. The hurricanes to the south of us and the number of floods in the New

The pay scale of city policemen came under consideration by the Virginia Beach City Council at its meeting last Monday with a plan presented by the president of the Fraternal Order of Police taken under advisement by the lawmakers.

Richard O. Brydges, the Order's president, proposed to council a pay raise for city policemen which he assumed would also include members of the fire department. Brydges pointed out that city laborers start at an hourly wage of $1.06, while police patrolmen, under the present pay scale, begin at a meager 86 cents an hour.

The police spokesman presented a pay scale plan calling for a starting salary of $250 per month in place of the present $200. This salary would be during a three-month probationary period and would advance after that to a minimum of $300 per month.

Brydges pointed out that under the proposed pay scale there would be no more overtime payments in the department, but time off would be substituted instead. He said this would give a man a living wage and tend to eliminate any dissension within the department concerning overtime work.

As a result of Brydges' appearance the Council instructed City Manager W. Russell Hackett to investigate the requests and report back to Council at an early date.

The Council was informed by City Engineer Charles Kiley that plans for widening Pacific Avenue have been completed and will be submitted to the Council at an early date. The widening of Pacific Avenue has been a project of several years and it may be accomplished before the summer season.

Council also requested Kiley to advertise for bids in resurfacing 35,000 square feet of primary roads in Virginia Beach which have been taken over by the city for maintenance. This city a year ago took over this responsibility from the State and received an annual appropriation from the State for this purpose.

Council also renewed the lease of the parking lot to host the business interests at 20th Street and Pacific Avenue and included in the lease is a clause which would permit termination of the lease at any time should work be done on the nearby commercial half of the lot.

Detroiters Get Good Idea Of Virginia Beach

Travel and sports-minded Detroiters, hooked to the Virginia Travel Council exhibit at the annual Detroit News Travel and Sports Show held last week, Over 200 persons attended the show and many visited the popular Virginia exhibit, where they were told by Virginia Beach enthusiasts, Mrs. Lucy Trafton and Mrs. Mabel Strubbe, of Virginia Beach and plans for this year's celebration of its Golden Jubilee.

Many stated that they had never seen the ocean but were looking forward to their first glimpse of Virginia Beach this summer. They were further inspired to know that on the way to the beach they could see a great deal of Virginia's attractions (Continued on Page Four)

The Detroit News Travel and Sports Show is held weekly and caters to approximately 100,000 and a quarter million persons each week. The exhibit is a 5-mile radius of the Detroit Convention Center.

Nursery Carries Complete Line

Plants and trees of all types for present planting are available in unusual quantities and quality at the Indian River Nursery, Mr. C. E. Jones, Owner, and with a background of many years in this field, stated that varieties to suit all needs and to satisfy the most demanding are on display and ready for immediate planting.

All standard varieties and most of the new and very rare varieties are included in the unusually large collection on hand - Camellias, Azaleas - Hollies Liquidum, Pittosporum, Arbor Vitae, Juniper, Gardenias, Osmanthus, etc.

There are over 350 varieties of Camellias including Indica, Formosa, Judge Solomon, Mrs. G. G. Gervin, Brilliant, Prince of Orange, Illuminator. Among the Azalea plants are Krume, Hendogeri, Coral Bell, Snow, Sweetheart Supreme, Brides-Maid and Salomon Beauty.

The Nursery located at 2129 Indian River Road is easily accessible from all points in the area, approximately 3 miles west of Route 13 (Military Highway), 2 blocks east of Campostella Route 170 and approximately one and one half miles from Berkeley entrance and exit of the Elizabeth River Bridge-Tunnel. The location is four blocks from the Ford Plant. Hours are from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. Sunday and every day. Mr. R. H. S. Harrell is manager and the public is invited to pay a visit and view the beautiful plants displayed.

Hitchcock Packs Comedy, Thrills In Film "The Trouble With Harry"

"The Trouble With Harry" is his dead — and furthermore, he won't stay buried — but the reason for Harry's reappearance is something you won't get us to disclose here. That's a secret between Alfred Hitchcock and yesterday's delighter audience at the Beach Theatre, and you'll have to go and see the master yarn-spinner's newest and most unusual film to learn the outrageously funny facts yourself.

We will tell you, however, who's involved in this wonderfully bizarre comedy-chiller. First, there's Edmund Gwenn, whose twinkling countenance Harry Worp's corpse beclouds. Gwenn is a retired sea captain out hunting in the Vermont woods. When he stumbles across the deceased Harry, it's all very simple to him. He merely mistakes the man for a rabbit and potted him — or did he?

Or did any artist John Forsythe have a hand in helping Harry shuffle off? After all, Forsythe has a painting of the dead man and many artists are liable to go to any lengths for a model.

Not so fast—the wily Hitchcock has lots more up his sleeve. An oddly calm Shirley MacLaine admits to being Harry's widow, with a smile of satisfaction, and discloses she conked him with a milk bottle after he left her sitting in her flimsiest negligee on their wedding night.

Breaths are hardly caught when up pops Mildred Natwick, the primmest of spinsters, with a story about whacking Harry over the head with her hiking shoe after he tried to hug her in the woods. This Harry turns out to be quite a guy. Then sheriff Royal Dane turns up a tramp wearing Harry's shoes, and Forsythe admits to being in love with elfin Miss MacLaine, and Miss Natwick displays a determined crush on the captain and you're gloriously lost in a mass of suspicions and counter-suspicions.

In the midst of all this Harry Worp keeps reappearing, in the cold flesh, and the clandestine undertakings multiply.

Add Miss MacLaine's uproariously complicated little boy, Jerry Mathers, the mysteriously quiet mother of the sheriff, Mildred Dunnook, and some of the raciest, spiciest, most hilarious dialogue between the completely captivating Shirley MacLaine and handsome John Forsythe, and you have a tongue-in-cheek Hitchcock you've never seen before.

Add, too, the most breathtaking Vista Vision, Technicolor autumn scenery ever filmed and "The Trouble With Harry" becomes one of the most enjoyable films you've ever chuckled and chilled to.

More than 80 million acres of federal lands are now under lease to private enterprises for oil or gas exploration and production in the United States, Alaska, and under the sea on the continental shelf.

Alice Lee Tucker Engaged To Claude Turner

Mrs. Alfred Bland Tucker III announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Alice Lee McCaw Tucker, to Claude Sylvester Turner, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sylvester Turner of Virginia Beach, formerly of Martinsville, Tenn.

Miss Tucker is the daughter of the late Lt. Comdr. Alfred Bland Tucker III, USN, of Winchester, and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Brown McCaw, of Norfolk. She is a graduate of Miss Turnbull's School and a member of the sophomore class at Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg. Miss Tucker was presented to society at the Debutante Ball of the Norfolk German Club in November 1955.

Mr. Turner is a student at the Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta, where he is a member of the Kappa Alpha Order and Alpha Pi Mu, honorary fraternity for Industrial Engineers. Upon graduation in June, Mr. Turner will be commissioned an ensign in the United States Naval Reserve. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomas Keeling and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stark Jr., will entertain on Saturday, March 31, from 5 to 7 o'clock, in honor of Miss Barbara West Morton, debutante of the season. The party will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keeling on Witch Duck Bay, Lynnhaven.

Perhaps a lot more people would try to do right if they thought it was wrong.

The Record Is Excellent

The time that has elapsed between mid-December when Mayor Frank A. Dusch and Councilman John W. McCombs announced that they would seek re-election to the Virginia Beach City Council and the present mid-March has given us full opportunity to evaluate the record of these two men and the 17-point program they outlined at the time of their announcement.

These candidates are seeking re-election in the June 12th councilmanic election and it is gratifying that these men, by their records, have proven capable and conscientious members of this city's governing body, the City Council. Both have demonstrated their ability and vision in coping with the municipal problems that confront our city and both men have shown a keen desire to serve the best interest of their community.

1. To continue the sound policy of operating the City's affairs on a balanced budget.
2. To provide funds to the Erosion Commission by a reassessment of the Special Tax and obtaining all State and Federal aid possible.
3. To pledge our efforts and support in cooperating with the Commission who are now trying to provide a bridge tunnel from Cape Charles to Fort Story, and a coastal highway from the south end of Pacific Avenue to Nags Head, North Carolina.
4. We hope to see Virginia Beach provided with a new health and welfare center and we will continue our endeavors in acquiring State and Federal Aid for this purpose.
5. To promote the development of a harbor for fishing craft so that fishing facilities may be offered to thousands of people in an additional attraction.
6. To provide additional funds to the Advertising Commission to broaden the advertising program and selling more products about Virginia Beach.
7. Continue our wholehearted effort in obtaining the university, or convention hall, to be completed at the earliest possible date, and in connection with the above, to set up a Convention Bureau for the purpose of booking conventions upon the completion of the building.
8. To continue our efforts in obtaining State and Federal aid for the development of a new boulevard for Pacific Avenue extending from the Cavalier Hotel to Second Street.
9. We offer full support and cooperation to

With this program and their excellent record we are confident that the voters of Virginia Beach will return these men to the City Council in June's councilmanic election. They merit this support.

Retailers Combine Efforts

Retail merchants of Virginia Beach and vicinity are becoming a more formidable group with each passing year and the Retail Merchants Association is growing in stature and membership to the advantage of the buying public.

Several years ago a group of merchants formed a better business bureau, but for one reason or another, or possibly because the community at that time was too small to support such an organization it went out of existence.

Now today, the Retail Merchants Association, which should not be confused with a better business bureau, is nearing the close of its first year and is becoming stronger each month. The merchants are enthusiastic in their endorsement of the association and the membership continues in a steady and healthy growth.

The Retail Merchants Association was organized in June of 1955 and since its organization it has been active in the promotion of business and improvement of business standards in the community.

The association is desirous of receiving applications from firms not now members of the organization and will continue its efforts to improve the lot of the businessman and at the same time promote better business relations and standards that will be beneficial to the business firm as well as to that firm's customers.

As a result of the association's efforts, the membership has grown to 100 members. The association is desirous of receiving applications from firms not now members of the organization and will continue its efforts to improve the lot of the businessman and at the same time promote better business relations and standards that will be beneficial to the business firm as well as to that firm's customers.

SATURDAY IN SUBURBIA

School Meeting

grades 1-6 are attending classes on a double shift. Unless something is done, a triple shift will become necessary, he said.

The six recommendations presented by Anderson from a prepared statement were:

1. Stop construction now on the two schools now being constructed with 100 per cent Federal funds. Move them out of an area which is not yet on split shifts into the Little Creek area. The funds have already been approved. The site and request (for the Federal grant) can still be modified so that these schools are built where they were intended to go, based on county figures of overpopulation in the county school system.

2. Utilize the funds pending for the remaining three schools of approximately 68 classrooms so that they are available to meet the needs of the county in a more realistic fashion. (The School Board has requested Federal funds for a 28-room school near Kempsville on Indian River Road, a 20-room school on Pains Drive and Aragon Boulevard, and the 20-room school building at the Little Creek school site.)

3. Take immediate steps to obtain suitable building sites for at least three schools in the Little Creek area.

4. Adopt policies which will insure a school building program which will keep pace with the expansion of the area. This will require the obtaining of lands suitable for school construction at the time an area is developed.

5. Make plans for the obviously needed junior and senior high schools for our area.

6. Commence formal negotiations immediately and obtain for use by September 1, 1956, at least 32 additional classrooms from the Amphibious Base, Little Creek. We understand that early for Base officials have been contacted along these lines again in view of the request made by members of this joint committee to Mr. Cox (Superintendent Frank W. Cox) earlier in the week.

Superintendent Cox replied to the "presentment" for the time being. He said that the new schools on Thalia and Great Neck roads are badly needed. The Thalia school is needed to meet the increase in school enrollment that will occur when new families begin moving into Aragon village, a large housing project now under construction. Also, the new elementary school by providing at least temporarily for eighth grade classes, will relieve Princess Anne High School, he said. He explained that if it became necessary to begin part-time classes at the high school—which already has 700 more pupils than its State rated capacity of 1,800—its accreditation would be endangered.

The school on Great Neck Road is needed to relieve overcrowding at Shelton Park School and to stimulate a growth in pupil enrollment accompanying the residential development of the area, he said.

Cox said pupils in the upper grades at Little Creek School could be transported by school bus to the Thalia and Great Neck schools if this became necessary to take them off a part-time class schedule. However, he said that with the 32 classrooms at the converted Navy barracks, all but the primary grades at Little Creek could be restored to a full-time program.

Cox admitted that the rapid enrollment increases in the Little Creek area has created a serious school problem, but he said that it had been difficult for the School Board to anticipate the need for new school facilities. Real estate developers had been cautious in their forecasts of residential development, and the School Board had not always found it easy to persuade the people of the county that a long-range school construction program was needed, he said.

He told representatives of the Joint Civic Committee that although overcrowding at Little Creek was serious, "you're not being short-sighted as much as you think." Pupils in part-time classes already are receiving four hours of "net" instruction each day, and the instruction period may later be increased to five hours, he said. Moreover, a "helping teacher" is available in the part-time classes to assist the regular teacher.

For primary pupils, part-time classes entailing a shortened school day have "much to commend them," he said. He agreed, however, that for older pupils such classes were not desirable.

Included in the delegation from the Joint Civic Committee were: Anderson, temporary chairman of the committee, a former president of the Camella Shores Civic League; and now the first vice president of the Little Creek School P.T.A.; L. H. Knudson, member of the Camella Shores Civic League; C. B. Cross, president of the Azalea Acres Civic League; M. B. Mellor, president of the Bel-Aire Civic League; M. B. Daniels, member of the Landview Civic League; H. E. Nelson, member of the North Camella Shores Civic League; Mrs. Helen Gilbert, member of the Little Creek Woman's Club, and Mrs. A. D. Engle, member of the Meadowbrook Forest Civic League.

Little Theatre

Ian Goodwin will also play prominent parts, both having given outstanding performances in "Life of the Party" the first show of the current season. Natalie Gentry, well remembered for the parts she played in "Ten Little Indians" and "Glass Mountain," will, according to all indications turn in her usual good interpretation of the role in which she is cast. Gentry, T. S. R. will do his first part with the local group, however, he had much experience with Little Theatre groups in England.

Nancy Nyström and Norman Crampston, who played in "Laura," George Parker who played in "The Day of the Bride" and Carol George who will make her first appearance but has done other work with the Virginia Beach group, complete the cast for the forthcoming play.

Mrs. Arthur Masury is directing.

Advance tickets may be secured by calling Mrs. E. Ashley Haycock, ticket chairman, or they may be purchased at the box office on the nights of the play.

Detroiters Get

The Virginia Travel Council, which includes Mrs. Trafton and Mrs. Curtis Thacker of "Monticello," Charlottesville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Logan, Luray, Mrs. Gordon Brown, Natural Chimneys, Mrs. Rupert Block, Star Draft, Mrs. Dolores Rogers, Alexandria, and Miss Dorothy Nelson of Richmond.

Scores of prospective visitors to Virginia were attracted to the booth which featured Azalea, Virginia Beach Golden Jubilee unbrellas, colorful posters, murals of Virginia attractions, and over 65,000 folders on statewide attractions, accommodations and recreational facilities. The Virginia ladies wore costumes furnished by the "Common Glory" Williamsburg, while Robert Logan of Luray in colonial costume, fascinated young boys and adults alike who asked to be introduced to "George Washington," Mr. Logan also presented Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams with a gravel from "Monticello" on behalf of Governor Thomas B. Stanley.

Visitors to the Virginia exhibit seemed starved for information on blooming dates, climate and recreational facilities. Many inquiries were also received for fishing information.

Motor-minded Detroiters were interested in the beaches, Colonial Williamsburg, historic attractions, the Shenandoah Valley and natural wonders about which they seemed to have heard the most. Scores reported they had "been through Virginia" on the way to Florida, and now wished to return to tour the Old Dominion.

Earlier in this month, the Council participated in the Cleveland Travel Show which attracts the rich travel trade in Cleveland and area. Candy "kisses" distributed by Mrs. Trafton and Mrs. Strohorth, who acted as volunteers at this show also made a big hit at Virginia Beach souveniers.

The Virginia Travel Council will enter the Canadian National Exhibition for the fourth consecutive year during late August and early September at Toronto, Ontario constitutes Canada's wealthiest and most heavily populated Province, and this area annually sends thousands of appreciative Canadian visitors to Virginia.

Participation in these travel shows represents a portion of 14 major programs engaged in by the Virginia Travel Council during 1956 in its efforts to build increased travel to the Old Dominion.

FT. STORY SPORTS

A look at Fort Story's intramural basketball league finds the 461st DUKW Company's Barracudas on top in the final tabulations with an unblemished 11-0 record. In second place, behind the 1955 defending champs, Headquarters Company, 5th Transportation Terminal Command B finished with a 10-1 state, losing only to the 461st by a 36-29 score. Tied for third, the 612th DUKW Company and 565th Terminal Service Company had identical 9-3 records.

THREE TEAMS entered the double elimination tournament at season's end to decide Story's representative in the Transportation Training Command Championships at Fort Eustis. Because of military commitments, the 565th was unable to join in the tournament that was to include the league's top four teams, so the 461st drew a bye in the first round of play. In the remaining game, Headquarters Company avenged their only loss of the season by downing the Barracudas in a 42-37 thriller. Leading 24-12 at halftime, the winners had to fight off a strong Barracuda rally in the second frame to gain the nod. Parrish, high-scoring Barracuda forward, netted 15 of his game total of 18 points during the futile rally. Milan Cop led the winners with 21.

In the Second round, Channie Parrish and Harry Mitchell, with 18 and 16 points, respectively, led the 461st to a 61-37 win over the 621st to eliminate them from the tourney. The second game saw Headquarters Company avenge their only loss of the season by downing the Barracudas in a 42-37 thriller. Leading 24-12 at halftime, the winners had to fight off a strong Barracuda rally in the second frame to gain the nod. Parrish, high-scoring Barracuda forward, netted 15 of his game total of 18 points during the futile rally. Milan Cop led the winners with 21.

As a result of tournament play to date, unbeaten Headquarters Company and once-beaten 461st will meet in the championship game to decide the post trophy winner.

Story's post baseball team, the DUKWs, have formulated an ambitious 46-game schedule for their 1956 campaign, ending August 9 at the Norfolk Naval Base. Among the outstanding service clubs to appear on the Fort Story diamond throughout the summer are the Quoniam Marines May 19 and 20, Fort Lee May 22 and 23, and Fort Meade July 6 and 7. Admission is free, and all are welcome to attend. The games begin at 2 p.m.

Tidewater sports fans will be treated to some exciting baseball at Fort Story during the coming season as the Cape Henry Army post's team has scheduled a number of outstanding service and semi-pro clubs in its 1956 home slate.

Throughout the summer, an array of ex-colleagues and professionals will invade Story's diamond to meet the DUKWs, coached by Jimmy Pace, former Division of Texas athletic. Pace can draw from soldiers of Fort Story and Norfolk's 3rd AAA Group to augment nine veterans of last year's squad.

Although Michigan is best known as an automobile producing state, it actually manufactures 81 per cent of all types of industrial goods.

Of all wells drilled in the U. S. since 1850, about 75 per cent have proved production.

The Bayside Pines Garden Club met Monday night, March 12th, at 8:00 P.M. at the Bayside Presbyterian Church. The speaker for the meeting was Mrs. A. H. Culpepper. She spoke to the club on "Oral Judging" and stressed the use of a base for arranging and the importance of getting the lines straight.

The garden club members have planted 80 dogwood trees in this area. Members planned to take gifts to the Children's Clinic of the King's Daughters at Easter time.

At the Monday meeting Mrs. E. S. Sellers was elected president and Mrs. R. P. Henderson, second vice-president.

Ribbons were awarded to Mrs. R. P. Henderson; Mrs. W. E. McIlwain; Mrs. M. A. King; Mrs. R. W. Conway; Mrs. H. R. Glass, Jr.; Mrs. K. P. Gury; Mrs. Sellers; Mrs. W. C. Saunders; Mrs. D. C. Hech and Mrs. Alice Anthony.

LAKE SHORES GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. William Gresham demonstrated corsage making at the Lake Shores Garden Club meeting, Monday night.

March 12th, at the home of Mrs. C. M. Bugel on Lake Shore Road.

According to Mrs. Gresham the main consideration in making corsages is "patience." But along with patience it is a help if you have wire, parafilm, florist cord and clippers.

Mrs. M. H. Ellinger; Mrs. G. E. Dege and Mrs. J. E. Lambert were appointed the nominating committee. Mrs. James L. Blow and Mrs. Paul Turner were welcomed as new members.

Triangular arrangements were judged by Mrs. Cecil Reed and Mrs. M. K. Crockett of the Lake Joyce Garden Club. They awarded ribbons to Mrs. W. H. Martin; Mrs. Frank Warren; Mrs. J. W. Parrett; Mrs. A. J. Rutkowski; Mrs. C. G. Clough; Mrs. T. S. Brown; Mrs. G. A. Dowling; Mrs. Bugel; Mrs. M. O. Peoples; Mrs. Ellinger; Mrs. Dege; Mrs. Lambert; Mrs. R. W. Banks and Mrs. W. G. Welch.

Mrs. Robert Cannon was co-hostess at the meeting.

BAYVILLE PARK GARDEN CLUB

The Bayville Park Garden Club will meet Monday, March 12th at the Bayside Christian Church. Four members were appointed to attend the annual Spring meeting of the Tidewater District, Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs, Wednesday, March 14th in Portsmouth. The members attending the District meeting were Mrs. L. H. Busbee, president; Mrs. E. G. Broadnax; Mrs. William R. Granger and Mrs. A. O. McKelvey. Saturday, June 16th was set as the date for the annual lawn party.

Mrs. Vincent A. Bertolini showed slides of birds. Mrs. Broadnax judged exhibits and awarded ribbons to Mrs. C. C. White; Mrs. R. D. Earley; Mrs. J. S. Hoots; Mrs. G. W. Hedge and Mrs. D. L. Acree.

CHESAPEAKE BEACH NEWS

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach held their regular meeting Tuesday, March 13th, at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center. Mrs. Oscar T. Edmondson was elected president. She will succeed Mrs. E. A. Hudson, who has served for the past two years. Other officers elected were: Mrs. J. W. Grandy III, first vice-president; Mrs. W. W. Stanfield, second vice-president; Mrs. R. W. Spruill, third vice-president; Mrs. E. M. George, recording secretary; Mrs. C. H. Hampton, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Frederick Rieder, treasurer.

Mrs. Edmondson and Mrs. Hudson were elected to represent the club at the State Convention in Richmond on April 10-11.

Annual reports were given by the following chairmen: Civil Defense, Mrs. T. B. Petty; Education, Mrs. R. W. Spruill; Fine Arts, Mrs. R. J. Vellines; International Relations, Mrs. U. L. Harmon; Public Affairs, Mrs. J. W. Grandy III; Music, Mrs. H. W. Newsome; Welfare, Mrs. R. J. Webber; Press Book, Mrs. P. G. Hampton; Ways and Means, Mrs. L. E. Ledington; Youth, Mrs. Henry Hedley; Pre-teens, Mrs. J. L. Waters; Garden Dept., Mrs. Harry Fulford. The club voted to put on their roll of "honorary members" the following ladies. Mrs. Lewis Causey, founder of the club and Mrs. J. H. Harrell, first president of the club.

Mrs. U. L. Harmon, International Relations chairman, introduced Mr. L. E. Adair who served in South America as an Educational Missionary. At present Mr. Adair is director of the Good Will Industries of Norfolk.

He talked to the club on his and Mrs. Adair's experiences in teaching in the public schools of Peru and Bolivia. According to Mr. Adair the Government has complete control of the schools and the children are taught their history, particularly by rote. It was his duty to try and tell the children about the Democratic Way of Life. When he found out that he would not be giving the children their examinations he was very worried. Because besides teaching them what was in their books he tried to explain to them about our way of life. But the children didn't let him down. They memorized the Official course and when the Government Examiner came for the examination they all passed with flying colors.

Following the business meeting tea was served by the "Shut-In" Club members. Mrs. Fred Lunsford; Mrs. J. B. Fay Sr.; Mrs. F. M. Baglier; Mrs. H. W. Fulford, Garden Chairman made the flower arrangements.

Each Civic League were given petitions to circulate regarding the pending Annexation by the City of Norfolk. The Council decided to hire a lawyer to represent the Civic League at the Annexation Hearing. Mrs. A. C. Peck is chairman of the group. He is from Oceanic Civic League.

OCEAN PARK CHAPEL NEWS

According to the pastor, Dr. W. Leonard Murphy, of the Ocean Park Chapel, Palm Sunday will be "church membership day." There is already a list of forty people who will join the chapel on that day. During Lent every Sunday Service has been an Evangelistic one. There has been a large profession of religion of the entire membership as they take on new light. The Chapel has been donated a tape recording, by Mrs. G. Broadnax. A recording of each service has been made and these recordings are taken to the Simms Nursing Home and Mrs. Flora's Boarding Home where they have the benefit of sharing each service with the membership.

Princess Anne Little League

The Second meeting of the Princess Anne Little League will be held on Monday, March 26, 1956 at 7:30 P.M. in the Oceana Grade School Auditorium. This meeting is most important as registration of new players and re-registration of last years players will take place at this time. It will also give the parents the opportunity to meet the managers and officers elected for this season.

Maundy Thursday Service will be held at the chapel, March 29th at 8:00 P.M. Holy Communion will be administered by the minister.

Leonard Paul Jones, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jones was baptized at the church service Sunday, March 15th.

SHELTON PARK P. T. A. Shelton Park P.T.A. met Monday night, March 19th at 8:00 P.M. in the school auditorium. Mrs. Elms Hadra, minister of Lake View Park Church of Christ, led the devotional. Lieut. R. R. Racine, commanding officer of Norfolk Youth, Department of Public Safety, was guest speaker. His topic was "Child Welfare." He was introduced by Mrs. J. R. Harrell, program chairman.

son. There is much work to be done.

As you know this is the second year for Princess Anne Little League Baseball. This year should be a much better year as we will have trained boys to start with, also the younger boys who will come up from the Minor League to take the place of twelve year old boys, who will be to old to play. They have been handicapped by the fact that they had to use the Oceana Stadium in conjunction with other teams. This year we want to eliminate this factor by having our own diamond.

Mr. and Mrs. William Allen, has offered the Princess Anne Little League a plot of land, centrally located just off of Inn Virginia Beach Blvd., for a stadium.

We have been handicapped by wet weather in trying to accomplish any progress. But arrangements have been made to start our boys off in flying colors.

Mrs. Lewis E. Smith was presented with a statuette for her three years of service as Neighbor Chairman.

The program closed with Taps and the Girl Scout Prayer.

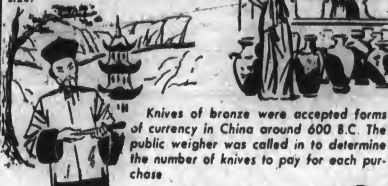

Girl Scouts from Troop 211 and 259 were ushers. Mrs. E. H. Church was pianist.

There was a display of crafts and Scout literature in the school corridor.

The Girl Scouts of Va. Beach wish to extend their thanks to all who helped make the Rally a success.

It's All A Matter Of Money

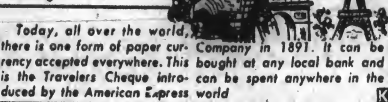

In early Greece, copper pots or kettles were used as money. The wealth of a man was measured by the number he owned and their size.

The Zulus of Africa and some natives of the Pacific use cows for monetary units.

Tobacco, elephant tusks and sharks teeth have been variously used by man for money. In fact all kinds of valuables have been used in various civilizations as a medium of exchange.

Today, all over the world, there is one form of paper currency accepted everywhere. This bought at any local bank and is the Travelers Cheque introduced by the American Express world.

Dedication Of Roanoke River Plant on April 4

Dreams, plans, work, legal battles, the expenditure of $32,000,000, tons of concrete, miles of blasting all of these went into the hydro electric development on the Roanoke River that Virginia Electric and Power Company will dedicate in formal ceremonies on April 4.

The 4,900 acre Lake Roanoke Rapids, needed as a reservoir above the 3,050 foot concrete dam is full of water and already fishermen are telling stories of the size of their catch. There are 47 miles of beautiful shoreline to provide facilities for recreation.

The power station is using water to generate 100,000 kilowatts of electricity. It replaces an old canal and station that turned out only 5,000 kilowatts.

Below the dam, the Roanoke flows quietly downstream in a fair race blasted from solid rock at a cost of $5,000,000. It runs in a gorge that is 80 feet wide, one mile and a half long and 45 feet deep.

Just three years ago most of the present lake bed was covered with brush and timber. It cost nearly one million dollars to clear it.

All told, the project speaks in big figures. To build it took the work of 1200 men, three shifts of 400 each around the clock. This local payroll alone ran between 12 and 14 million dollars.

Vepco used 300,000 tons of crushed stone, 800,000 bags of cement and 120,000 tons of sand. This would build a sidewalk six feet wide and 180 miles long.

The power station site had to be blasted from solid rock and it occupies an excavation 70 by 230 feet, carved some 70 feet deep into the river bed.

The dam rises above the river bed 72 feet. Actually the deepest excavation extends below the river bed level and in one spot is down almost to sea level. Workmen had to fill the seams in the rock beneath the dam itself with grout in order to get a solid foundation.

Before the real dam could be built, waters of the Roanoke were

NEWS FOR VETERANS

The millionth veteran has repaid his GI loan in full, Veterans Administration announced.

As of January 31, 1956, 1,024,919 loans for homes, farms, and businesses totaling more than $5.1 billion has been repaid in full, or nearly one out of every four GI loans guaranteed or insured by VA.

In the 11 years of the program, VA has underwritten 4,599,885 GI loans totaling $34.4 billion. Most of the loans, or 4,306,515 were for homes. Of the remainder, 68,956 were farm loans and 224,214 were business loans.

Of the 1,024,919 GI loans repaid in full, $69,511 were home loans totaling $4.6 billion; 42,277 were farm loans totaling $132 million, and 173,131 were business loans totaling $420 million.

In addition to the $5.1 billion repaid in full, VA estimated another $3.5 billion has been paid off in installments by veterans whose loans are still outstanding. VA paid claims to lenders on only 46,035 loans for homes farms and businesses. These loans had an original principal amount of approximately $200 million.

The net loss to VA has been only $19 million, or a slightly more than 50 cents for every thousand dollars borrowed. VA said the net loss is subject to further recovery, either from the veteran or from the liquidation of tangible security.

Of the 40,035 loans on which claims have been paid, 24,558 or slightly more than one-half of one percent of the total number guaranteed, were home loans. Allowing for repaid-in-full loans, amortization payments and claims paid, VA estimated the $24.5 billion of the original $34.4 billion borrowed by World War II and Korean conflict period veterans still is outstanding.

QUES. & ANS.

I have a Korean GI term insurance policy. Will I be allowed to convert to a permanent plan of insurance? I am not a disabled veteran.

No. Under the law, Korean GI term insurance policies may not be converted to permanent forms of insurance. Only veterans with service-connected disabilities have the right to obtain permanent forms of Korean GI insurance.

VIRGINIA BEACH HIGH SCHOOL

TWENTY-FOURTH S. C. A. MEETING

The meeting was begun with a devotion delivered by Sandra Hood.

The business meeting began at 12:30 in the Home Economics Department. Following the call to order, the roll was called and the minutes were read by secretary.

Reports from the various functioning committees were called for by the President.

David Watts stated that the bulletin boards were being taken care of.

Diane McCombs, in charge of this week's devotion was asked to report. She stated that it would be given from the office at noon as she would be able to operate the public address system.

Bill Everett, reporting from the A.S.M. Convention Committee, stated or read a list of stipulations in order to be exempt. This list was compiled by Ashley Haycox and him. Extended discussion took place concerning this matter. The action then called for a vote in the council as to the acceptance of this plan. All were in favor. The exemption grade will be B, which will be presented to the faculty.

Sandra Hood read the proposed program to be presented at the State S. C. A. Meeting.

The Parliamentarian will report on the actions of the council in reference to parliamentary procedure at the conclusion of each meeting.

David Watts moved we adjourn the meeting. Charles Meschum seconded the motion and the meeting was concluded at 1:10.

VIRGINIA BEACH STUDENTS ATTEND BETA CLUB CONVENTION

On Friday, March 16, eight V. B. H. S. students journeyed to Richmond for the annual Beta Club Convention held at the John Marshall Hotel. Those attending were: Ashley Haycox, Bill Everett, Pat Blending, Johnny Casada, Nancy Bland, Keith Wilder, Nancy McClellan, and Patsy Skipper.

Friday afternoon, the students registered and attended a get-together party. Friday evening, the first meeting was held. This was climaxed by a talent show.

On Saturday, there were general meetings all day. At 6:00, everyone attended the banquet and enjoyed quite a feast. The evening was the annual Beta Ball held at the John Marshall Hotel in the Virginia Room.

Sunday, our travels returned, tired but happy.

SADIE HAWKINS DANCE HELD IN GYM

The Junior Class of Virginia Beach High School is giving a Sadie Hawkins dance on March 24 in the gymnasium. The fun begins at 7:30 p. m., when the girls drag in their escorts. Admission is 35¢ per couple in costume, 25¢ per person in costume, and 35¢ per person without costume. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes.

Highlights of the dance are as follows:

A country store auction, auctioning gifts from local merchants — ranging from knitting bags to free haircuts and dinners; a Marilyn Sam who features two kinds of weddings, the Cheap State's Special and the Double-Whammy; a Sadie Hawkins race; and a post office which sells love-letters. A p. g. race will be held the preceding day, Friday, March 23, at 4:30 in the Virginia Beach Memorial Stadium. Admission will be just 10¢ for spectators, and every one is invited to be witness to the pursuit of a genuine grassed pig.

Don't forget, girls, get your men out of the trap in time for the Sadie Hawkins dance Saturday night.

JR. BOYS ATHLETIC CLUB SPONSORED BY CLAUDE KING

We have been trying to stress the value of learning the rules of good sportsmanship at an early age and how this can affect us later years. The value of athletics, physically, mentally, morally and in some instances, even spiritually, has been explained. We try to derive some constructive attitudes toward our activities as well as for enterainment purposes. We have been trying to instill in our members the proper attitude toward winning and losing. Most of our members are at the present time in high hopes of becoming varsity material.

HAPPENINGS AROUND V. B. H. S.

Driver Training last week showed students the distance it takes the average driver to stop going 20, 30, and 40 m.p.h.

Many of the boys of Virginia Beach High School are signing up for the Babe Ruth Baseball League.

The 7th and 8th grades are busy planning their Jr. Surf Dance which will be held April 6, 1956. The queen is Phyllis Boland.

Catillon is going to be held April 13, at the Jefferson Hotel. It will be lots of fun as everyone will be in costume.

The greatest p. g. contest is Friday, March 23, prior to the big "Sadie Hawkins Dance" to be held on March 24.

There is going to be a dance in school where everyone will dress like a character in Little Abner. Prizes will be given for the best costume.

Finally as well as students are entering the "greased pig" contest. The admission for entering is 50¢.

Deaths

Mrs. Garland B. Williams, nee Garland B. Williams, 90, sister of Dr. Anthony A. Burke, of Virginia Beach, died Wednesday at Thurmont, Md. She was well known in this area, having visited here from time to time.

Mrs. Williams was a daughter of the late Dr. Joseph M. Burke and Mrs. Burke, of Petersburg.

In addition to her husband, Garland B. Williams, and her brother, she is survived by three sons, Garland B. Williams, Jr., Aubrey E. Williams and William B. Williams, of Thurmont, and a sister, Mrs. Edward E. Long, of Flushing, L. I.

Funeral services and interment were held in Thurmont on Saturday.

According to one estimate, it appears that by 1956, it will take a fuel of about 95 octane to get top performance out of 90 per cent of the cars on the road.

Methodist Choir Honored At Dinner

The music committee of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church entertained the Charles Wesley Choir at a dinner Tuesday night at the Princess Anne Country Club.

Approximately 62 persons attended the dinner which was sponsored by the music committee. The choir presented a lovely gift to Mrs. C. Stanley Lowell, its soloist, who is leaving with her husband, the Rev. C. Stanley Lowell, on April 1 to make their home in Washington, D. C.

Walk-in White is chairman of the music committee and the members include Mrs. R. Lee Bonney, Mrs. Aubrey Holmes, Mrs. Worth Petty and C. Hall Sellings.

Mrs. Addie Sykes Boosts Beach At Arkansas Resort

A Virginia Beach booster has again taken the Virginia Beach story into the Ozark Mountains to Hot Springs, famous home of the mineral water baths, and now many visitors to that resort are more familiar with Virginia's famous seashore resort.

The booster is Mrs. Addie Sykes, of the Greenwood Hotel here, who has just returned from an annual visit to Hot Springs and its famous Majestic Hotel. While there Mrs. Sykes showed the Virginia Beach movie, "Playtown, U. S. A.," to a large group of the hotel's guests.

This was the second year that Mrs. Sykes has shown the Virginia Beach film in the Arkansas city. Each year the crowd becomes more eager to learn of Virginia Beach, Mrs. Sykes stated.

Mrs. Sykes explains that the Majestic Hotel in Hot Springs also houses its own bath houses and that it makes it unnecessary to go out of door while taking the baths.

More than 700 persons witnessed the showing of the film, accord-

R. B. "Steve" Matthews

R. B. "Steve" Matthews, 44, resident of North Virginia Beach, died unexpectedly last Sunday afternoon at the Virginia Beach hospital.

He was associated with Bratten Pontiac Corporation at the time of his death but has been affiliated with the Clark Chevrolet Corporation for a number of years.

Matthews had also been associated with the General Motors Acceptance Corporation for approximately 20 years before moving to Virginia Beach. He had also served as manager of the GMAC office in Norfolk.

He is survived by his wife, Nell Peaks Matthews; two sons, Stephen Matthews, of Richmond; and R. B. Matthews, Jr., of Virginia Beach; three brothers, Linwood C. Matthews, Herbert Matthews and Irving Matthews, all of Richmond; and two sisters, Mrs. J. Leslie Richardson, of Virginia Beach, and Mrs. D. W. Cuthrell, of Richmond.

Funeral services were conducted at the Sutherland-Brown Funeral Home in Richmond on Tuesday and burial was in Riverview Cemetery in Richmond.

Rev. Timmons To Deliver Sermon

Rev. Wallace Timmons of Marion, Ky., who is the evangelist at the Revival currently in progress each night at the Pentecostal Church of Christ, 18th and Baltic, will conduct a special inspirational service Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. The dynamic messages which this evangelist brings each evening are proving to be great inspiration to the congregation and several persons have been converted. Rev. Timmons and his wife also render special singing at each of the services.

During this time a Sunday School contest is underway at the church in an effort to surpass the previous record attendance. Lindsey T. Hayes, pastor, extends a special invitation to the public to worship with the church in the revival in Sunday School and in the special Sunday afternoon services.

Princess Anne County has fourteen trained Gray Ladies who average approximately 225 hours per month. In addition to those working at the Naval Hospital, Mrs. L. F. Patrick, Chairman, Mrs. C. S. Daniels, Mrs. Sally Ellis and Mrs. Mary Leman work regularly with the Bloodmobile in this area.

Art Association Ball April 7th

The First Annual Artist and Models Costume Ball will bring the gaiety of the Mardi Gras season to Virginia Beach Saturday night, April 7th at the Cavalier Beach Club Panoramia Room, at 9:30. The Ball under the sponsorship of the Virginia Beach Art Association is to be given as a means of raising money for the building of an Art Centre. It is listed as one of the main events of the Golden Jubilee Celebration.

Mrs. John Doyle Jr., president of the Virginia Beach Art Association explained that an Art Centre would fulfill a great need in the community. It would provide a permanent Art Gallery where local artists could exhibit and could be held. It would also supply a place where classes in life drawing, watercolor, oils, still life, portrait, sculpture, ceramics and commercial art could be taught to adults as well as children.

Mrs. Alice Granbery who is Executive Chairman says all the Arts including—literature, drama, dance, music, sculpture and painting are to be honored at the ball thus giving a wide range for costume ideas. She says that several prizes will be awarded by a jury for the most original costumes.

The found of the Art Association, Mrs. Henry Boykin is Honorary Chairman for the Ball. She will be returning from Florida soon where she has been spending the winter. She has written that she already has her costume and is anxious to hear all the plans for the Ball.

Many prominent citizens of Virginia Beach have lent their support to this artistic project. Under the Co-chairmanship of Mesdames Selden Grandy and Preston Hix the patron's committee was organized. The members of the committee are: Mr. and Mrs. John E. Addenbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bailey, Admiral and Mrs. David Clark, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Church, Mayor and Mrs. Frank Dusch, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Forbes, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Bricard Hardin, Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Maury, Mr. and Mrs. F. Sheppard Reyster, Jr.

The chairman of the entertainment committee, Mrs. Wade Williams has announced that plans for the floor show are well under way and should prove to be very unique. Mr. Wade Williams of WBOF, veteran of theatre and radio will be Master of Ceremonies.

An artist and former resident of Paris, France, Mrs. Lawrence B. Wales is chairman of the decorating committee. Serving on her Committee is Mr. William Clark of Cofer's, Mrs. W. W. Vail, Mrs. Robert Graham, Mrs. Norman Sedel, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Charles Glaseck, Mrs. Braden Vanderventer Jr.

Handling the publicity for the Ball is Mrs. Ben. Waldman. Working with her is Mrs. Robert Miller, who designed the posters, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hoarty, Mr. Wade Williams and Mrs. Ernest Stone. The posters were reproduced by silk screen process by several members of the association.

Mrs. James P. Sadler of Great Neck is in charge of the Finance Committee. Helping with tickets sales are Mrs. Virginia (VED) Ryan, Mrs. Hattan Clark, Mrs. H. B. Price Jr., Mrs. Leo Hoarty, Mrs. T. M. Whitmore, Mr. Ernest Stone, Mrs. S. W. Ferguson, Mrs. Paul DeWitt, Mrs. E. Campbell. Tickets are also available at the Art Hobby Shop at 2011 Atlantic Avenue and at the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce. The price of admission is $3.00 per person tax included. The music for the evening will be supplied by Ray Kipper and his orchestra.

Presentation Made By District Woman's Clubs

Mrs. Earl DuVal, chairman of the Literature, Poetry and Drama Department of the Tidewater District, Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs, presided Thursday, in the presentation of awards to winners in the District literature, poetry and drama contest. The presentation was made at the Nansmond Hotel.

Representing the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, Mrs. DuVal won second prize for her poem, "His World." Mrs. Frank Klepper, also of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, won second prize for her one-act play, "Mrs. President," which was dramatized and presented at a recent meeting of the President's Council of the Tidewater District.

Lutheran Choirs To Present The Crucifixion

Stainer's The Crucifixion will be presented by the combined choirs of the Lutheran mission churches in the Norfolk - Virginia Beach area on Sunday afternoon at Virginia Beach.

The cantata will be given at 3:30 P. M. in Galilee Episcopal Church, 18th and Ocean Front. Mr. James Midgett will direct the 30-voice choir of St. John's and St. Timothy's, Norfolk, and the Church of the Good Shepherd, Virginia Beach.

Featured as soloists in the musical presentation will be Mr. Harry Pitt, tenor, and Mr. Wayne Wiegert, bass. Frances Jones will be the organist.

The three Lutheran churches which are presenting the program have all been organized within the last two years, and this will represent their first joint effort in the field of church music.

Scott Memorial WSCS Meets

The regular monthly meeting of the W. S. C. S. was held at the church on Tuesday, March 13th at 8:00 p.m. Twenty members were present.

The program on Christian Discipleship was presented by members of the Maybelle Godfrey Circle.

A short business meeting followed with Mary Wade presiding. A motion was made and carried to convert our balance in treasury to the Church Building Fund (approximately $200.00).

Intense interest has been shown in the newly organized circles. There have been several new or reactivated members. Plans are being made for a Bazaar at the church in the fall.

The April meeting on Tuesday April 10 will be a Mother-Daughter Night. Anyone not having a daughter will adopt one for the evening. Desert will be served at 7:00 p.m. prior to program and short business session.

Notes from YOUR COUNTY AGENT

BY E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.
PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

NATIONAL 4-H KEEK

March 3 - 11 saw the members of the 87,000 4-H clubs in the United States celebrating their annual week.

In Princess Anne, there are at present 14 clubs with 915 members. The activities which these club members participated in as part of the National celebration were varied.

The days of 4th and 5th grade club president and Miss Joyce Taylor sponsor had quite a program prepared for their regular meeting. Before this however, it was announced over the P. A. system that the day was to be known as 4-H Day. All members wore the 4-H insignia, the 4 leaf clover. This was part also of the celebration of the 5 & 6th grade club president, and Mrs. White, Sponsor.

The Princess Anne High School had three excellent displays on two bulletin boards and one in the trophy case. The Kempsville Community Club assisted with this. The presidents of the Princess Anne club is Richard Meers and of the Kempsville Community Clubs is Doris Humphries.

The Courthouse 4-H club had their celebration in the form of patriotic pageant for the P. T.

A illness made several last minute changes in the cast but the program was splendid. Costumes and lighting made the theme of What So Proudly We Hall more effective. A table decorated in green and white in the back of the auditorium had a 4 Leaf-Clover Cake in green and white on it and was served as part of the refreshments. Mary Louise Sawyer is president of this club and Mrs. Geneva McCollum is sponsor.

The Creeds Club enjoyed refreshments brought by Mrs. Ervin Vaughan, leader.

To close the week, three club members and two county agents did a radio broadcast on Saturday. Carolyn Charles, president of the 4-H County Council, told about the activities of the Princess Anne clubs. Doris Humphries explained why we needed a community club in Princess Anne. Richard Humphries told people listening about the trip he won to Chicago by being the State Garden Winner. The two agents taking part were Barnes Allen, Assistant County Agent and Elizabeth Deal, Home Demonstration Agent.

COMING EVENTS

Several events of interest to rural people are on the agenda for this spring and summer.

The VPI Agricultural Extension Service announces these dates: March 28-30, Annual Sprinkler Irrigation Conference, VPI; April 3-5, Landscape Short Course, VPI; May 4 and 5, Annual VPI Student Agricultural Exposition; May 7-9, Annual Virginia Rural Electrification Conference, Roanoke; June 18-23, State 4-H Short Course, VPI; June 22-24, Annual All Star Conference, VPI; July 2-6, Rural Ministers' Summer School, VPI; July 16-20, Institute of Rural Affairs, VPI; July 30-August 3, Garden Lovers' Short Course, VPI; August 20-25, Annual Extension Service Conference, VPI; and August 30-31 State 4-H Electric Congress, Richmond.

DEFENSE DEPARTMENT CONTINUES BEEF BUYING

The U. S. Defense Department's present program for accelerated purchase of beef from heavy cattle now going to market will be continued through March.

This is good news for beef producers. The continuation of the program should be beneficial to the cattle market during the current period of relatively heavy marketings of the better grades of cattle. These marketings have resulted from the large number of cattle that have been on feed.

CARE ADVISED IF WARFARIN USE

It pays to be careful when you're using warfarin as a rat poison. There have been several cases where dogs, cats and hogs have become ill when they had access to warfarin put out to kill rats and mice.

Sometimes dogs and cats become ill when they eat too many mice or rats which are weakened or dead from warfarin poisoning. The most serious trouble has been reported when pigs or hogs have been slaughtered and show blood clots between the muscles and in the fatty tissues. This condition of hogs carcasses has caused confusion and concern but it has been found that the farmer used warfarin to keep rats out of the feed and either let the bait get mixed in the feed or tossed the dead rodents to the hogs to eat.

Hogs seem to be particularly susceptible to warfarin poisoning. The internal bleeding and blood clotting is a typical symptom.

We suggest using bait stations when exposing warfarin where feed for livestock is being stored. Two or three bait stations placed at the feed storage on the farm will keep the place relatively free of rats and mice.

Ask your county agent for a copy of Circular 526, which gives details on bait stations, or write VPI Agricultural Extension Service, Blacksburg.

GARDENERS ADVISED TO BETTER THEMSELVES

Spring is not far off - and don't let it slip up on you.

That's the advice to gardeners. The wise home owner will take advantage of the next month or so to prepare for spring and summer gardening jobs.

It's a good time now to check all garden equipment and make sure it is ready. Don't wait until the last minute to overhaul the power lawn mower or garden tractor. Sharpen such tools as hoes, shovels, trowels, and pruning equipment.

Check the outdoor garden furniture. Does it need a coat of paint? Or if your yard lacks garden furniture, why not make a picnic table or some garden chairs this winter? Furniture helps make the outdoor living area more livable.

Paint your garden stakes. Don't wait until next summer. Now is an ideal time to make an inventory of your home grounds to see what needs to be done to complete the landscaping. Decide what trees, shrubs, and flowers you want to buy for the coming year, and place your order with your nurseryman or seedman early. Your nurseryman can give you more attention now than he will be able to give you during the rush of spring business.

Check bulbs in storage. Inspect tubers of dahlias to see if the moisture conditions are right. Sprinkle if too dry. Check all bulbs, corms, etc., and cut off portions which show decay, and dust with sulphur.

FARM ACCOUNTING HABIT CAN PAY BIG DIVIDENDS

For every $100 of forgotten and unrecorded farm expenses, you overpay your income taxes by a minimum of $20.

The best way to avoid overpayment, as well as made scramble at income-tax time, is to keep a good set of farm records, says County Agent E. R. Cockrell, Jr.

He points out that with farming rapidly becoming more complex each year, it is necessary for farmers to know the facts rather than to guess about their business affairs.

Adequate farm records can be kept in simple form without a great deal of time. Establish a regular routine so you get into the habit of doing your bookkeeping at the same time every day. Often the farmer's wife can find time to pay the bills and make the entries.

A complete record of the farm receipts and farm expenses, for calculating labor income. Labor income is what a farmer gets for his year's work above interest on his investment and all farm expenses in addition to having a house to live in and farm products to use.

INTEREST MOUNTS IN DWARF TREES

Interest in mounting in Virginia in planting or dwarf apple trees, but the advice so far from VPI is to proceed cautiously and to make only trial plantings.

Virginians must find out how dwarf trees do under local conditions - which may even vary from county to county - before they go for extensive plantings. If experience with test plantings gives a green light for dwarf apple orchards in Virginia, those who began first will be ahead. "These test plantings are almost a necessary calculated risk which we are compelled to take."

The trees must be given a fair chance and taken care of as should a new planting of standard trees.

There are two main types of stock used on the trees now being sold. One is the Malling understock, and the other is referred to as Clark intermediate stock. Virginians have shown a preference for Clark stock. However the "Clark dwarf" which is considered a semi-dwarf, is somewhat more expensive than the Malling dwarfed trees.

The VPI Agricultural Experiment station at Winchester has five acres of three-year-old trees planted to York-A-Red, Golden Delicious, Jon-a-red, Scarlet Stayman, Red Delicious, and Double Red Rome Beauty. The next two years should add much to the story of semi-dwarf trees as several states, including Virginia, have plantings coming into bearing under orchard conditions.

The semi-dwarf trees (not full dwarf), as in most cases they must be staked, can also be used as fillers in standard tree plantings.

DISTRICT 4-H JUDGING EVENTS SET FOR SPRING

Several district 4-H poultry, livestock, and dairy judging events have been set for this spring.

Four-H specialists at VPI say the winners of the district events will compete in the state contests to be held at the State 4-H Short Course at VPI June 18-23.

District contests in poultry and egg grading are planned for: April 19, Farmville; April 27, Abingdon; May 10, Stanley; May 11, Richmond; and May 12, VPI.

Livestock judging will be held: April 19, Farmville; May 4, Norfolk; May 9, Richmond; May 12, VPI; and May 17, Staunton. Dairy events will be held: April 19, Farmville; April 21, Orange; April 28, Richmond; May 3, Madison; and May 12, Roanoke.

Peach Meringue Pudding

Peach Meringue Pudding is a dessert innovation sure to become a family favorite.

The sky's the limit to the variety of foods homemakers can serve these days. Enjoy the thrill of "discovery" by introducing your family to new food horizons. Peach Meringue Pudding is a fine dish to start your adventure. It combines fine noodles with a creamy, custard sauce. Serve it soon and bring sunshine to winter meals.

Arrange sweet, sliced peaches in the bottom of a baking dish. Pour the noodle-custard mixture over the fruit and top with fluffy meringue and a light sprinkling of coconut. Then bake to golden-brown beauty.

Once you discover how truly good noodle desserts can be, you'll want to try Peach Meringue Pudding using other fruits, too. Looking to spring, how about a Strawberry Meringue Pudding?

Peach Meringue Pudding is a time-saving, oven-to-table food. You'll welcome the economy of Peach Meringue Pudding, too. And when you serve this tempting dessert, you're contributing to family nutrition as well as providing a taste-treat.

PEACH MERINGUE PUDDING

1 can (1-pound 12 ounces) sliced $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt peaches (3 cups) 2 ounces fine noodles
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup milk 2 egg yolks
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Drain peaches and arrange in bottom of greased 8-inch baking dish. Pour milk in saucepan. Add sugar, salt and noodles. Cook over very low heat until noodles are tender, stirring frequently, about 4 to 6 minutes. Beat egg yolks. Stir quickly into noodle mixture and cook about 2 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Add vanilla extract. Spread mixture over peaches. Cool. Top with meringue and sprinkle with coconut. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 15 minutes.

Meringue: 1 egg white $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar
Dash salt $\frac{1}{4}$ cup shredded coconut
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon vanilla extract

Beat egg whites with salt and vanilla until foamy. Gradually add sugar and continue beating until stiff but not dry. Spread over pudding, sprinkle with coconut and bake.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

This Peach Meringue Pudding certainly sounds exciting, and in any event, you make the flavoring is important, and so as vanilla is used in this recipe. I'd like to chat a bit about vanilla. I found this information from beginning to end most interesting and valuable.

Vanilla, the ever popular baking-time flavoring comes from the fruit of an orchid. Did you know that? The fruit or vanilla bean is long and slender, looking something like a good-size snap bean, although a dark brown in color when cured.

Today, the flavor of the vanilla bean is sold almost entirely in extract form: Pure vanilla extract is the result of a careful process by which all the true flavor of the bean is converted into liquid. This pure product should not be confused with chemical synthetics, which by law must be labeled "imitation Vanilla Flavor."

The orchid which produces true vanilla is a native of Mexico, but is now grown in other parts of were the Spaniards with the beverage that when they returned to Europe they brought bags of cocoa and vanilla along with the gold, silver and jewels of Montezuma's fallen empire.

The Spaniards named the new flavor or vanilla, meaning little scabbard, which described the shape of the bean. For sometime, Europe continued to use vanilla only in combination with the cocoa bean. As with spices the flavors of vanilla and cocoa brought exciting new additions to life in the middle ages. At a time when food was poor and comforts as we know them were non-existing, these flavorings became as prized as gold.

Hugh Morgan, apothecary to Queen Elizabeth I, of England, first suggested that vanilla be used as a flavoring on its own. His idea was quickly adopted and vanilla was launched on its independent career.

For more than 300 years after its discovery by Cortez, vanilla was produced only in its native, Mexico. Plantings were tried in other countries, but although the vine was brought to flower, the delicate orchid never bore fruit. The mystery confounded the best minds of Europe until Belgium named Charles Morren, discovered the secret 1856. He noticed that although it might take as long as six weeks for the bud to develop into flower, the lemon-yellow orchid stayed in bloom less than a day. Studying the plant's process of pollination, he found that a tiny bee, the Melipone, which inhabited the vanilla growing districts of Mexico, was uniquely equipped to bring the plant to fertilization. He then tried to fertilizing vanilla blooms by artificial pollination and finally became the first to produce the beans outside of Mexico. Almost immediately the culture of vanilla was begun in the French possession of the Indian Ocean and East and West Indies. Eventually, a practical method of artificial pollination was developed which even became adopted in Mexico.

Anyone who has worn an orchid knows that as beautiful as the flower is, it has no aroma. This is true of the vanilla orchid. All of the wonderful aromas of the plant seems to have been saved by nature for the bean. So it is with the flavor, but it takes more than nature to bring out the best in vanilla flavor. At the time of harvest, the beans have little flavor. They must undergo a skillful process of curing or fermentation, as carefully controlled as in that of the finest wines. During this curing, which takes several months, the beans are "preheated" in airtight containers and dried in the sun. They change from green to chocolate black color and become shriveled.

The moist, slender beans arrive in the U. S. in bundles of from 50 to 90 beans each.

Each bundle is carefully tied and placed in was paperlined tin to keep the beans fresh. Years ago, homemakers bought the whole beans, chopped them up in the kitchen and steeped them to bring out the flavor.

This somewhat tedious process has been eliminated by manufacturers who prepare the familiar bottles of pure vanilla extract found in the food stores today.

Many parts and properties of the vanilla bean contribute to the overall flavor and aroma. Although industrial chemist have done all they can to duplicate pure vanilla there still remains a great difference in aroma and flavor between the pure product and its imitations. It is interesting that when the homemaker has a free choice in the foodstore between buying pure vanilla or imitation vanilla she selects the pure product overwhelmingly. On the other hand, the manufacturer who makes cakes, cookies and ice cream, where the flavor can be masked and adjusted, frequently select the imitation because of its price advantage.

The Pure Food and Drug Administration requires that only 100 per cent pure vanilla extract may be labelled "pure."

When buying vanilla - read the fine print of the ingredients, and buy only pure vanilla. It will mean - your cakes, cookies, ice cream, all your desserts will be excellent - in flavor - always the best. Bye - Now!

Nasreddin, Turkey's legendary funny man, once informed his friends that he was fifty years old. Asked his age again, several years later, he replied, "Fifty."

"But that's what you told us five years ago," his friends protested.

"Of course," Nasreddin replied. "An honest man never contradicts himself."

Give noodles a cheese flavor by melting a few strips of cheddar cheese in milk with a dash of salt. Pour over buttered noodles and top with salt.

Lemon juice added to melted butter and salt gives a wonderful flavor to most green vegetables like broccoli and asparagus.

Deviled ham can be used for open-faced sandwiches. Season the ham with a bit of dill pickle and dash of mustard. Spread buttered bread and broil for 3 minutes.

For very special scrambled eggs, heat some canned sliced mushrooms in butter, then add the egg-milk mixture to scramble.

Use a melon ball cutter and cut balls from tart apples to use in a ham or pork salad. Sprinkle the balls with lemon juice right after cutting so the flesh remains white and tasty until the salad is served.

Top your plain muffins with a spoon of orange or pineapple marmalade before they're baked for that special flavor treat.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Olive Tuna Bake (Serves 3-4)

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup ripe olives
3 eggs
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup evaporated milk
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 7-ounce can tuna

Cut olives into large pieces. Beat eggs well, combine with milk, crumbs, salt, pepper and onion. Drain off oil and flake tuna. Stir tuna and olives into egg-milk mixture. Turn into greased 1-quart pan set in another pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 45 minutes or until set in center. Serve at once.

Ottomans First to Use Ottomans
Popular in grandma's day along with Turkish towels and Turkish divans, ottomans, another Turkish amenity, are again in vogue. Originated by the Ottomans, Turkey more than 200 years ago, the low, plush seats without backs were introduced into France during the reign of Louis XVI. They first became popular throughout Europe and America during the late 19th century, as a result of the Crimean War which aroused widespread interest in Turkish life.

Turkey is contributing to the enrichment of the wildlife population of the United States by sending large supplies of chukar partridges here. These game birds thrive in the hills of western Turkey, where the famed sultana grapes grow. The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service is importing the partridges by the hundreds in the expectation that they will flourish in areas here which are not suitable for pheasants or prairie chickens.

Bell Tidings

If you cover a clump of rhubarb with a glass sash, as spring comes to Virginia, you can force it earlier. If you like rhubarb.

After a long day's drive two Virginians stopped in a Winchester lunchroom for sandwiches and coffee. When they paid their check one of them left his wallet on the counter. But he didn't miss it until he got all the way to Arlington.

There, he called the telephone operator and told her about the wallet. As luck would have it, the operator turned out to be a former Winchester resident - knew just which lunchroom he'd stopped at, by his description of it. One phone call - and a couple of days later his wallet, intact, arrived in the mail.

Unusual - but typical of the helpful service provided by your friends and neighbors at The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia.

Calling someone out of town? Call by number - it's twice as fast.

If a machine answers - don't hang up.

Fellow we know did hang up. Thought he had the wrong number - until a second call set him straight. He'd called the office of a business friend - and when he unexpectedly heard a recorded voice he hung up. He called again - heard the same voice. This time he listened, and this is what he heard:

"This is the Quality Shop. This is a recorded message. Please leave your name and telephone number and we will return your call. You may start talking at the first tone signal and continue to talk until the second tone signal. You will have about 28 seconds to dictate your message. Please speak clearly. And thank you for calling."

The caller gave his name and number, asked his friend to call him about a Saturday round of golf. Sure enough, about an hour later the friend phoned. "Got your message," he said. "Love to play Saturday. How do you like my Automatic Answering Device?"

"Great," our friend said. In fact, he liked it so much he called our Business Office and had a unit installed in his office. Says he doesn't know how he ever got along without it.

In February, 1693, the College of William and Mary was founded at Middle Plantation, Williamsburg.

When you're driving - keep an eye out for the convenient outdoor Public Telephones along the way. A call ahead when you're delayed - or when you need reservations - can save a lot of disappointment and worry.

GARDEN GUIDE

By
J. WILTON
ANDERSON

Many of our local homeowners are blessed with varying number of trees.

Most people are pleased with such a situation because they agree with Brother Kilmer and his "I think that I shall never see a thing as lovely as a tree" philosophy.

Trees do have their practical and aesthetic advantages. From a gardener's point-of-view though they can be little trying. The shade cast by leaves and the tremendous moisture and plant food requirements of the most trees are a distinct hindrance to most smaller plants that a gardener wishes to work with, deciduous and evergreen shrubs, annuals, perennials on down to grass.

Many more of our ornamental plants thrive in full sun than in partial shade or dense shade.

In a nursery, for example, very few plants have to have shade. Nearly all are grown in the full sun. Of course, some plants are versatile in that they will live satisfactorily in sun, partial shade or dense shade.

When it comes to having flowers in partial shade the following are some shrubs that bloom well in this area. Azaleas, Camellias, Hydrangeas, Abelia, Mountain Laurel, Wintergreen, Barberry and the Viburnums. Colorful fruit is often a very desirable characteristic and the fruit is produced by flowers. Shrubs satisfactory having showy fruit even in shaded places are Pyracantha, Beauty-berry, Mahonia, Holly and Mandarin.

Some of the small flowering trees will live and bloom even though larger trees are around to block some of the sunlight. Most notable in this category is the dogwood. Redbird is another.

Shifting in size down to annuals and perennials, there are not too many to choose from, but enough to solve our problem of color in the shade. Among annuals are, Zinnias, Pansies and Petunias. Petunias, Pansies and Petunias are more satisfactory. Pansies, of course are biennial. Perennials to try are Conspires, Peonies and Phlox.

There are some beautiful flowers from the group of plants that is treated as bulbs Tulips, Iris, Lily-of-the-Valley, Narissus, Orange Lily, Madonna Lily, and Day Lily will give a lot of color even though partially shaded.

Of the blooming ground covers, there are two that come to mind for our shady plant classification, Vinco or Periwinkle and Adonis.

Lawns under trees are extremely difficult during warm months. By for the most satisfactory answer is to sow ryegrass each fall and enjoy its pretty green until the following May or June when it is burned back. Grass seed mixtures that are labeled for shaded areas

$2,000,000 Naval Construction Program Started At Oceana Base

Work on the $2,000,000 construction program aboard the Naval Air Station at Oceana is progressing rapidly during breaks in the weather.

The largest single improvement is the new Miramar Hangar which is a part of a four and one-half million dollar expansion program underway aboard the Master Jet Base. The mammoth structure will incorporate 55,000 square feet of floor space and will be equipped with the latest word in modern aircraft repair facilities.

The High Speed Jet Fueling Stations, which are capable of delivering 400 gallons of fuel per minute, are completed and in use on the flight line at this time.

A Supply Warehouse which will provide 92,000 square feet of storage space and the supply office spaces which will involve 9,000 square feet, are also going up at a rapid rate and should be completed in the near future.

Emphasis in the construction program is being placed on morale facilities. The new recreation center is entering the final phase of construction and should be ready for occupancy around the first of August, weather permitting. A swimming pool and lighted softball field, Oceana's first should be completed by May and will be inaugurated by two teams from the Princess Anne Little League upon completion. The Naval Air Station is sponsoring a baseball clinic for the young ballplayers and they will use the stations new field for some of their games this year.

Oceana was originally planned as an all-weather master Jet Air Station and the objective is rapidly being approached. The station will eventually represent an investment of 60 million dollars.

POULTRY SHOULD BE AGED BEFORE FREEZING

Poultry meat benefits from aging before freezing. Just as does beef.

Nearly every farmer who has had experience in killing beef on the farm knows that it helps to let the meat "age" some before it is cooked. Only recently has research been completed to prove that poultry meat should age some also. Federal and state workers from California, report that all poultry meat should have at least 10 hours ripening period, and 20 to 34 hours is much better.

Since it is frequently desirable to start cooking the meat before it is completely thawed, it is better to allow time for ripening between killing and freezing.

This research helps explain why there have been so many complaints about frozen chickens being tough when cooked. Enough time was not allowed for aging. They add next to overlook the need of thoroughly cooling the meat before freezing it.

will not be satisfactory unless sunshine gets to the lawn at least 3 or 4 hours each day. Zonia, the new lawn grass will be green in the summer until 75 or 80% shade. Clover will too, but clover is not a very satisfactory lawn.

About 2,500,000 people now live in mobile homes. This house trailer population is enough to make it the third largest U. S. city, ranked only by New York and Chicago.

FORT STORY TELLINGS

Three amphibious truck companies from Fort Story's 10th Transportation Battalion and a terminal service company from the 37th Transportation Battalion will participate in LOTS (Logistics Over-the-Shore) 7, a logistical support exercise to be staged by the Transportation Training Command at Ft. Eustis and Ft. Story March 19 to 28.

Nearly 2,000 officers and men from 20 units will take part in the training problem.

The problem will involve the movement of approximately 3,000 measurement tons of cargo by rail, highway, water and air. Most of the cargo will be loaded on a victory ship and a smaller FS vessel at Ft. Eustis and transported to Ft. Story. The Cape Henry post's DUKWs and landing craft from Ft. Eustis will then take over and move the supplies and equipment ashore in an amphibious operation. High priority cargo will be transported by air.

Exercise director is Col. Harold C. Rowe, commanding officer of the 74th Transportation Group at Ft. Eustis. Lt. Col. Wayne G. West, commanding officer of the 4th Transportation Terminal Command "C" will direct "near shore" operations at Ft. Eustis. Commanding the "far shore" at Ft. Story will be Maj. Herman Nader, commanding officer of the 10th Transportation Battalion.

Assistant Secretary of the Army Chester R. Davis visited Ft. Story March 9 to 11 to observe Transportation Corps training for summer operations in the Arctic.

The visit to Ft. Story was Mr. Davis' first. The assistant secretary said his trip to the Cape Henry post and two visits to Ft. Eustis had "impressed" him with the "efficiency of the Transportation Corps and the necessity for such a corps and the work it is doing."

After observing training at Ft. Story, the assistant secretary called the post "unique...very important to the Army - and especially the Transportation Corps."

Ft. Story post exchange will be completely remodeled this spring. The exchange has already moved its services to another building so workmen can begin readying the PX for renovation.

When the job is finished, the exchange will have an air conditioning system, new lighting system, show cases and linoleum tile flooring. The building will be painted inside and out. Appearance of the exchange will also be enhanced by modern entrance and exit doors. Target date for completion of the project is May 1.

Another move in Story's improvement program shifted the Quartermaster Clothing Sales Store to a larger building in a better location. Projected improvements will modernize the store and provide shoppers with dressing rooms.

Tri-faith Religious Emphasis Week will be observed at Ft. Story March 11 to 16. In addition to regular Sunday services, worship periods for those of the Jewish faith were scheduled each afternoon. Protestant and Catholic services were held each afternoon and night.

Best Mess for February was awarded to the 155th Transportation Company. Mess sergeant for the 155th is Sfc. George R. Julius.

An eight-hour course in civilian personnel policies and procedures has been completed by nine Ft. Story officers. To be eligible for the orientation course, each officer had to be supervisor of at least 10 civilian personnel. Classes were conducted by Berkeley B. Thornton, training officer for the civilian personnel division at Ft. Eustis.

Officers who completed the course were: Maj. James A. McCaffrey; Capt. John C. Redmon; Capt. Wallace W. Langford; Capt. Joseph J. Carfagno; Capt. Quinn

Tibetans abominate hell as the mischief of devils and believe that it must not strike the holy building of Lhasa, along the city of the Dalai Lamas. The government hires magicians to prevent such disasters, and punishes them if they fail.

More than 50 different mammals including bear, cougar, and the largest remaining herds of Roosevelt elk inhabit the primitive wilderness of Washington State's Olympic Peninsula.

Limited job opportunities for older people, coupled with a rising average life span, have come to mean that at age 60 the average person can look forward to fifteen years of life but only nine years of work.

GOD IN ACTION

Jesus Christ is God in action. This is the belief of Christians. It is, furthermore, their basic belief.

Being a Christian is not just believing in one, Jesus of Nazareth. Many people believe in Jesus; practically everybody believes in him. The Golden Rule and the Love Commandment are not the sort of thing one argues with unless he is a crank or crack-pot. Men may argue that Jesus was not too idealistic, or even that he was a visionary. Yet they do assert their faith in him as a person of unquestioned goodness and integrity.

We must remember that it was precisely this kind of acceptance that Jesus did not want. What was important to him was not that he be accepted as an individual but for anything that he was himself. What was important was from whom he came. As he put it: "He who believes in me, believes not in me but in Him who sent me."

GOD AND THE CALENDAR

We come now in the Christian calendar to certain events that have fascinated men for two thousand years. These are the event of Christ's last week on earth. There had never been a week like that that men should accept the one before, there has never been one like it since, and there will never be such a week again until history finds its fulfillment beyond history.

What is important here is not the events themselves—the betrayal, the miscarriage of justice, the denial, the suffering and death of a good man named Jesus of Nazareth. All this is not the story of what happened to Jesus—or, it is that but incidentally. What we see here is God in action—God come squarely into human life, willing to share the worst to save His children from it. This is what Jesus meant when he said: "He who has seen me has seen the Father." We see in him and through him the God who really is God.

How to Swim from Europe to Asia
In Turkey you can swim from one continent to another. The easiest way to do it is to go from Europe to Asia across the warm waters of the Bosphorus. It is only a mile and a half from the European to the Asian shore of this Turkish strait in Istanbul, although the current may give you a ride of as much as four miles. It is advisable to wear water-goggles and to have someone near at hand throughout the trip—preferably a Turk, for during the choice months from June to October some of the local citizenry frequently swim across some Turkish swimming back from Asia to Europe as well.

THROUGH DARKNESS
Clouds, smoke and fog over the city darkness enveloping the streets—the church spires hidden! Presently the sun's rays pierce the clouds—the fog lifts—once more the church spires will point toward heaven for all to see.
So it is with life. Men and women grope about in darkness; clouds of doubt and the smoke of unbelief shut out God's glorious light. Then church bells peal—eyes and footsteps turn toward the house of God.
As sunlight dispels physical darkness, so God's message lifts the darkness from men's souls. Are you hearing that message? It sounds particularly clear on Palm Sunday morning when the story of Christ's triumphant entrance into Jerusalem is recalled. The Church invites you. Will you come?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the spiritual factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is the cornerstone of spiritual values. It is the only place where, without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should join the Church. They are: (1) For his own soul. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Gray Ladies" Bring Cheer To Hospital Patients

Anyone who has ever been in a hospital knows how bleak and dreary it can be. For many of our veterans at the Portsmouth Naval Hospital, it is isolation from friends and families because distance is too great for much visiting. This void is filled by the Gray Ladies, a group of volunteers, trained by and working under the supervision of the American Red Cross and the hospital, dedicated to the comfort of the patient.

The Gray Lady visits patients in the hospital wards and rooms. She writes letters, reads, teaches arts and crafts and plays games, does shopping and arranges flowers for the patients. She is sincere because her time is given willingly. She is patient, cheerful and uses all the discretion and tact she has, never forgetting that she is there to help. She works in the library and acts as hostess at card parties, and other recreational activities. One hospital official remarked that medicine can do just so far, that when a man can keep his morale high, he recovers much faster and the service these women give is invaluable.

The Gray Lady service is open to women over 21 years of age. Each applicant must take a training course which consists of a minimum of twelve hours before receiving her cap. This is essential because she is working along with the doctors and nurses and must know what is expected of her to make the patients comfortable. The training she receives qualifies her to work in military hospitals, U. S. Public Health Service Hospitals, Veterans Administration Hospitals and help when the bloodmobile visits the area.

At the present time, there are nine Gray Ladies from Princess Anne County who give one day or more a week at the Portsmouth Naval Hospital. They are Mrs. Bernard Battleman, Mrs. Benjamin McCleskey, Mrs. William F. Ellis, Mrs. Robert Dickenson, Mrs. Alma Howell, Mrs. Hiram Cansedy, Mrs. Michael Elliott, Mrs. William E. McLuckie, and Mrs. Clifford Sawyer, and more are needed.

A national speed paving record was set with the laying of 393 feet of a 24-foot pavement in 24 minutes, 35 seconds. The paving material used was asphalt, an oil product.

National Little League News

Despite the rainy, blustery weather of last Friday night, about 80 boys were duly registered to participate in the National Little League of Virginia Beach. It is expected that at least 20 more boys will be registered before the month is over. Just in case you failed to be present with your boy last Friday you may still register him by contacting Mr. J. F. Dallery; Mr. J. Kull; Mr. James Perdue or Mr. James Gregory. They are all listed in the Virginia Beach telephone directory.

Upon registration, all parents indicated that they would be willing to supply their sons with rubber cleated baseball shoes. This indicates that one of the new rules during the forthcoming season will be one which will permit players to wear cleated shoes. Last season tennis shoes only were permitted. The new type of shoes will afford better footing on the skinned infield and also give the teams more professional appearance.

The practice diamonds at Camp

Pendleton are nearing completion. About all that remains to be done is to erect backstops and form the pitcher's mounds.

Jim Perdue and Cap'n Jim Gregory are ready to round up their help (hard working Little League fathers) as soon as the weather cooperates.

All sponsors who backed teams last year have definitely indicated that they will again sponsor the same teams this year. Sponsors are: The Moose Lodge; The Beach Methodist Church; Emrhase Motors and the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Virginia Beach.

Little League Booster Tickets are currently on sale for one dollar. Possession of a ticket will insure you of a seat at any Little League game and will of course go toward financing the league. There are plenty of eager salesladies and salesmen who will be glad to sell you one of these tickets.

It's definite now. The Little League Box Social will be held on the evening of 12 April at the American Legion Hall. Ladies place a mark on the calendar, dig out the dancing shoes and start convincing father that he'll have a lot of fun on that night.

LITTLE LEAGUE PERSONALITY

Mr. Ben Gregory is the manager of the Beach Methodist Pipers. Ben loves baseball and likes kids and is intent upon fielding a good team. He insists on plenty of hustle on the field and the Pipers respond with a snappy performance. Ben runs his team with a firm hand but in such a manner that the boys like the discipline. All the players on his team get the chance to play and as a result he has a happy flock of Pipers. Ben and Mrs. Gregory have 2 daughters and 1 son at home, during the summer Ben has 16 boys. Ben puts in a hard day working for the city as Superintendent of the Sewage treatment plant. Ben is assisted by Paul Vander Meer a young man from Fort Story. Paul devoted his off duty hours last season to the Pipers. He not only assisted Ben in coaching the boys in the fundamentals of baseball but took over the physical training of the Pipers team and brought them through the past season in top shape.

SHUT-IN CLUB HONORS ITS FOUNDER — MRS. HARRY FULFORD

The Chesapeake Beach Shut-In Club which is sponsored by the Garden Dept. of the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. G. E. Watson on Bradford Drive.

The program began with the reading of the Club Collect with a candlelight service. Mrs. John B. Fay read the DOGWOOD STORY. Mrs. Harry Fulford then read a poem entitled "ODE TO A WHEELCHAIR," which was written by Mrs. Chester Reddy, a member of the club who has spent many years in a wheelchair.

Since the club has been organized many of its members have become active in the club activities hence the members decided that a change in the name of the club would be appropriate. A new name was chosen, namely, "THE MAUDE FULFORD GOLDEN CIRCLE." The club also adopted a motto: "CARING AND SHARING." This circle is founded on Friendship, through Faith, Hope and Love.

A circulating library has been established for the benefit of the members. Included in this library are books on gardening and interior decorating as well as a number of books of fiction.

A conversation scrap book is being compiled to familiarize the members with plants and trees which are part of the conservation program.

The Yellow Jasmine was selected as the club flower.

The live oak was selected as the club tree.
Yellow and Green were selected as club colors.

Refreshments and decorations carried out the Easter motif. The following members were present: Mrs. L. Anderson, Mrs. Fred Bagner, Mrs. G. W. Deitman, Mrs. John B. Fay, Mrs. Fred Lunsford, Mrs. Frederick Mueller, Mrs. B. V. Reynolds, Mrs. G. T. Vellines, Mrs. Emma Watson, Mrs. Greenstreet.

Assisting Mrs. Harry Fulford were the following: Mrs. E. L. Cooper, Mrs. T. B. Petty, Mrs. M. Price and Mrs. R. W. Sprull.

OCEAN PARK WOMAN'S CLUB
The Ocean Park Woman's Club held its regular meeting Wednesday at 12:30 P.M. at the Ocean Park Fire House with a luncheon.

Mrs. Robert Holloman was re-elected as president of the club. Other newly elected officers are Mrs. E. F. Caldwell, first vice president; Mrs. D'Arcy Jones, secretary; Mrs. C. J. Hiller, treasurer; Mrs. E. C. Stone, corresponding secretary and Mrs. H. W. Parham, chaplain. The new officers will be installed at the May meeting.

Mrs. G. C. Lyon gave a report on the Girl Scouts. She reported that Troop 203, which she leads had an increase in membership from 16 to 37 girls in a comparatively short time.

Mrs. Lyman Clarke, a member of the Kempsville Woman's Club and Field Director of the Girl Scouts was guest speaker. She gave an interesting account of the history of the Girl Scouts from the time of its founding until the present time. Mrs. H. W. Newsome was the organizer of the Girl Scout movement in this area. At the present time there are over 1,000 girls enrolled in 55 troops

Durham Honored By Local Police Lodge

The Virginia Beach Lodge of the Fraternal Order of Police honored Floyd M. Durham, Jr., city accountant, in ceremonies held at the annual banquet of the Order Wednesday night.

Durham received a scroll and a gold badge which identifies him as an honorary associate member of the Fraternal Order of Police. The scroll read: "For distinguished and continuing service rendered to this lodge and his untiring labor and efforts to better the standards of the Virginia Beach police division."

The presentation to Durham highlighted the local Lodges' annual banquet. Approximately 85 persons were present and heard Circuit Court Judge Floyd E. Kellam deliver the principal address.

In Princess Anne County, Mrs. Robert Holloman was selected to represent the club at the Convention to be held April 9th and 10th at Richmond.

Hostesses for the Luncheon were: Mrs. R. P. Alexander; Mrs. C. L. Nick; Mrs. C. L. Snod; Mrs. F. W. DeWolf and Mrs. D. B. Hill.

OCEAN PARK GIRL SCOUT TROOP 203

Mrs. G. C. Lyon, leader of Troop 203, took the following twelve girls to Virginia Beach where they attended a six weeks course on Home Economics which was conducted by Frances Farley, V.E.P. Home Economist; Sandra Hanson; Dorothy Ellen; Mary Fretress; Florence Reese; Sheila Banc; Diane Bowdon; Susan Lyon; Susan Bentley; Joyce LaRelle; Beth Tignor; Nancy Fay and Kathleen Gushard.

At the conclusion of this course the girls were hosts to their mothers at a tea which was given Wednesday night, March 21st at the V.E.P. Building in Virginia Beach.

Each of the girls earned two merit badges: cooking and hospitality, as a result of completion of this course.

County Men Study N. Y. Operation

Four representatives from Princess Anne County flew to New York City Tuesday to meet with officials of that city in connection with the operation of the Police Athletic League there.

Making the trip to New York were James E. Moore, county police chief; John V. Pentress, clerk of the Circuit Court; R. H. Owen, administrative assistant to the superintendent of schools; and John Fitzgerald, a member of the Fraternal Order of Police Associates.

A police Athletic League has been in operation in Princess Anne County for approximately one year and it is patterned after the one in New York City. A full time director has been approved by the county Board of Supervisors.

Chief Moore stated that the trip was being made to further observe the operation of the New York P.A.L. He said arrangements had been made with New York's Deputy Police Commissioner James B. Nolan, who is also honorary president of P.A.L.

The four men were expected to return to the county on Wednesday.

Miss Joan Bailey Becomes Bride of Jerry Stallings In Saturday Rites

The marriage of Miss Joan Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Turner, of Portsmouth and Virginia Beach, to Jerry Stallings, of Smithfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson Stallings Jr., of Smithfield, took place last Saturday afternoon at four o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church of Virginia Beach. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Pickett Davis in a setting of palms, white lilies and evergreens. Mrs. Charles H. Hittings accompanied Lee Scott Sykes who sang "Because" and "Through the years."

Given in marriage by Ray Turner, the bride wore a floor length wedding gown of lace and tulle over satin made with basque bodice and shoulder wide V neckline. The bonnet skirt was styled with ties of lace and tulle over satin. Her fingertip veil of illusion was arranged from a lace pill box sparked with sequins and pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white freesias, white roses, sweet peas and white delphinium.

Miss Avis Glenda Bailey, of Virginia Beach, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of aqua crystal and tulle, styled with crushed bodice and stole to form a portrait neckline. The tiered bouffant skirt was accented with a bow in the back. Her headpiece was a crystal crown with teardrop pearls.

Mrs. Vandeventer Entertains Guests

Birdneck Club Votes $200 To Beautification

The Birdneck Point Garden Club voted Two Hundred Dollars toward the beautification planting of Leakin Road when they met last Tuesday for their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Karl A. Wunder. This project is being brought about through the Council of Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County working in conjunction with the State Highway Department, and consists of the planting of low shrubs and trees appropriate to this area.

Twenty-five dollars was given to the "crape myrtle trail" which is to follow Route 60 from Williamsburg to Cape Henry. Arrangements were made for a twelve-foot cedar tree to be planted in the triangle at Cardinal Road and Kludner Court. Mrs. E. Ashley Haycox and Mrs. R. E. Cramer were appointed to assist in the Flower Show to be held during the Golden Jubilee Celebration.

Mrs. Cecil F. Mears was appointed chairman for the preservation of birds and small wild life in the vicinity.

Mrs. A. V. Crosby, who was one of the judges in the National Flower Show held recently in New York, was the guest speaker at the meeting. Mrs. Crosby spoke on the fundamentals of design and color, and used swatches of colored taffeta to illustrate monochromatic, analogous and triadic designs.

Mrs. David Stormont and Mrs. David Stormont III assisted Mrs. Wunder as co-hostesses, and Mrs. R. B. Baldwin, President of the Club, presided at the dessert table.

Mrs. Crosby awarded blue ribbons to Mrs. J. J. Southerland, novice class; and to Mrs. R. S. Crenshaw, Mrs. A. S. Rosenkrans, Jr., Mrs. D. J. Doe, Mrs. E. F. Harschuis and Mrs. Wunder in horticulture classes.

Babe Ruth League News

The Babe Ruth Baseball League of Virginia Beach held its organizational meeting last week and B. M. Stanton, local resident and Norfolk businessman, was elected president.

Other officers elected include John Tucker, vice-president; Mrs. R. B. Baldwin, secretary; and Miles Chappell, treasurer.

Approximately 70 youngsters attended the meeting with a large number of parents present. Stanton explained that the league will consist of four teams with fifteen boys being carried on each team's roster.

It was also explained that farm teams will be organized for those boys who do not make the regular teams. Games are scheduled for Wednesday and Saturday nights with any makeup games set for Saturday afternoons.

The league is in need of much manpower in the way of coaches, assistant coaches, scorekeepers, managers and umpires.

Flash bulletin from Mobilgas Economy Run

V-8 WINS CLASS A

In this year's Economy Run a new Ford V-8, with Fordomatic was the official victor over every car in its field, with a winning average of 47.7643 ton-miles per gallon. This means that the sturdier, heavier Ford carried more weight, with greater gas economy per pound, than any car in its field.

This latest Ford victory was scored over a rough and rigorous 1,408.8-mile route running from Los Angeles to Colorado Springs. The winning Ford threaded its way over the tough and twisting course averaging better than 40 mph. Through the heat of Death Valley and over the chilling height of an 11,000-foot mountain peak... through the gas-eating stop-and-go of city traffic and over the straight-line open road... Ford proved anew its traditional reputation for economical performance.

The winning Ford was a regular-production model taken right from the assembly line and officially impounded until the starter's gun sounded. It was no different than thousands of '56 Fords you see on the road and in dealers' showrooms. This proves that Ford, the Performance, Style and Safety leader, leads in Economy, too! That adds up to four big reasons why the '56 Ford is worth more when you buy it, while you drive it, and when you sell it, too!

The "ton-mile" formula is used by contest officials to insure equal chances for all cars in each class regardless of size or weight. Formula: ton miles equals ton weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by the number of miles traveled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.

Misses Paula and Phyllis Robertson honored Miss Creekmore with a linen shower Wednesday night at Miss Creekmore's home in Kempsville Heights.

Guest were Mrs. Miles Ford, Mrs. William Creekmore; Mrs. Joseph Creekmore; Mrs. Robert McPhail; Mrs. Robert Davis; Mrs. Harry Miller; Mrs. Richard Humphries; Mrs. Paul Vestal; Mrs. Garland Barlow; Mrs. Leola Nix; Mrs. Virgil Ford; Mrs. V. D. Wood; Mrs. George Wilson; Mrs. Phillip O. Robertson; Misses Barbara Whitehead; Jean Sariano; Velma and Marie Fisk; Shirley Edwards and Irene Creekmore.

AVALON TERRACE GARDEN CLUB:

The Avalon Terrace Garden Club held its meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. R. C. Small on Avalon Terrace.

Mrs. Robert A. Herzog was guest speaker for the meeting. Her topic was "Table Setting." According to Mrs. Herzog, "Tablecloths and flower arrangements used in informal table setting should complement the china used."

Mrs. J. L. Pennington was co-hostess.

CAVALIER JUNIOR WOMANS CLUB HOLD HAMBURGER FEAST:

The Cavalier Junior Womens Club held their Hamburger Feast in honor of the Kempsville Womens Club and their husbands Sunday, March 25th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carper in Lake Terrace.

Mrs. R. H. McClean, Chairman of the Social Committee arranged the affair with Mrs. F. R. Chapman; Mrs. J. C. Compton; Mrs. Marvin B. Jones; Mrs. D. T. Tress and Mrs. N. E. Wallace assisting. Everyone had a wonderful time. The warmth and friendship shown melted away all of the chilling winds.

KEMPSVILLE SCOUTS OBSERVE GIRL SCOUT WEEK:

The closing night of Girl Scout Week was an inspirational event in the lives of all of the Girl Scout and Brownie Scout Troops in the Kempsville Area.

A special program under the direction of Reverend Arthur P. Rosch of the Community Methodist Church in Acredale was held March 18th at eight o'clock. The theme of the program was "A Service in Recognition of Girl Scout Sunday."

The Processional Hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers," was sung as the Brownie Scouts and the Girl Scouts marched down the aisle led by the Color Bearers, Jo Ellen Kloppenberg and Jo Ann Robertson of Troop 207. After the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, Marianne Frances Roach of Troop 257 gave the "Affirmation of Faith."

"The Scouts Own" was led by Carol Flanigan and Karen Bennett of Troop 257. The Brownie Scouts of Troop 231 repeated the "Brownie Promise," led by Linda K. Baker and Sharon B. Jones. The "Girl Scout Promise" was led by Betty Bernard of Troop 257. "The Evening Prayer" was offered by Susan Gatlin of Troop. Sandra K. Miller of Troop 207 led the "Disciples Prayer."

Special guest of the evening were Mrs. H. M. Miller, from the Girl Scout Headquarters in Norfolk, who spoke briefly on the Girl Scouting Program. Miss Lyman Clarke, Vice-President of Tidewater Area Girl Scout Council gave a very inspirational talk, stressing "the importance of the Girl Scout Program, the friendly understanding and relationship the girls learn in Girl Scouting. They learn to accept the rule of the majority and to respect the rules of the minority." She also stated "the girls are being trained in democracy to make our country greater and better than ever before."

The Girl Scout and Brownie Scout Leaders were introduced, also the Neighborhood Chairman Mrs. J. D. Gregory.

Reverend Rosch spoke to the group on "The A. B. C's of Scouting." This meaning "Always Be Clean, Courteous, and above all Christ-like in our everyday living."

After the Recessional Hymn, all of the Scouts sang "Tops" and repeated the "Girl Scout Prayer." This Girl Scout observance was made possible by hours of work and planning by leaders and parents and friends of the area Girl Scouts and Brownies. Sincere appreciation is expressed to Mrs. H. M. Miller; Mrs. W. T. Baker; Mrs. J. R. Creekmore; Mrs. Clarence Flanigan; Mrs. Frank Gellin; Mrs. Bruce Jones, to name just a few who helped prepare the service.

KEMPSVILLE LIONS CLUB:

Members of the Kempsville Lions Club have been commended for their activities of the past year by Ellis Loveless, a past international director of Lions International.

Loveless, vice president and advertising director of the Ledger-Star and the Virginia-Pilot told members of the club at a charter night celebration Thursday to multiply their efforts by those of 200 clubs in the State, and then imagine a half-million other Lions at work, to realize the extent of the achievements of the organization.

Don Meadows, first president of the club, was master of ceremonies and introduced the club officers and visiting members at the meeting.

ing at Wheeler's Restaurant on Virginia Beach Blvd.

The Kempsville Club has spent more than eight hundred dollars on charity projects during the past year, according to an activities report compiled on its fourth anniversary. The projects included purchases of eyeglasses for school children, a reassembler and wheelchair for the Kempsville Fire Department, clothing, medicine, hospital care, groceries and youth oil for needy families and fuel work in the community.

A six-piece orchestra from the Princess Anne High School led by Sherwood Thompson, Oceana, entertained the Lions and their guests. The club will assist in sending the group to the national band contest in St. Louis, Mo. this summer.

KEMPSVILLE WOMANS CLUB:

The Kempsville Womens Club held its meeting March 20th in the Kempsville Community Center. The president, Mrs. Lyman Clarke, presided.

Chairman of the Nominating Committee Mrs. Emmett L. Hudgins presented the slate of officers. Mrs. W. W. Johnson has been nominated to head the slate for the coming year. Mrs. R. E. Dorer, first vice president, Mrs. R. L. Walkerm, Jr. Second Vice President, Mrs. J. E. Hodges, Recording Secretary, Mrs. R. F. Humphries, Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Brice Day, Treasurer and Mrs. Lyman Clarke, Historian.

Mrs. R. N. Nelson, Chairman of the Public Affairs Department announced that fifty two dollars was made on its recent card party. This sum will be used to increase the Teaching Scholarship Fund which is given each year to a senior at Princess Anne High School.

It was voted to contribute ten dollars to the Jamestown Festival Highway Beautification Project. Mrs. Clarke and Mrs. Johnson will be the delegates to the Virginia Federation of Womens Clubs Convention to be held in Richmond on April 10, 11 and 12th. Mrs. Hodges will be the alternate. Fourteen members represented the club at the District Meeting held at the Nanamond Hotel at Ocean View.

Members were reminded of the invitation by the Cavalier Junior Womens Club to attend the Hamburger Feast.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Charles Deaton, Chairman of the Fine Arts Department. A one act play entitled "The Twelve Pound Look" was presented by a dramatic group from the Princess Anne High School, under the direction of Mr. Joseph Lowenthal, Junior.

BOULEVARD MANOR GARDEN CLUB:

The Boulevard Manor Garden Club held its 11th birthday celebration Tuesday at the Pine Tree Inn.

Mrs. J. H. Patterson, of the Gowrie Terrace Garden Club conducted the installation ceremonies. Mrs. J. H. Williams was installed as president, Mrs. D. S. Willis, first vice president; Mrs. J. W. Lawrum, second vice president; Mrs. E. E. Barnes, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. R. Peters, recording secretary; Mrs. D. L. Prescott, treasurer; Mrs. J. H. Good, historian; and Mrs. B. E. Keys, librarian. Mrs. J. M. Allred, outgoing historian, read the history of the club.

PERSONALS:

Mrs. Allen R. Stein and small daughter, Doretha Fay, of Toledo, Ohio are visiting with her parents, Commander and Mrs. Charles Deaton.

Mr. H. F. Hale of Lake Terrace is in the Portsmouth Naval Hospital for a check up.

Mrs. Don Meadows of Kempsville Heights underwent surgery in the Norfolk General Hospital and is on the way to recovery.

Mrs. R. M. Whitfield is improving in the Leigh Memorial Hospital and will soon be home.

KEMPSVILLE RURIAN CLUB:

The Kempsville Ruritan Club held its monthly meeting Monday night March 18th in the Azalea Room of the Municipal Air Port. The president, Charles Dresher presided.

Plans were completed and it was announced that the Bloodmobile would visit the Kempsville Elementary School March twenty third between the hours of twelve and six o'clock.

Scott Memorial Church News

To Have Two Easter Services

Due to the greatly increased attendance recently at the services of Scott Memorial Methodist Church, two Easter Worship Services are planned for Easter Sunday morning. The first of two identical services will be held at 8:30 A. M. and the second at 11:00 A. M. The Easter Sermon, delivered by the pastor, the Rev. F. H. Strieby, will be on the theme, "He Is Risen." Easter Anthem, rendered by the Church Choir, directed by Mr. Bailey Bargo, will add to the significance of the message of the Resurrection.

At the eleven o'clock service a large class of Youth will be received into Church membership, and also adults who have recently made decisions for Christ and Church membership.

Provisions is being made for overflow congregations. The congregation and the pastor extend a very cordial invitation to all of the people in our rapidly-growing community to attend these special services and to make our friendly Church home.

The services of Palm Sunday were attended by a near capacity congregation, when the pastor re-

KEMPSVILLE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Beginner Department of the Kempsville Baptist Church had charge of the program for the opening services of the Sunday School March 23rd.

Mrs. W. T. Baker, Superintendent of the department with Mrs. N. E. Wallace, Mrs. Ruth Cole, Mrs. Florence Vick, Mrs. Edna Stocks, and Mrs. Jack Z. Weeks, assisting her prepared the program.

Songs were sung by the children and recitations were given by Ralph Bamforth; Karen Jones; Kim Jones; Bobby Bridges and Ruthie Nuckols, members of the class.

ceived into the Church a class of twelve Junior children and three adults and baptized two infants.

Mrs. Freeman Is Guest Speaker

Mrs. H. O. Freeman was guest speaker at the Eastern Shore Garden Club's monthly meeting at Clolas Restaurant on March 19. Mrs. Freeman explained how to dry flowers and also showed how to make panels using dried materials.

The arrangements were judged by Mrs. M. B. MacDonald; Mrs. S. Romand and Mrs. N. P. Amato of the Thalia Garden Club. Ribbons were awarded to Mrs. R. W. Couch; Mrs. Anne May Gregory; Mrs. R. W. Ashworth; Mrs. H. H. Bender; Mrs. C. B. Spencer; Mrs. M. C. Baines; Mrs. G. R. Gimbson; Mr. M. C. Baines and R. W. Ashworth.

N. H. S. SURF QUEEN

Cleve Gayle was elected by the school last month to reign as this year's Surf Queen.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde G. Gayle and she lives on 12th Street here at the beach. Living here all her life she has enjoyed the ocean in the summer and spends most of her time there.

Cleve is well-liked by the students and is active in school. She is the treasurer of the Senior Class and has been in the Home Ec. Club for two years.

She took a business course in high school and plans to attend William and Mary in Williamsburg in the fall.

Working at the Bell Telephone Company keeps her quite busy too. Later in May she will attend the Azalia Court with Cheryl Wallace as a representative of Virginia Beach.

V. B. H. S. BELIEVES IN LEADERSHIP TRAINING

The Student Council of Virginia Beach High School feels that leadership training is important in every way. Not only is such training valuable today, but also for tomorrow. For this reason and many more, we advocate the following proper procedures for good leadership training:

1. Areas available for training leaders: A. Within the school: 1. Participation in activities of the SCA, school clubs, classes, home rooms, and committees.

2. Learning good sportsmanship through athletic contests.

3. Learning to speak before a group and express ideas through public debate, speech classes, assemblies, speakers' bureau.

4. Sharing the spotlight and learning how to mix at social gatherings.

5. Learning about school problems through a Students' Day in which students assume the roles of the administration and faculty.

6. Information of new officers by outgoing officers.

7. Training of new officers by outgoing officers.

8. Knowledge of local, state, and national government learned in academic classes.

- B. Outside the school: 1. Summer Workshops.

2. County, District, State, Regional, and National Conferences.

3. Model General Assembly.

4. Boys' and Girls' State.

- II. Leadership training courses: A. What should attend? A SCA officers and representatives.

- Class and club officers.

- Yearbook and newspaper editors.

- Other interested in training to become leaders and who are willing to work.

- B. As consultants: Principal and other members of Administrative Staff.

- Superintendent of Schools and School Board members.

- SCA and Club Advisors.

- Guidance directors.

- Leaders of civic organizations.

- Interested faculty members.

- Local government officials.

- Local, district and state SCA leaders.

- Representatives from other schools with courses.

- B. What is studied and How? 1. What: Parliamentary procedure.

- Character and personality of leaders.

- Qualities of good leaders.

- Public speaking.

- Citizenship.

- Practical problems of student government.

- Personality improvement.

- Human relations, vocabulary builder.

- We hope to improve our program even more.

Annual Easter Service At Fort Story Sunday

The 25th annual Easter Sunrise Service at the Cape Henry Memorial cross will begin 8:00 a. m. Sunday, with Tidewater clergymen participating.

This year the local clergymen taking part in the service will be the Reverend Francis Strieby, Scott Memorial Church, Oceana, and the Reverend Robert Davis of the Presbyterian Church, Virginia Beach. The Call to Worship, Invocation, and Reading of the Scriptures will be given by Reverend Strieby, and Reverend Davis will give the Pastoral Prayer and Benediction. Fort Story Protestant Chaplain (First Lt.) Rudolf E. Gruenke will deliver the message.

Music for the sunrise service will be furnished by the 384th Army Band from Fort Eustis and the Fort Story Protestant Chapel Choir. The band will play a musical prelude to the service, followed by a welcome from the post's commanding officer, Col. George E. Woods Jr.

The granite cross, site of the service which has become a tradition for Easter worshippers in the Tidewater area, marks the first landing of the Jamestown colonists on April 26, 1607. It is situated close by the Cape Henry lighthouse on Atlantic Avenue, the main thoroughfare. Visitors entering Fort Story by either the east or west gates should follow the avenue to the building housing the Post Cafeteria and Non-commissioned Officers Club

Real Estate Sale Of Farm Is Announced

The sale of the Old Ducey farm on the Lynnhaven River in Princess Anne County has been announced by the Kelam-Eaton Real Estate firm.

The 61.5 acre tract is located on the eastern branch of the Lynnhaven River and Wolf's Snare Creek. It was purchased by the Freeman Corporation, of Norfolk.

Sale price was announced as $108,600 and the purchasers have indicated their intention to develop the area into an exclusive residential settlement.

The sale was handled by Commander J. P. White, of the Kelam-Eaton firm.

variety store is also offering a unique service to customers in that it offers free rides up and down Atlantic Avenue in a German-made Volkswagen.

Dickens announced that with alterations completed the personnel at Chix are anxious to serve their old customers and are prepared to give the best of service.

Violin And Piano Recital Closes Beach Music Clubs' 2nd Season

The second season of the Virginia Beach Civic Concert Association, sponsored by the Virginia Beach Music Club, came officially to a brilliant conclusion with the violin and piano recital by the Swiss born violinist Giovanni Bagarotti and his French born wife Maria who is a first rate pianist in her own right.

Mr. Bagarotti had chosen a most exacting program of substantial compositions including a rarely heard Mozart Concerto, written at the Court of Versailles at the age of 10 and dedicated by the young composer to the oldest daughter of Louis XV, Madame Adelaide. It is a sparkling gem already full of the later Mozart but guileless and carefree and was played in perfect harmony with the period and style.

To this listener the high spot of the evening was a perfectly thrilling rendition of the tormented last work of Claude Debussy, the violin sonata.

This composition, in itself a complex mosaic of motives, tempi and colors, is extremely difficult to put over as a whole entity and that is just what Mr. and Mrs. Bagarotti achieved to perfection. Here was musical coordination that was truly breathtaking.

The monumental Franck Sonata followed the intermission and was rendered by both violinist and pianist with fire and nobility. The character of the piece demanded here the leadership of the pianist and both artists put themselves devotedly at the service of Maitre Franck.

A surprise announcement in behalf of the Civic Concert Association was made by Mr. Bristow Hardin. All subscribers are cordially invited to a bonus concert of a Harp Trio on April 23rd at the Virginia Beach High School.

Joseph Johnson To Direct 1956 MS Hope Chest

Mr. Joseph Milnor Johnson, has been selected by the MS Fund Executive Committee, to direct the 1956 MS Hope Chest to raise $24,000 as part of the national need for $2,500,000.

Mr. Johnson, serving his third appointment as Fund Director, said, "The 100 Known MS Cases in Tidewater Who Have Crippling Multiple Sclerosis, Mostly Young Adults, Need Every Bit of Help We Can Give Them. More Reasons For Our Fund Raising Drive Which Begins In April." Mr. Johnson pointed out that, "sixty percent of every dollar contributed will stay in Tidewater to help our own MS patients through our Patient Medical Service Program, already functioning for two years. The remainder goes to pay for laboratory research and MS Clinics."

"Local MS patients are receiving prescribed physical therapy at five Tidewater hospitals for those residing in Norfolk, South Norfolk, Norfolk County, Portsmouth, Suffolk, Newport News and other Peninsula cities. A home physiotherapy program has been in operation to serve those patients unable to visit the MS hospital centers. The patients' management program also requires the services of Occupational and Speech Therapists, when prescribed."

"The Chapter is sponsoring a limited free transportation system to make possible patients visits to physician's offices, for dental work, hospital treatment, and other management trips."

Mr. Johnson reported that, "When we started our Chapter in 1953 we knew of less than thirty patients, however, nearly one hundred patients are known to us today, with additional cases appearing each month, causing a greater need for an expanded budget to provide prescribed management programs, under the direction of our MS Medical Advisory Board, and other physicians," he also said, "We know MS is a long term illness and the cost for mending lives is high; but it pays off in human happiness and productive careers that benefit the community."

All contributions are being received at Tidewater MS, PO Box 701, in Norfolk; PO Box 611 in Newport News.

VEPCO Hydro Development To Be Dedicated

Governor Luther Hodges (inset), of North Carolina, will make the main address at ceremonies April 4 dedicating Virginia Electric and Power Company's $32,000,000 Roanoke Rapids, N. 1956 General Assembly Approves Record Budget of $896,000,000

The Virginia General Assembly has completed its 60 day session and adjourned. It opened discussing money matters and on the final day concluded the discussion on the same subject.

A budget of $896 million was adopted for the state's operation during the next two years. The Assembly added some $2 1/2 million to the Governor's recommended sum. Agriculture received a portion of this addition.

For instance, VPI had requested $5,785,500 for the next two years' operation. It actually received about $4 1/2 million, leaving a deficit of over a million dollars. The Assembly added about $300,000 to the Governor's recommendation.

Some of the additions are $75,000 for completion of a poultry plant; $33,000 for a poultry disease unit; $100,000 for a turkey research plant; and on the last day of the session, the House-Senate conference put $40,000 in for a sheep center.

The State Department of Agriculture received additional funds totaling about $267,000. Some of the additions were for expanding markets, gas testing, promotion of farm products, seed testing, livestock disease prevention and crop reporting.

Vocational Agriculture in Virginia received an additional appropriation of $370,290 on the final day of the session.

Other farm bills passed by the legislature include two dealing with telephones. One makes it a misdemeanor for failure to release a telephone line in cases of emergency, and the other, a resolution, makes it against state policy for telephone companies to charge some mileage rates in rural areas.

About nine bills on the subject of the milk commission were introduced. Only two passed. One expands the auditing powers of the commission and the other calls for a two year, Virginia Advisory Council (VALC) study.

Four important bills dealing with the use of water were passed. One bill calls for the capping of abandoned artesian wells; another permits the establishment of district watershed improvement groups with power to call referenda; and by consent of a majority of land owners, invoke taxes and raise funds for carrying on water conservation practices in that district.

Another of the bills will enable landowners to build dams for impounding flood waters on their own property; and the fourth bill adds one member to the state soil conservation committee.

The Six bills, dealing with highway load limits for trucks were passed. They increase highway load limits from 50,000 to 56,800 pounds, maximum lengths of vehicles from 45 to 50 feet; and increase the gas tax on vehicles of three or more axles from six to eight cents per gallon. All totaled, 69 bills were introduced on the subject of highways.

Nine bills were introduced treating on the wandering dog and rabies problem. Probably the most significant one of these to pass was a resolution calling for a study of this problem which inflicts heavy damage to livestock each year.

Four important farm bills were rejected by the legislature. They were the sales tax bill; the dimes for development bill, which would have taxed feed and fertilizer at the rate of 10 cents per ton; the funds to be used for research; the uniform grain inspection bill, which would have permitted the State Department of Agriculture to inspect grain in the City of Norfolk.

National Little League News

On Tuesday night, 20 March the National Little League held its first try-out session of the year in the High School Gym. Assisting the players agent Cap't Jim Gregory in these tryouts were all the operating personnel of the league plus the returning players from last year's teams. About 100 boys were on hand and the horsehide was flying thick and fast.

It was quite surprising to notice the improvement in the general ability of the candidates. Whereas last year it was quite apparent that few boys had never held a regulation baseball in their hands such was definitely not the case with season's candidates. Quite a few of these new boys brought gleams to the eyes of the scouting managers. Yes Sir; the league will be a corker this year.

Until further notice these tryouts will be held each Tuesday night, from 7:00 P.M. until 8:30 P.M. When the weather improves the tryouts will be shifted to the practice fields at Camp Pendleton.

It is planned that the first few sessions will be concerned with catching and throwing but the tempo will be speeded up with a baseball clinic. Bunting practice will be included when the drills move outdoors.

Just in case you are wondering; Little League baseball is played with a regulation size and weight baseball. If you think boys of this age group should be playing with a soft ball, you best not mention it to them unless you don't mind having your appreciation of the great American game doubted.

The length of the game is curtailed to six innings unless the score is tied, in which case the game is continued until the tie is broken as in regulation baseball. Another rule bearing on the length of the game is that when games are played at night no inning may begin after 9:30 P.M.

Little League Personality: Ask any Little League fan who the most colorful umpire was last season and they'll be quick to tell you that it was Dickie Mumford. Dickie put in an awful lot of time in the umpire's blue uniform last year and he is as eager as any player in the league for the new season to start. He filled in many a night when the regularly scheduled umpire was unable to appear - as a matter of fact there were few games Dickie missed. The players think he is truly the greatest and that his word is nothing but the law. Dickie knows his rule book, likes kids, loves baseball and the responsibility of running the game. Further, he thrives on kidding and being kidded. What better combination of qualifications for a Little League arbiter. Umpire in Chief Jimmy Williamson and all Little Leaguers think we are very fortunate to have a gent like Dickie living in Virginia Beach. Don't forget, Box Social AMERICA.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and fables... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

It is fun to cook, for your family and particularly at Easter-time. The lovely flowers that are budding into bloom, the new Easter Bonnets and the chic new frocks and suits that just seem to be everywhere, make us realize springtime is here again. Now, let it stop there, draw up your menus, add a touch of color to the Easter Cake, or the dessert you're preparing.

There are so many ways to give eye appeal to your dishes. Gold and green seem to predominate, but don't be afraid to add a touch of pink if you like. Here's an Easter Dinner suggestion.

Minted Fruit Cup
Baked Ham Raisin Sauce; Buttered Spinach with slices of hard cooked egg.

Candied Yams
Pineapple and Cottage Cheese Salad; Hot Rolls; Coffee or Tea.

Easter Cake
For the minted fruit cup crush a creamy candy mint or two, very thoroughly, add to a bit of the fruit juice and blend. Now add a drop or two of green vegetable coloring, (if desired shade), mix until coloring, mint and juice are perfectly blended. Spoon over fruit when serving.

Serve what ever you like for the main course, but be sure and serve an Easter Cake for dessert.

I made a pre-Easter Cake and it was so good, you may use your favorite recipe or yellow cake mix. I used my favorite, Instant Swans Down.

It was just perfect. Here's what I did. I followed the directions on the package, and baked it in 3-5 inch pans. For the frosting I used a fluffy one, old fashioned boiled icing. After making the frosting I divided and colored one half of it green, use the green for misfortune. There was a legend that would not grow mouldy. Like other breads and some people kept them throughout the year, using them as charms and medicine.

HOT CROSS BUNS
2 packages active dry yeast
2 cup warm water (110-115° F.)
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 cups milk, scalded
2 teaspoons salt
1 1/2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract

Now, for a little story about Hot Cross Buns. It just wouldn't be Easter without Hot Cross Buns. These buns, the traditional breakfast breads of Lent, are a custom that dates back nearly six centuries. Actually the markings of new loaves of bread with the sign of the cross is a practice that is even older. But, the first hot cross buns, as we know them today, originated in England in the middle of the 14th century.

There are no set rules for making the buns, except for the cross of frosting. By custom, they are usually small, round, yeast rolls which include dried fruits and de-vorins. A delicious flavored and slightly different recipe, for example, is listed below. In this, a little pure vanilla extract gives the buns a mellowed, sweet flavor. Vanilla, incidentally, makes a interesting addition for any yeast breads. This is shown also in the Grandmother's Easter Bread recipe, which follows. This particular Easter Bread recipe is an idea which came from Brazil.

The hot cross buns custom was started by a group of English monks, who made up the rolls themselves and distributed them to the poor each year on Good Friday morning. For a long time after the tradition spread throughout the British Isles and even to this country, these buns were only made on Good Friday. Today, of course, we eat them throughout Lent. Centuries ago, hot cross buns were thought to be blessed and protection against sickness and

Harbor Tour Among Azalea Events Listed

During the third Annual International Azalea Court week in Norfolk there will be an Historic Harbor tour up the Elizabeth River to the entrance of Dismal Swamp Canal and in Hampton Roads and the James River. This tour will be under the auspices of the Museum Council of the Norfolk Museum Arts and Sciences and the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce. It will be a four-hour tour of the harbor and will be conducted on board one of the Hampton Roads Ferry through the courtesy of the Virginia State Port Authority with the assistance of the Norfolk Port Authority. This tour will start at 2:00 p. m. and leaves the foot of Brooks Avenue on Thursday, April 12, 1956.

The Hair Apparent International Azalea Queen, Miss Nell Eastland, will also make this tour. She and you will see the famous places around Hampton Roads and enjoy the sociability of those who are here to see and enjoy the sights, and entertainment during the International Azalea Court.

The cost of this tour will be $2.00 and tickets will be on sale at the Norfolk Museum, the Chamber of Commerce and thru the President of the Museum Council, Mrs. Jesse G. Johnson, at the above address.

You will see Historic sites and stories will be told by the tour narrator. The Norfolk Naval Shipyard, Norfolk Naval Base, the approach to the new tunnel from Norfolk to Hampton, Fort Monroe, and the waterfront in Newport News, and many other places are included on this tour. Those making the tour are assured of interesting and historic sight-seeing around Hampton Roads and the Tidewater area.

Find rubber gloves hard to slip on? Dust them with talcum powder or cornstarch before trying to get hands in.

Keep some zipper wax or paraffin at your ironing table to use routinely on zippers. Garments which have zippers should be treated to the wax during ironing to save trouble with them when they're worn.

Chaplain Bosserman Speaks at 4-H Meeting

Chaplain E. E. Bosserman, Chaplain of the Norfolk Naval Base, spoke to the Courthouse Seventh Grade, and the 4-H Club on March the fifteenth.

In speaking to the seventh grade he explained the duties and qualifications of a chaplain, what caused him to go into the work, and spoke of the importance of living a good clean life.

Urging the 4-H Club to definitely make plans for their lives he pointed out that worthwhile lives requires plans and following.

These talks were very inspirational and informational. We concluded that the world needs more people like Chaplain Bosserman.

Notes from YOUR COUNTY AGENT

BY E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.
PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

RABBIT PROVIDE BLOOD-BANK FOR PLANTS

Peter Rabbit is in for a surprise this Easter. When he returns on his annual rounds he will find Flopsy and Mopsy Cotton-tail urgently at work helping to save Farmer Jones' crops.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has organized a rabbit-blood bank to provide serum for testing young plants for such virus diseases as barley mosaic, bromo mosaic, and others that cause heavy losses every year to growers of small grains.

The "rabbit bank" owes its existence to the discovery that viruses, whether in plants or animals, are made up largely of proteins, and any warm-blooded animal will produce antibodies in response to an injected virus.

Virus from the juice of diseased plants is injected into rabbits. Their reaction is similar to that of humans injected with small-pox vaccine. They don't get the disease, but antibodies, specific for the particular virus injected, are built up in the serum portion of their blood.

When an injected rabbit has developed the required antibody level, its blood is drawn off periodically in small quantities and used for tests of cereal viruses.

It is expected that the bank will aid in closer study of plant viruses, their sources, how they are spread, and their relationship to each other.

INSECTS BEGINNING SEASONAL APPEARANCE

But time will soon be in full swing. A check of the insect situation in Virginia shows that boxelder bugs and elm leaf beetles are beginning to emerge from winter hibernation in and around homes and other buildings. These insects are trying to get back to their host plants and are harmless. However, if you don't want them around, ask your county agent for control recommendations.

Black widow spiders are already appearing in the Norfolk area. The weather is, or soon will be, warm enough in other parts of the state for the black widows to begin emerging from their overwintering quarters. It will be a good idea to kill all spiders seen around homes early in the season to help prevent heavy infestation in the summer and fall.

Mecklenburg county is having trouble with Ips beetles and turpentine beetles on white pine; and the common cattle grub is still appearing on the banks of estuaries on at least one large farm in Warren county.

Green peach aphids are building up on spinach in southeastern Virginia, and commercial treatments are being applied. Turnip aphids and cabbage are also beginning to be troublesome in that area.

Homeowners in Richmond and nearby suburbs are being plagued by ant worms or night crawlers, which are pushing up piles of earth and making lawns lumpy. Soil poisons, such as those used for green June beetle larvae or for Japanese beetle larvae, should control the worms.

FERTILIZED PONDS PRODUCE MORE FISH

Your farm fish pond will produce six to eight times as many fish if you fertilize it. A one-acre pond should produce 300 to 400 pounds of fish each year.

Some people think fish eat the fertilizer. Not so! The fertilizer feeds tiny plants. The plants feed insects and small animals in the water. The insects and small animals in turn are food for the fish.

Each time you fertilize your ponds, use about 100 pounds of 8-8-4 for each surface acre of water. Begin fertilizing late this month or early in April, and repeat the application each week until the water looks green or brownish. Then fertilize only when the water is clear about one foot down. You may need to fertilize your pond from six to twelve times in a season.

Broadcast the fertilizer into the water from the shore, or pour it slowly from a moving boat. Wave action will distribute the fertilizer.

There are some "don'ts": Don't fertilize a pond that stays muddy.

Don't fertilize a pond which has a lot of water running through it all the time.

Don't fertilize during winter months.

Don't fail to fish your pond plentifully.

We find that individual situations will vary. If you have problems consult your county agent, Soil Conservation Service technician, or game warden.

DOCTOR HOUSE PLANTS WITH "HEAT TREATMENTS"

Boiling water is an old treatment for killing grubs. And the same sort of "heat treatment" works for controlling soil-borne diseases in house plants. You can't "boil" soil, so you "bake" it.

The heat method is probably the most practical way to disinfect house plant soil. Chemical treatments also do the job, but it seems that the heat treatment, when properly done, doesn't leave the toxic residues that chemicals sometimes do.

VEPCO Gets Corporate Award

Virginia Electric and Power Company has been selected for the second straight year to receive from United Shareholders of America, Inc. its Annual Meeting Award for "meritorious achievement" in the field of management - shareholders relationship.

Erwin H. Will, Vepco President, disclosed that he was notified yesterday of the award. He said United Shareholders informed him the company was one of those chosen from 3,000 firms considered for the award.

Will added that the citation commended the Virginia Electric and Power Company as a unit and its officers.

The company was honored for "encouraging participation in American corporate ownership so essential to strengthening the pillars of our constitution form of government and upgrading our American way of life."

Will said arrangements are in the making for formal presentation of the award at the company's annual meeting here on April 18. United Shareholders of America, Inc. is a unique organization of small investors formed to broaden the base of corporate ownership and promote interest of shareholders.

Vepco is owned by more than 32,000 shareholders located in every state and in a number of foreign countries.

Gossips always travel faster over grape vines that are slightly sour.

Highway Signs To Get "New Look"

Highway signs will have a new look this Spring when full-scale construction and bituminous resurfacing are resumed.

All portable signs used on work projects (except the regular "Men Working" sign) will be raised from ground level to eye level and mounted on brightly colored tripods, in an effort to catch the driver's attention more quickly and thus reduce the possibility of accidents. In addition, each sign also will use red flag to warn drivers where one-way traffic is necessary.

The Safety Division and Traffic and Planning Division of the Highway Department recently conducted a survey with four groups of signs to find the type most likely to be read and observed. They found that only 39 per cent of the drivers read all three of the ground level "One-Way Traffic," "Slow - Fresh Oil," and "Repairs Ahead" signs. The top attention-getter was the black and white sign on a colored tripod about four feet off the ground, with a red-flag warning. Fifty per cent of the drivers read all three signs when they were mounted on tripods.

Highway construction will move into full operation after the first of April and during that month the job of resurfacing more than 4,000 miles of primary and secondary highway will be started. The Highway Department last week awarded contracts totaling $4,197,175 for resurfacing some 3,700 miles this year. State forces also will resurface additional mileage which is now being tabulated, the Department reported.

BE GLAD YOU'RE AN AMERICAN...

you live where men are free to worship

As a citizen of the United States, you probably take religious freedom as much for granted as you do the air you breathe. That's understandable: the churches have always been open to you... as a child you learned that this nation was founded by men and women seeking religious freedom... that the Constitution gives every man the right to worship as he chooses... that Washington prayed at Valley Forge... that Lincoln said, "I ask the prayers of God's people"... and that even the coins you jingle in your pocket proclaim for this nation, "In God We Trust."

Be glad you live in the United States, rather than in some other lands whose leaders attempt to lock religion out... lands whose people have been persecuted, tortured, even murdered for their religious beliefs.

Napoleon said: "... religion must be under the control of the government."

Mussolini said: "Religion is a species of mental disease."

Hitler said: "The State can only wish to extend its protection to such religious organizations as can in turn be of use to it."

Stalin said: "We guarantee the right of every citizen to combat by argument, propaganda and agitation any and all religion."

These men forgot that this is the Creator's world. They ignored the question put to Job: "Where wast thou when I laid the foundation of the earth?"

Be glad you're an American. Be glad our leaders are humble and devout in their knowledge that this is God's world, and that we are His people. Be glad you live where you are free to worship Him as your heart desires.

Ideas for the Modern Homemaker

By Mrs. Elizabeth D. Deal
County Home Agent

On last Saturday the District Home Economics Contests were held. Attending from Princess Anne were Carolyn, Charles, in the Dress Revue Contest, and Betty Anne Lee in the Junior Dairy Foods Contest and both of these girls received red awards which we thought was very good. Doris Humphries also attended and his entering her 4-H record book in the Clothing Achievement on April 1 in Blacksburg.

On Monday, there were two meetings in the County Agriculture Building. The first one was a Leader Training Meeting on Window Treatments. The types were discussed and pictures shown of their use for the various types of windows. Also the hardware needed to hang the various types of curtains also were shown. In the afternoon we had a Special Interest Meeting on Picture Framing, which was enjoyed by all those present.

PAINT BRUSH CARE

If you're painting, varnishing or doing other wood finishing jobs, some reminders about care and cleaning of the paint brush are given by New York State home furnishings specialists.

"A new brush almost always has a few loose hairs that should be removed before you use it." We advise rubbing bristles back and forth across the board to remove both dust and loose hairs. Then wash the new brush in a cleaning fluid so you start the job not only with a new brush but with an entirely clean brush.

After using the brush, wipe off all excess paint or varnish thoroughly with a cloth and then brush back and forth on a clean piece of paper. All varnish or paint must be removed or it will harden in the bristles. Then the brush will never be free of little bits of this dried material that will get into new work.

The brush may be cleaned in from three to five jars of cleaning fluid, used one after another until the fluid is absolutely clean. The cleaning fluid should be kept in glass jars with covers that do not have rubber inside because the rubber softens and may drop into the fluid.

When the brush is clean and dry, we suggest wrapping it in metal foil and storing on a flat surface to keep bristles clean and in shape.

HOMEMAKERS' ITEMS

To prevent mattresses from picking up rust marks from the springs, give the springs a coat of paint when the original paint shows signs of wearing thin.

Dust hangs downward, so when you clean walls, brush in an upward motion to prevent smearing and streaking.

Immediately after polishing a brass or metal door knocker, wash it to keep it looking bright longer. Better still, brush on a coat of clean lacquer.

Many people today are taking first-aid courses, but are forgetting to take stock of their home safety measures.

The Virginia Rural Safety Council asks you to check your medicine chest and throw away old or outdated medicine. Clearly label each job, bottle, and box. If your medicine chest isn't in a handy location, fix up a first-aid kit to keep close at hand.

A good first-aid kit need not be expensive or difficult to make. A unit-type kit, like a tight metal box, serves the purpose. Use a Red Cross first-aid book as reference for necessary articles to be included in the kit.

Be sure to include sterile gauze and cotton rolls of adhesive, a good anti-septic, sterile applicators, and a treatment for burns in the kit.

Keep first-aid kits in the house, barn and farm shop, on the tractor and other pieces of farm equipment, and in the car.

Although Aluminum is still a young metal in the early stages of growth, it is consumed in greater volume than any other non-ferrous metal, exceeding the combined volume of copper, lead and zinc.

Nearly three-fourths of Americans over 65 have neither no income of their own or less than $1,000 annual income, says a Twentieth Century Fund Report.

Cement manufacture, a process seemingly remote from coal, requires an estimated $800,000 tons of coal annually.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Five points of advice were offered by the Veterans Administration to veterans who feel the Spring urge to buy their dream homes under the GI loan program, as follows:

1. Make sure your home is near enough to transportation, schools and shopping to suit the needs of you and your family.
2. Be sure your income is large enough to pay all costs of home ownership, including loan principal and interest, taxes and insurance, utilities, and maintenance, and anything you are buying on installment.
3. Make certain your interest in such matters as deposits, purchase agreements, and sales contracts are fully protected before you make a deposit or sign any document.

4. Be sure you understand the important legal documents you have to sign when you make "final settlement" of "close the loan."

5. And remember, a GI loan must be repaid! GI loans offer you many advantages, but like any other debt, they must be paid on schedule.

Details on these five tips and other helpful hints for veterans thinking about buying a home with the aid of a GI loan are contained in the 30-page VA pamphlet, "To the Home-Buying Veteran," available at any VA office.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
During the war I was an officer of the commissioned corps of the Public Health Service. I have been retired for age, and am now drawing retirement pay. Since I have a service-connected disability, I am eligible for VA compensation payments. May I receive the VA payments concurrently with my retirement pay?

Yes. There is no bar against receipt of disability compensation pay, along with retirement pay of an officer of the Public Health Service commissioned corps, retired for reason other than disability.

I am a disabled Korean veteran, discharged early in 1955. What is my deadline for finishing vocational rehabilitation training under Public Law 894?

Your deadline is January 31, 1964, or nine years after separation, whichever comes first. There are exceptions to this deadline for certain veterans, but they do not apply to you.

I am a World War II veteran with a permanent GI insurance policy. Could I convert my policy to term insurance?

No. Permanent GI insurance may not, under the law, be converted to term insurance. However, GI term policies may be converted to permanent plans.

3 P. A. Students Win Scholarships

The Princess Anne trio consisted of John Elliott, Alan Ellis, and Edward Redfern.

Junior Red Cross Helps Youngsters Help Themselves

Junior Red Cross is a co-ordinated program which gives every child a chance to help less fortunate children in war-torn countries and bring a great deal of cheer to our own hospitalized veterans. By so doing, they in turn learn there really is satisfaction in doing for others and are molded into more responsible citizens.

Students from Cook and Linkhorn Park Schools each made 100 valentines for patients at the Portsmouth Naval Hospital this year and this Easter, Shelton Park and Bayside Elementary Schools will each make 100 nut cups for the same destination.

Many of these men have children of their own. Hospital officials say these little favors accomplish much toward recovery because the men know they are not forgotten. These projects do not take time from regular school work because they are geared to fit into the class program.

The money the children contribute is used for such items as food, clothing, books, paper, soap, seeds, toys and medical supplies which are sent overseas for the relief of needy children.

Mrs. D. B. Hill is Chairman of the Junior Red Cross for the local chapter. She enlists the aid of each school principal who appoints a school sponsor. These leaders, along with student representatives plan what each school will contribute and when, giving everybody a chance to do a little bit.

While the Junior Red Cross program follows the general Red Cross Program - help where help is needed - it helps the children here, too. It gives the young people an outlet for their skills and talents; it develops good citizenship and creates international good will and makes them aware of the fact that the United States is a good place to live.

Congress provided an unprecedented half billion dollars to meet relief needs arising out of catastrophic drought of 1934.

with an automatic ELECTRIC KITCHEN

Dizzy-busy with kitchen chores? Then it's time you discovered the freedom of complete electric "kitchen automation." Just pennies a day "hire" you this full staff of automatic electric servants:

1. ELECTRIC COOK—Bake cakes like grandma used to bake (when grandma hit it lucky). No oven guesswork, no pot-watching. Just set the dials of your modern electric range for consistent cooking perfection—automatically.
2. ELECTRIC GARBAGEMAN—Say good-bye forever to smelly, germ-y garbage with an electric disposer. No more chilly trips to an outdoor pail. Everything from parings to chicken bones vanish down the sink—automatically.
3. ELECTRIC STEWARDESSE—End those daily marketing trips. A space-saving, money-saving electric freezer and a self-defrosting electric refrigerator keep plenty of food on hand—always at your reach.

VEPCO's Home Service Department will be glad to help you plan your All-Electric Kitchen.

4. ELECTRIC LAUNDRESS—Enjoy work-free wash days when your electric washer, dryer and ironer take over—automatically.
5. ELECTRIC DISHWASHER—An electric dishwasher ends those meal-and-dishes, safely, hygienically—and automatically.
6. ELECTRIC HOT WATERBOY—No more "temperature tantrums!" Your electric water heater keeps you always in hot water—automatically.

FROM THE TIMER that triggers your electric coffeemaker before you get up, to the warmer that heats baby's last yawn-time bottle, there's an automatic electric helper to lighten all your kitchen chores. So let your electric appliance dealer show you how little it costs to live—really live—electrically! You'll be glad you did—now, and through the many carefree years that these electrical helpers will serve you!

GARDEN GUIDE

LAWN CARE

A well groomed lawn is one of the best assets anyone can have to improve the external appearance of their home. There are many such lawns in this area due to the intense interest in gardening.

Good lawns are created and built, they do not just happen. Notice how a golf course attendant will start at the very bottom with his proposed green and build it up using the best organic composts for moisture retention and food values as well as sand for drainage. He carefully and measuredly blends these ingredients with the best top soil to create an ideal

FORT STORY TELLINGS

Fort Story's ace with a pistol, First Lieutenant Whitman Cross, has returned to this Cape Henry post after qualifying for the All-Army Pistol Team during try-outs at Fort Benning, Ga., and winning a flock of medals in two Florida matches.

La. Cross took second place in the 45 caliber championship match in the National Mid-Winter Matches at Tampa. He then travelled to Coral Gables to fire in the Flamingo Open Match, where he won the 22 caliber rapid fire event, placed second in the 22 caliber national match course, third in the combined 22 and 38 aggregate, third in the international aggregate and third in the grand aggregate.

Fifty-eight men have returned to Fort Story after completing courses in operation and maintenance of the LVT (Landing Vehicle Tracked) at Camp Pendleton mixture for the production of his grass. Next he fertilizes and adds insecticides to the area. Finally the very best of seed is purchased and applied. Just as a fine chef carefully measures and blends his ingredients to obtain a prized end product—so a greens keeper diligently prepares for his end product—a beautiful putting green.

However, the work required for a putting green is not necessary in order to have a beautiful carpet of green about your home. A far less perfect lawn will be none-the-less outstanding in your neighborhood if reasonable care is given to it.

If you have a poor clay soil, the use of a chemical soil conditioner designed to chemically improve the structure of this soil will help. Then top soil must be added for satisfactory results. The amount is up to your pocketbook, but at least 4" is desirable. If you have a good top soil to begin with, you are well off. If yours is a sandy yard take heart in this statement. Grass will grow and grow well in pure sand! My yard in the rear has never seen top soil, yet I have a beautiful stand of grass on pure sand. The answer is quite simple food and water. This brings us up to our next major point.

I am sure that most of us have heard about the hydroponics gardens in Florida and Japan where plants are grown in sterile sand on gravel. If we have not heard about them—look for the words, "Hydroponics Grown" on the next box of tomatoes you purchase. All that is needed to keep these plants growing well in this media aside from sunlight is food and water. With good drainage to prevent swampy conditions, you can grow beautiful lawns if they are fed and well watered. The N. C. experiment station says that 1500 lbs. of 8-8-8 fertilizer will be ideal for a good lawn. Do not expect anything but undernourished looking grass if you keep it half starved. Check the acidity occasionally to see that your soil is not tending to be overly acid for this is not conducive to grass growth. If lime is needed, apply it adequately and evenly, and you will be pleased with the results.

Forget the impression that beautiful lawns are obtained by only a few. They are no further away than your fertilizer store.

Calif.

A four-week operator-instructor course was completed by 18 men, while 42 finished a six-week mechanic's course.

Those who received the specialized training are slated to work with the LVT in Arctic resupply operations this summer.

Story's 458th Amphibious Truck Company has put itself in position to gain permanent possession of the post "Best Supply" trophy by winning the award for the second consecutive time. A win next month will put the trophy in the unit's supply room to stay.

The win is the fourth for the 458th in the past twelve months. The company's supply sergeant is Sergeant Robert Taylor. First Lieutenant Albert Mode is commanding officer.

DUKW's from Fort Story's 10th Transportation Battalion and landing craft from Fort Eustis began shuttling some 3,000 measurement tons of cargo over the beach at Fort Story Thursday March 22, in the amphibious phase of LOTS (Logistics Over the Shore) 7.

LOTS 7 is a logistical support exercise which calls for nearly 2,000 officers and men of the Transportation Training Command to support an imaginary U. S. task force by using all methods of transportation, including air.

The problem began March 19, when trucks and trains began hauling supplies and equipment to be loaded aboard two ships at Fort Eustis for movement to Fort Story. LOTS 7 is scheduled to end after all cargo is returned to Fort Eustis March 28.

Fort Story units participating were the 344th, 347th and 458th

Amphibious Truck Companies and the 870th Terminal Service Co. Maj. Herman Nadler, commanding officer of the 10th Transportation Battalion, directed the operation at Fort Story.

Employees at the Fort Story Non-commissioned Officers' Mess decided they wanted their club to look like new. They didn't have the $8,000 a civilian firm wanted to go extensive remodeling, so they did the work themselves and saved $7,000.

Seven men began working on the project last Feb. 1st. By the end of the month, they had; Installed a new glass brick entrance carpeted the lobby, redecorated the stage and installed a new curtain, built a game room, refurnished every piece of wood in the ball including the floor, wallpapered the beaverboard and plywood walls of the ballroom, built and installed new chandeliers in the ballroom, built a salad bar in the dining room, redecorated the lounges and installed new draperies and venetian blinds throughout the mess.

All this took 39 days and cost about $1,000. The mess was closed only two days while all this work was going on. Normally, the men worked eight hours each day renovating the club and stayed on duty to run the club when it opened at night. On the two days the two days the 234562345623456 the club closed, those doing the redecorating worked 18 hours.

The only man contributing to the project who didn't work at the NCO Club was Specialist /C Donald Avery, who made the chandeliers, Specialist Avery worked for the post training aids section.

The club employees who renovated the mess, still looking a little weary after their do-it-yourself effort, are: Master Sgt. Jack Keeney mess secretary, Master Sgt. Marvin Creason, Sgt. First Class Gerald Long, Sgt. Colley Specialist Third Class Charles Buchanan and Private First Class James Lyons.

Not satisfied with what they accomplished in February, earlier this month the energetic crew knocked out a wall of the upstairs dining room and replaced it with glass so patrons might have a view of the ballroom.

The club now plans to have a 25-ton capacity air conditioning unit installed to make the establishment more comfortable during the hot summer months.

In terms of total assets, the petroleum industry is the largest of all manufacturing industries, and is second only to the food and beverage industry in terms of total sales.

On an offshore oil drilling rig seeking petroleum 15,000 feet beneath the ocean bottom, lubrication of equipment alone costs $2,000 every 24 hours.

A farmer with an oil-powered tractor can do the plowing work of ten horses, five hand plows, and ten men.

EVERYDAY RELIGION

By
Rev. C. Stanley Lowell,
Minister,
Virginia Beach
Methodist Church

For the past two years I have been a resident of Virginia Beach. During most of this time I have written this column Every Day Religion, for the Sun-News. Both have been rewarding experiences.

The word "resident" hardly describes it. Thanks to the warmth of the people and their open-heartedness to strangers, I have been enabled to be more than a resident. I have been a full member of the community, a part of its on-going life. I have been a participant in its sorrows and frustrations and in its joys and triumphs.

For all of this I am very grateful. That it should be true to tribute, I think to the citizens of Virginia Beach. There is about them none of the stuffiness of an old community and none of the strutting arrogance of a new one. They are themselves—not as self-satisfied, self-contained entities, but as cut-going humans being always ready to make room in their midst for one more.

DON'T MISS THE GOOD

We need not be self-righteous when we recognize our community's good. We are only being fair. There is good here—deep abiding good. There is the good of men and women who work welfare. There is the good of parents who try conscientiously to do a good job bringing up their children. There is the good of persons whom I have observed giving themselves tirelessly to their people. There is the good of laymen who bestir themselves in the program of the churches. There is the good of officials who give conscientious leadership in public affairs. There is the good of school teachers and administrators who facing almost impossible odds, manage to succeed in spite of them.

These statements are hints at the truth about Virginia Beach. The truth itself is bigger and finer than the hints. Of course there are things here that are wrong. But there is a great deal that is right, too. It is easy to become so pre-occupied with the wrong that we strengthen it and add to it. Obsession with wrong never makes it right. Let us never be afraid to discover and acknowledge what is good.

AND SO FAREWELL

Now this happy sojourn is to end. I must face the sadness of farewell. Farewell to the sparkling ocean that I have come to love. Farewell to the summer breezes I have enjoyed. Farewell to a congregation whose loyalty I shall fondly remember. Farewell to all the people here who, being out of sight, will never be out of mind.

Contributions To Heart Fund Over 1955 Figure

Contributions to the Virginia Heart Fund have reached a total to date of $198,457.01. This figure is $77,754.72 ahead of the $120,702.29 collected as of this time last year, and $50,071.47 ahead of the total for all last year. Heart Sunday this year brought $141,162.73 as compared with $68,066.14 for the 1955 Heart Sunday.

"Although February is the Heart Fund campaign month, contributions received through June 30 are included in the 1956 campaign," Mrs. O. F. Northington, Jr., Fredericksburg, State Heart Fund Chairman, said in announcing the totals. "We sincerely hope that contributions between now and June 30 will bring the 1956 total up to the goal of $249,000."

"The Heart Fund received unprecedented support this year," Mrs. Northington declared. "We attribute this success to the greatest interest in heart disease and to the magnificent work of thousands of volunteer workers throughout the state. We wish that space permitted the listing of all the participants. Their names would make a most impressive honor roll."

Our appreciation goes also to the press, both newspaper and magazine, and to radio and TV of the state for their inestimably valuable assistance in keeping the Heart Fund campaign before the public."

W. R. Heatwole Is Candidate For State JC Post

A man who has promised to dedicate his efforts to the advancement of the Virginia Junior Chamber of Commerce declared himself today as a candidate for the office of president of the state Jaycees.

He is Wallace R. Heatwole, prominent young Waynesboro attorney and civic leader. Heatwole said that he is deeply appreciative of the honor of being a candidate for the highest office of the Virginia Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Heatwole, 33, is recognized as a spokesman on Junior Chamber policies and he has made numerous speaking engagements in the state this year. He is one of the founders of the Waynesboro chapter, and in 1953, he served as vice-president of the state organization.

Heatwole held the national directorship of the Virginia Jaycees in 1954. At the state convention last May in Roanoke, he was named international director by acclamation.

Heatwole was endorsed for the office of state president by the Waynesboro chapter in February. He is a native Virginian, born here in 1923. He graduated from Waynesboro High School and later attended William and Mary, finishing with a BA Degree in 1947 after a three-year hitch in the navy. He was discharged with the rank of Lieutenant (jg). Heatwole finished law school at William and Mary in 1950 as top man in his class.

The candidate for state Jaycee president has been active in local affairs for five years, twice heading the Community Chest drive. He has served also as president of the Waynesboro Emergency Welfare Association. Heatwole is now secretary of the Waynesboro Rotary Club and holds membership in the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. He is a past president of the Waynesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce.
